Year-round Tax-smart Investment Strategies

You can use tax-smart investing strategies throughout the year to help you reduce your tax bill while you work toward your financial goals. These include holding stocks for the long term, putting more money into tax-deferred retirement accounts, building Roth IRA assets and contributing or gifting to a 529 college savings plan. Learn more about these investing strategies at www.edwardjones.com/taxsmart and by talking to your financial advisor. Edward Jones, its employees and financial advisors do not offer tax or legal advice. Consult your estate-planning attorney and qualified tax advisor about your situation.

* Your approved credit is not a commitment to loan funds. It is based on the value of your investment account which could change daily. The amount you may be eligible to borrow may differ from your approved credit. Borrowing against securities has its risks and is not appropriate for everyone. If the value of your collateral declines, you may be required to deposit cash or additional securities, or the securities in your account may be sold to meet the margin call. The interest rate will vary depending on the amount borrowed and will begin to accrue from the date of the loan and be charged to the account. A minimum account value is required if you have loan features on your account. Call your financial advisor today.

Our Advice on Inflation

Rising prices can be concerning because you must find ways to increase your income to afford the same standard of living. But the first step is to not overreact. We believe that if you own a well-diversified portfolio of quality investments, you may not need to do anything differently because you probably have an appropriate amount of fixed income and quality dividend-paying stocks. To learn more, visit www.edwardjones.com/inflation to watch our video clip "Putting Rising Prices into Perspective."

The Market Has Recovered: What's Next?

After two years of solid market gains, you may be wondering what comes next. We believe stocks have support to rise further, but it's important to maintain realistic expectations and expect a few bumps in the time ahead. Historically, the market drops 10% about once a year, so don't be surprised. To put that into perspective, if the Dow Jones Industrial Average (Dow) is about 12,000, a 10% correction would be a 1,200-point drop. While this may seem like a significant drop, especially after the volatile times of the past few years, we don't believe it's a reason for alarm or to abandon a long-term approach.

Reasons for Optimism — While market pullbacks can occur at any time for any reason, we don't believe you should move to the sidelines or wait to invest. Instead, we recommend you:

- Consider using any broad price declines to rebalance and add attractive investments, such as quality stocks, at lower prices
- Own an appropriate mix of quality stocks and bonds, and keep a long-term perspective with realistic expectations rather than getting caught up in daily price moves

Over the long term, stocks tend to follow the growth of the economy and corporate earnings, which are improving. However, in the short term, investor emotion can heavily influence them. Currently, that pendulum has swung back from fear toward the center, as investors remain wary but are becoming anxious that they've missed out and may feel the need to be aggressive to catch up.

Since we haven't had a short-term pullback in a while, the risk has increased. However, don't ignore the good news about the strength of corporate America and the growing economy. You're likely to find that easier to do if you own a well-diversified portfolio of quality investments that include an appropriate mix of stocks and bonds. For more information on this topic, read our Market Insight report at www.edwardjones.com/market.

- by mail upon written request

About Your Account

Account Information — Your Account Agreement contains the complete conditions that govern your account. Please contact your financial advisor if you have any changes to your financial situation, contact information or investment objectives.

Account Safety — Please review your statement carefully. If you believe there are errors on your account, you must notify us promptly of your concerns. You may either contact our Client Relations department or your financial advisor. You should re-confirm any oral communication by sending us a letter within 30 days to protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Errors or Questions about your Electronic Transfers — Contact Client Relations at (800) 441-2357.

Complaints about Your Account — If you have a complaint please send a letter to Edward Jones, Attn: Complaints Dept., 1245 JJ Kelley Memorial Dr., St. Louis, MO 63131.

Withholding on Distributions or Withdrawals — Federal law requires Edward Jones to withhold income tax on distribution(s) from your retirement accounts and other plans unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect a percentage to be withheld from your distribution or not to have the withholding apply by signing and dating the appropriate form and returning it to the address specified on the form. Your election will remain in effect until you change or revoke it by returning another signed and dated form. If you do not return the form by the date your distributions are scheduled to begin, Federal income tax will be withheld. If you do not have enough income tax withheld from your distributions, you may need to pay estimated tax. You may incur penalties if the amounts withheld and your estimated tax payments are not equal to the tax you owe. State withholding, if applicable, is subject to the state's withholding requirements.

Fair Market Value for Individual Retirement Accounts — Your fair market value as of December 31st will be reported to the IRS as required by law.

Rights to Your Free Credit Balance — You may ask to withdraw your free credit balance during normal business hours, subject to any indebtedness in your account. While your funds are not segregated, they are properly accounted for on our books. Edward Jones may use your free credit balance to conduct business.

High oil prices always get headlines.

Investors may worry that high oil prices could derail the strengthening economy. However, we believe the economy is strong enough to absorb higher oil prices. With no further production disruption, oil prices wouldn't likely rise much more and could reverse quickly. In that case, any impact should be small, not severe, so investors shouldn't overreact. While headlines from the Middle East represent a risk, a well-diversified portfolio is designed to navigate risky waters and help you toward your long-term financial goals.

About Your Account

Account Information — Your Account Agreement contains the complete conditions that govern your account. Please contact your financial advisor if you have any changes to your financial situation, contact information or investment objectives.

Account Safety — Please review your statement carefully. If you believe there are errors on your account, you must notify us promptly of your concerns. You may either contact our Client Relations department or your financial advisor. You should re-confirm any oral communication by sending us a letter within 30 days to protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Errors or Questions about your Electronic Transfers — Contact Client Relations at (800) 441-2357.

Complaints about Your Account — If you have a complaint please send a letter to Edward Jones, Attn: Complaints Dept., 1245 JJ Kelley Memorial Dr., St. Louis, MO 63131.

Withholding on Distributions or Withdrawals — Federal law requires Edward Jones to withhold income tax on distribution(s) from your retirement accounts and other plans unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect a percentage to be withheld from your distribution or not to have the withholding apply by signing and dating the appropriate form and returning it to the address specified on the form. Your election will remain in effect until you change or revoke it by returning another signed and dated form. If you do not return the form by the date your distributions are scheduled to begin, Federal income tax will be withheld. If you do not have enough income tax withheld from your distributions, you may need to pay estimated tax. You may incur penalties if the amounts withheld and your estimated tax payments are not equal to the tax you owe. State withholding, if applicable, is subject to the state's withholding requirements.

Fair Market Value for Individual Retirement Accounts — Your fair market value as of December 31st will be reported to the IRS as required by law.

Rights to Your Free Credit Balance — You may ask to withdraw your free credit balance during normal business hours, subject to any indebtedness in your account. While your funds are not segregated, they are properly accounted for on our books. Edward Jones may use your free credit balance to conduct business.

Giving Thanks

The true meaning of the Thanksgiving holiday lies in giving thanks for all that we have. We value the relationship we have built with you and would like to thank you for the confidence you have placed in us. We'd also like to thank all those who have fought, and continue to fight, to protect our freedom and preserve our great nation. On Veterans Day, please remember to thank those who have served us so proudly. We remain dedicated to serving your financial needs and look forward to working together for years to come.

Your portfolio summary information is included.

We are pleased to provide you with your statement containing a new portfolio summary. It allows you to see how your accounts are doing with a quick glance at this first page. We've also consolidated duplicated disclosures and other information. As we add enhancements, we'll keep you informed. If you have any questions about your statement, please ask your financial advisor.

* Your approved credit is not a commitment to loan funds. It is based on the value of your investment account which could change daily. The amount you may be eligible to borrow may differ from your approved credit. Borrowing against securities has its risks and is not appropriate for everyone. If the value of your collateral declines, you may be required to deposit cash or additional securities, or the securities in your account may be sold to meet the margin call. The interest rate will vary depending on the amount you borrowed and will begin to accrue from the date of the loan and be charged to the account. A minimum account value is required if you have loan features on your account. Call your financial advisor today.

About Your Account

Account Information — Your Account Agreement contains the complete conditions that govern your account. Please contact your financial advisor if you have any changes to your financial situation, contact information or investment objectives.

Account Safety — Please review your statement carefully. If you believe there are errors on your account, you must notify us promptly of your concerns. You may either contact our Client Relations department or your financial advisor. You should re-confirm any oral communication by sending us a letter within 30 days to protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Errors or Questions about your Electronic Transfers — Contact Client Relations at (800) 441-2357.

Complaints about Your Account — If you have a complaint please send a letter to Edward Jones, Attn: Complaints Dept., 1245 JJ Kelley Memorial Dr., St. Louis, MO 63131.

Withholding on Distributions or Withdrawals — Federal law requires Edward Jones to withhold income tax on distribution(s) from your retirement accounts and other plans unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect a percentage to be withheld from your distribution or not to have the withholding apply by signing and dating the appropriate form and returning it to the address specified on the form. Your election will remain in effect until you change or revoke it by returning another signed and dated form. If you do not return the form by the date your distributions are scheduled to begin, Federal income tax will be withheld. If you do not have enough income tax withheld from your distributions, you may need to pay estimated tax. You may incur penalties if the amounts withheld and your estimated tax payments are not equal to the tax you owe. State withholding, if applicable, is subject to the state's withholding requirements.

Fair Market Value for Individual Retirement Accounts — Your fair market value as of December 31st will be reported to the IRS as required by law.

Rights to Your Free Credit Balance — You may ask to withdraw your free credit balance during normal business hours, subject to any indebtedness in your account. While your funds are not segregated, they are properly accounted for on our books. Edward Jones may use your free credit balance to conduct business.

* Your approved credit is not a commitment to loan funds. It is based on the value of your Investment account which could change daily. The amount you may be eligible to borrow may differ from your approved credit. Borrowing against securities has its risks and is not appropriate for everyone. If the value of your collateral declines, you may be required to deposit cash or additional securities, or the securities in your account may be sold to meet the margin call. The interest rate will vary depending on the amount borrowed and will begin to accrue from the date of the loan and be charged to the account. A minimum account value is required if you have loan features on your account. Call your financial advisor today.

Navigating the Current Volatility: Six Steps to Stay on Course

There's no question that the environment we're now experiencing can be unnerving, but it's good to remember that it's not unusual. Volatility is fairly common within market cycles, and while we believe we will probably see volatility persist in the near term, there are plenty of reasons for investors to be positive about the long term. That's what we believe you should focus on.

In the meantime, here are six steps to help you stay on course in today's market:

1. Recognize what's causing the volatility.

If there's one thing markets don't like, it's uncertainty. The economy – both in the United States and around the world – is sluggish, sparking concerns over the future pace of growth and the potential for another recession. The European debt concerns and the S&P downgrade of U.S. debt, although no longer making headlines, have cast uncertainty concerning the market.

2. Focus on fundamentals.

Fundamentals drive the markets over time. As you've probably heard from us before, 2011 isn't 2008. We don't think we're headed into another severe recession. The economy is still growing, albeit slowly, unlike the contraction we saw in 2008. In addition, we're adding jobs, not losing them as in 2008. Corporate balance sheets are much healthier, interest rates are low, and dropping oil prices have provided consumers with much-needed relief. These factors may not be capable of kick-starting the economy into rapid growth but can, in our view, enable the economy to grow at a sluggish pace.

3. Don't overreact.

Volatility is normal, so don't overreact. As measured by the S&P 500, the stock market, although down roughly 15% from its 2011 high, is still up more than 75% from its March 2009 low. Also, historically speaking, market corrections of 10% occur typically once per year and last an average of four months, so this isn't a new environment.* A short-term correction, in our opinion, is no reason to abandon your long-term investment strategy.

4. Keep your perspective.

When you look at the market on a short-term basis, it's easy to get caught up in its day-to-day movements. But you probably aren't saving for tomorrow or even for the next day – you're saving for long-term financial goals. It's important to maintain that perspective looking forward.

5. Keep your balance.

We believe a portfolio of quality investments and a long-term focus is an effective strategy to help you work toward your goals. Make sure your portfolio is aligned and appropriately balanced relative to your long-term goals, not relative to near-term volatility. That includes maintaining the proper diversification. Although diversification does not guarantee a profit or protect against loss, we do think it is a good strategy for weathering market volatility.

6. Look for opportunities.

Investing is a marathon, not a sprint. Today's market does provide some attractive investment opportunities. If you are interested in learning more about these opportunities, contact your financial advisor.

Portfolio Summary Added to Future Statements

Clients spoke, and we listened. We are excited to announce enhancements planned for your statement. The first, a new portfolio summary, will appear at the beginning of your next statement and will allow you to see a summary simply with a quick glance at the first page. We're also reducing the length of your statement package by consolidating duplicated disclosures and other information. As we add enhancements, we'll keep you informed. Contact your financial advisor with questions about your statement. Visit www.edwardjones.com/sample today to view an example of the new portfolio summary.

About Your Account

Account Information — Your Account Agreement contains the complete conditions that govern your account. Please contact your financial advisor if you have any changes to your financial situation, contact information or investment objectives.

Account Safety — Please review your statement carefully. If you believe there are errors on your account, you must notify us promptly of your concerns. You may either contact our Client Relations department or your financial advisor. You should re-confirm any oral communication by sending us a letter within 30 days to protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Errors or Questions about your Electronic Transfers — Contact Client Relations at (800) 441-2357.

Complaints about Your Account — If you have a complaint please send a letter to Edward Jones, Attn: Complaints Dept., 1245 JJ Kelley Memorial Dr., St. Louis, MO 63131.

Withholding on Distributions or Withdrawals — Federal law requires Edward Jones to withhold income tax on distribution(s) from your retirement accounts and other plans unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect a percentage to be withheld from your distribution or not to have the withholding apply by signing and dating the appropriate form and returning it to the address specified on the form. Your election will remain in effect until you change or revoke it by returning another signed and dated form. If you do not return the form by the date your distributions are scheduled to begin, Federal income tax will be withheld. If you do not have enough income tax withheld from your distributions, you may need to pay estimated tax. You may incur penalties if the amounts withheld and your estimated tax payments are not equal to the tax you owe. State withholding, if applicable, is subject to the state's withholding requirements.

Fair Market Value for Individual Retirement Accounts — Your fair market value as of December 31st will be reported to the IRS as required by law.

Rights to Your Free Credit Balance — You may ask to withdraw your free credit balance during normal business hours, subject to any indebtedness in your account. While your funds are not segregated, they are properly accounted for on our books. Edward Jones may use your free credit balance to conduct business.

Giving Thanks

The true meaning of the Thanksgiving holiday lies in giving thanks for all that we have. We value the relationship we have built with you and would like to thank you for the confidence you have placed in us. We'd also like to thank all those who have fought, and continue to fight, to protect our freedom and preserve our great nation. On Veterans Day, please remember to thank those who have served us so proudly. We remain dedicated to serving your financial needs and look forward to working together for years to come.

Seven Smart Moves to Consider before Year-end

The new year will soon be here. Before "closing the books" on 2011, here are seven ideas you may want to consider:

- 1. Contribute to an Edward Jones IRA for 2011. Contribution limits for 2011 are $5,000, and $6,000 if you're 50 or older. Also consider signing up for automatic monthly contributions for 2012.*
- 2. Consider increasing contributions to your employer-sponsored retirement plan. An employer-sponsored retirement plan can be a great way to save for retirement. Even a small increase in your annual contributions today can make a substantial difference in the future.
- 3. Consider selling investments before year-end to offset capital gains. If you own securities that are down in value, you may be able to sell them to offset capital gains or to reduce your income tax for this year.
- 4. Contribute to a 529 college savings plan before the end of the year. You may gift up to $13,000 ($26,000 per married couple) per recipient per year without gift tax consequences. Consider whether a 529 account or another college savings option would be appropriate. It's never too soon to start saving for college, and this year's deadline is quickly approaching.
- 5. Consolidate your various retirement accounts to Edward Jones. Doing so will result in one easy-to-manage account that's in sync with your goals. Multiple statements from various companies will be replaced by one easy-to-read statement, and consolidating your retirement accounts can result in fewer tax documents.
- 6. Review your insurance coverage. Life changes, and as it does, it's important that your insurance coverage reflects those changes. Whether your family has grown over the years or you are preparing to retire, we can help make sure you have the right amount and type for your situation.
- 7. Call your Edward Jones financial advisor to discuss which moves make sense for you before 2011 ends.

*Systematic investing does not guarantee a profit or protect against loss.

Edward Jones, its employees and financial advisors cannot provide tax or legal advice. Please consult your attorney or qualified tax advisor regarding your situation.

WE EXECUTED THIS TRANSACTION AS PRINCIPAL SELLING TO YOU OR BUYING FROM YOU AND A PAYMENT TO EDWARD JONES MAY HAVE BEEN DEDUCTED FROM OR INCORPORATED INTO THE PRICE YOU RECEIVED.

- If the phrase "we make a mkt in this security" appears on this confirmation, we have acted as principal functioning as a secondary market maker.
- If the phrase "unsolicited" appears on this confirmation, the transaction was conducted pursuant to an unsolicited order to buy or sell placed by the client.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.

THANK YOU FOR ALLOWING EDWARD JONES THE OPPORTUNITY TO SERVE YOU.

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:
Fannie Mae: 1-800-237-8627 or email: bestmbs@fanniemae.com
Freddie Mac: 1-800-336-3672 or email: Investor_Inquiry@FreddieMac.com

MAKING SENSE OF INVESTING

A Unique Understanding of Your Financial Needs

At Edward Jones, we believe the best investment recommendations are those tailored to your specific needs. That's why we work so hard to thoroughly understand your financial situation and your goals. The following is an overview of your investment and borrowing activity with Edward Jones. Working with your financial advisor, use it to determine how we can help you meet other important financial goals. Call DOUG WILLIAMS at 713-464-6071.

Although account information is provided on this page, it does not guarantee an actual statement was produced. Please refer to your account statement for the exact registration and more specific details regarding each account. Edward Jones statements are issued for each account holding securities in firm name with Edward Jones in March, June, September and December. Monthly statements (for months other than those previously referred to) will not be sent to you in months for which there was no activity or your only account activity is the payment of income on your Edward Jones money market fund or your cash account balance.

High oil prices always get headlines.

Investors may worry that high oil prices could derail the strengthening economy. However, we believe the economy is strong enough to absorb higher oil prices. With no further production disruption, oil prices wouldn't likely rise much more and could reverse quickly. In that case, any impact should be small, not severe, so investors shouldn't overreact. While headlines from the Middle East represent a risk, a well-diversified portfolio is designed to navigate risky waters and help you toward your long-term financial goals.

Are you taking advantage of asset allocation?

The Value of Asset Allocation

Asset Allocation refers to the way you spread your investments among various investment categories. Proper asset allocation can help you better work toward your long-term financial goals. Edward Jones has developed suggested allocations for various Portfolio Objectives based on investors' circumstances.

This graph compares your Edward Jones investment and retirement account(s) investments to your Portfolio Objective. Through a comprehensive portfolio review, your financial advisor can help you assess your financial goals, select an appropriate Portfolio Objective and identify the specific investments that should be included in your portfolio based on your specific situation. In addition, adjustments to your asset allocation will be influenced by your unique circumstances, including risk tolerance, time horizon, tax considerations and future investment or distribution needs.

Some investments may be allocated to more than one investment category based upon estimates by Edward Jones or objectives outlined within the fund's prospectus. Actual allocations change over time and can differ significantly.

(This graph includes all the assets in accounts listed under "A Unique Understanding of Your Financial Needs" on page 1 of this statement.)

We hope this overview of your relationship with Edward Jones provides useful information as you consider your financial decisions. Information reported from this point forward is specific to your individual investment and/or retirement account(s).

Please refer to the important information and disclosures on the last page of this package.

Your Estimated Interest and Dividends

The following is an estimate of the interest and dividends you can expect to earn on your investments in the next 12 months but it is only an estimate and cannot be guaranteed by Edward Jones or the issuers of the securities. The estimate is known as the Estimated Annual Income or EAI. It is based on past interest and dividend payments made by the securities held in your account. It is also based on statements made by the issuers of those securities. The estimates project possible future interest and dividend payments based on the number of bonds or shares held in your account at the time the estimate was done. Your actual investment income may be higher or lower than the estimated amounts. Estimates for certain types of securities that have a return of principal or capital gain may be overstated. Income being reinvested is indicated with '*'. Income cannot be estimated for the securities indicated by ''. It cannot be estimated because the annual payment amount or frequency is not available at this time.

Estimated Yield

The Estimated Yield (EY) in the preceding sections(s) compares the anticipated earnings on your investments in the coming year to the current price of the investments. It is based on past interest and dividend payments made by the securities held in your account. Changes in the price of a security over time or in the amount of the investment held in your account will cause the EY to vary. The EY is only an estimate and cannot be guaranteed by Edward Jones or the issuers of the securities. Your actual yield may be higher or lower than the estimated amounts. Estimates for any securities that have a return of principal or capital gain may be overstated. Income cannot be estimated for any securities that do not have an annual payment amount or frequency available at this time.

Last Chance to Fund an IRA for 2010

You still have a few more days to fund an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) for the 2010 tax year, but only until the April 18 tax deadline. Funding an IRA is important because it is a tax-advantaged way for you to save for your retirement goals. Call your financial advisor today to make your IRA contribution and to review your retirement strategy. Your call could have a powerful impact on your retirement savings.

Our Advice on Inflation

Rising prices can be concerning because you must find ways to increase your income to afford the same standard of living. But the first step is to not overreact. We believe that if you own a well-diversified portfolio of quality investments, you may not need to do anything differently because you probably have an appropriate amount of fixed income and quality dividend-paying stocks. To learn more, visit www.edwardjones.com/inflation to watch our video clip "Putting Rising Prices into Perspective."

The Market Has Recovered: What's Next?

After two years of solid market gains, you may be wondering what comes next. We believe stocks have support to rise further, but it's important to maintain realistic expectations and expect a few bumps in the time ahead. Historically, the market drops 10% about once a year, so don't be surprised. To put that into perspective, if the Dow Jones Industrial Average (Dow) is about 12,000, a 10% correction would be a 1,200-point drop. While this may seem like a significant drop, especially after the volatile times of the past few years, we don't believe it's a reason for alarm or to abandon a long-term approach.

Reasons for Optimism -- While market pullbacks can occur at any time for any reason, we don't believe you should move to the sidelines or wait to invest. Instead, we recommend you:

- Consider using any broad price declines to rebalance and add attractive investments, such as quality stocks, at lower prices
- Own an appropriate mix of quality stocks and bonds, and keep a long-term perspective with realistic expectations rather than getting caught up in daily price moves

Over the long term, stocks tend to follow the growth of the economy and corporate earnings, which are improving. However, in the short term, investor emotion can heavily influence them. Currently, that pendulum has swung back from fear toward the center, as investors remain wary but are becoming anxious that they've missed out and may feel the need to be aggressive to catch up.

Since we haven't had a short-term pullback in a while, the risk has increased. However, don't ignore the good news about the strength of corporate America and the growing economy. You're likely to find that easier to do if you own a well-diversified portfolio of quality investments that include an appropriate mix of stocks and bonds. For more information on this topic, read our Market Insight report at www.edwardjones.com/market.

About Your Account

Account Information - Your Account Agreement contains the complete conditions that govern your account. Please contact your financial advisor if you have any changes to your financial situation, contact information or investment objectives.

Account Safety - Please review your statement carefully. If you believe there are errors on your account, you must notify us promptly of your concerns. You may either contact our Client Relations department or your financial advisor. You should re-confirm any oral communication by sending us a letter within 30 days to protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Errors or Questions about your Electronic Transfers - Contact Client Relations at (800) 441-2357.

Complaints about Your Account - If you have a complaint please send a letter to Edward Jones, Attn: Complaints Dept., 1245 JJ Kelley Memorial Dr., St. Louis, MO 63131.

Withholding on Distributions or Withdrawals - Federal law requires Edward Jones to withhold income tax on distribution(s) from your retirement accounts and other plans unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect a percentage to be withheld from your distribution or not to have the withholding apply by signing and dating the appropriate form and returning it to the address specified on the form. Your election will remain in effect until you change or revoke it by returning another signed and dated form. If you do not return the form by the date your distributions are scheduled to begin, Federal income tax will be withheld. If you do not have enough income tax withheld from your distributions, you may need to pay estimated tax. You may incur penalties if the amounts withheld and your estimated tax payments are not equal to the tax you owe. State withholding, if applicable, is subject to the state's withholding requirements.

Fair Market Value for Individual Retirement Accounts - Your fair market value as of December 31st will be reported to the IRS as required by law.

Rights to Your Free Credit Balance - You may ask to withdraw your free credit balance during normal business hours, subject to any indebtedness in your account. While your funds are not segregated, they are properly accounted for on our books. Edward Jones may use your free credit balance to conduct business.

* Your approved credit is not a commitment to loan funds. It is based on the value of your Investment account which could change daily. The amount you may be eligible to borrow may differ from your approved credit. Borrowing against securities has its risks and is not appropriate for everyone. If the value of your collateral declines, you may be required to deposit cash or additional securities, or the securities in your account may be sold to meet the margin call. The interest rate will vary depending on the amount borrowed and will begin to accrue from the date of the loan and be charged to the account. A minimum account value is required if you have loan features on your account. Call your financial advisor today.

Edward Jones Receives Two Honors

We at Edward Jones are pleased to have received two recent honors, and we want to share them with you.

First, Edward Jones was honored by the DALBAR research agency for providing clients with industry-leading statements in the 13th annual "Trends and Best Practices in Investor Statements" report for brokerages. This ranking is a valuable honor for us because we devote a great deal of effort toward keeping our clients informed about their investments in a way that is clear and easy to understand. We are delighted with this recognition and are committed to continually seeking the best ways to provide understandable and useful statements.

Second, Edward Jones ranked No. 11 on FORTUNE magazine's "100 Best Companies to Work For" list for 2011. This is our 12th appearance on the annual list. We also ranked No. 2 for large-sized companies and received the highest ranking of any financial services firm on the list. We find this ranking especially gratifying because it is based on surveys of our own associates.

While we are honored by these recognitions, we view them as side benefits of the work we do to achieve our highest honor: a satisfied client. Thank you for your continued confidence in Edward Jones. We look forward to continuing to serve you.

About Your Account

Account Information — Your Account Agreement contains the complete conditions that govern your account. Please contact your financial advisor if you have any changes to your financial situation, contact information or investment objectives.

Account Safety — Please review your statement carefully. If you believe there are errors on your account, you must notify us promptly of your concerns. You may either contact our Client Relations department or your financial advisor. You should re-confirm any oral communication by sending us a letter within 30 days to protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Errors or Questions about your Electronic Transfers — Contact Client Relations at (800) 441-2357.

Complaints about Your Account — If you have a complaint please send a letter to Edward Jones, Attn: Complaints Dept., 1245 JJ Kelley Memorial Dr., St. Louis, MO 63131.

Withholding on Distributions or Withdrawals — Federal law requires Edward Jones to withhold income tax on distribution(s) from your retirement accounts and other plans unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect a percentage to be withheld from your distribution or not to have the withholding apply by signing and dating the appropriate form and returning it to the address specified on the form. Your election will remain in effect until you change or revoke it by returning another signed and dated form. If you do not return the form by the date your distributions are scheduled to begin, Federal income tax will be withheld. If you do not have enough income tax withheld from your distributions, you may need to pay estimated tax. You may incur penalties if the amounts withheld and your estimated tax payments are not equal to the tax you owe. State withholding, if applicable, is subject to the state's withholding requirements.

Fair Market Value for Individual Retirement Accounts — Your fair market value as of December 31st will be reported to the IRS as required by law.

Rights to Your Free Credit Balance — You may ask to withdraw your free credit balance during normal business hours, subject to any indebtedness in your account. While your funds are not segregated, they are properly accounted for on our books. Edward Jones may use your free credit balance to conduct business.

MAKING SENSE OF INVESTING

A Unique Understanding of Your Financial Needs

At Edward Jones, we believe the best investment recommendations are those tailored to your specific needs. That's why we work so hard to thoroughly understand your financial situation and your goals. The following is an overview of your investment and borrowing activity with Edward Jones. Working with your financial advisor, use it to determine how we can help you meet other important financial goals. Call DOUG WILLIAMS at 713-464-6071.

Although account information is provided on this page, it does not guarantee an actual statement was produced. Please refer to your account statement for the exact registration and more specific details regarding each account. Edward Jones statements are issued for each account holding securities in firm name with Edward Jones in March, June, September and December. Monthly statements (for months other than those previously referred to) will not be sent to you in months for which there was no activity or your only account activity is the payment of income on your Edward Jones money market fund or your cash account balance.

Estimated Yield

The Estimated Yield (EY) in the preceding sections(s) compares the anticipated earnings on your investments in the coming year to the current price of the investments. It is based on past interest and dividend payments made by the securities held in your account. Changes in the price of a security over time or in the amount of the investment held in your account will cause the EY to vary. The EY is only an estimate and cannot be guaranteed by Edward Jones or the issuers of the securities. Your actual yield may be higher or lower than the estimated amounts. Estimates for any securities that have a return of principal or capital gain may be overstated. Income cannot be estimated for any securities that do not have an annual payment amount or frequency available at this time.

Should you update your estate plan based on new tax laws?

Under the new estate tax law, the federal estate tax exemption for 2011 and 2012 is $5 million per person, with a 35% tax rate on amounts above the exemption. There is also a new "portability" provision that can provide increased flexibility in estate planning between married couples. These changes expire at the end of 2012. Consider discussing your estate plan with your tax and legal advisors to see if updates are needed. And talk to your financial advisor about your estate plan as it is an important part of your entire financial picture.

About Edward Jones

Edward D. Jones & Co., L.P. is dually registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) as a broker-dealer and an investment advisor. Edward Jones is also a member of FINRA.

About Your Account

Account Information - Your Account Agreement contains the complete conditions that govern your account. Please contact your financial advisor if you have any changes to your financial situation, contact information or investment objectives.

Account Safety - Please review your statement carefully. If you believe there are errors on your account, you must notify us promptly of your concerns. You may either contact our Client Relations department or your financial advisor. You should re-confirm any oral communication by sending us a letter within 30 days to protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Errors or Questions about your Electronic Transfers - Contact Client Relations at (800) 441-2357.

Complaints about Your Account - If you have a complaint please send a letter to Edward Jones, Attn: Complaints Dept., 1245 JJ Kelley Memorial Dr., St. Louis, MO 63131.

Withholding on Distributions or Withdrawals - Federal law requires Edward Jones to withhold income tax on distribution(s) from your retirement accounts and other plans unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect a percentage to be withheld from your distribution or not to have the withholding apply by signing and dating the appropriate form and returning it to the address specified on the form. Your election will remain in effect until you change or revoke it by returning another signed and dated form. If you do not return the form by the date your distributions are scheduled to begin, Federal income tax will be withheld. If you do not have enough income tax withheld from your distributions, you may need to pay estimated tax. You may incur penalties if the amounts withheld and your estimated tax payments are not equal to the tax you owe. State withholding, if applicable, is subject to the state's withholding requirements.

Fair Market Value for Individual Retirement Accounts - Your fair market value as of December 31st will be reported to the IRS as required by law.

Rights to Your Free Credit Balance - You may ask to withdraw your free credit balance during normal business hours, subject to any indebtedness in your account. While your funds are not segregated, they are properly accounted for on our books. Edward Jones may use your free credit balance to conduct business.

MAKING SENSE OF INVESTING

A Unique Understanding of Your Financial Needs

At Edward Jones, we believe the best investment recommendations are those tailored to your specific needs. That's why we work so hard to thoroughly understand your financial situation and your goals. The following is an overview of your investment and borrowing activity with Edward Jones. Working with your financial advisor, use it to determine how we can help you meet other important financial goals. Call DOUG WILLIAMS at 713-464-6071.

Although account information is provided on this page, it does not guarantee an actual statement was produced. Please refer to your account statement for the exact registration and more specific details regarding each account. Edward Jones statements are issued for each account holding securities in firm name with Edward Jones in March, June, September and December. Monthly statements (for months other than those previously referred to) will not be sent to you in months for which there was no activity or your only account activity is the payment of income on your Edward Jones money market fund or your cash account balance.

Learn which global companies we believe are positioned for future growth.

An often overlooked way to gain exposure to emerging and developing markets is by owning large multinational companies with globally appealing brands. These companies may benefit from growth in emerging and developing markets. Talk to your financial advisor about which companies we believe have this potential. Please note that emerging and developing market securities can be significantly more volatile than more developed markets due to currency fluctuations and political, social and economic risks.

We hope this overview of your relationship with Edward Jones provides useful information as you consider your financial decisions. Information reported from this point forward is specific to your individual investment and/or retirement account(s).

Please refer to the important information and disclosures on the last page of this package.

More take-home pay could mean more money to invest in 2011.

As part of the Tax Relief, Unemployment Insurance Reauthorization and Job Creation Act of 2010, payroll taxes in 2011 will be reduced by 2%. This means that your share of the Social Security payroll tax will drop from 6.2% to 4.2% for 2011 only. As a result, you should see more take-home pay. While 2% may seem like a small amount, over the entire year, it could make a difference when added to your investments. Talk with your financial advisor about your options.

* Your approved credit is not a commitment to loan funds. It is based on the value of your Investment account which could change daily. The amount you may be eligible to borrow may differ from your approved credit. Borrowing against securities has its risks and is not appropriate for everyone. If the value of your collateral declines, you may be required to deposit cash or additional securities, or the securities in your account may be sold to meet the margin call. The interest rate will vary depending on the amount borrowed and will begin to accrue from the date of the loan and be charged to the account. A minimum account value is required if you have loan features on your account. Call your financial advisor today.

Global Leaders May Benefit from Global Growth

With forecasts for economic growth in the U.S. of 2% to 3% (well below what was achieved in recent history), many investors may believe that by investing in U.S. stocks, they are in some way limiting the growth potential of their portfolio. As a result, some investors may be searching for a way to gain exposure to emerging and developing markets. While the most obvious way to gain this exposure is by directly investing in companies headquartered in these markets, it's not the only way.

An often overlooked way to gain exposure to emerging and developing markets is by owning large multinational companies with brands that are recognized and desired by consumers globally. While these global leaders can be found all around the world, some of the world's most recognizable and valuable brands belong to companies based in the U.S. We believe many of these companies are already positioned to benefit from growth in emerging and developing markets, and each holds the following characteristics:

- Potential for rising income
- Buy-rated by Edward Jones
- More than 40% of revenue outside the U.S.
- For those headquartered in the U.S., an S&P quality rank of A- or better

Over time, we would expect companies with a global footprint to grow faster than their domestically focused counterparts. Talk to your financial advisor about the global leaders that we recommend, which may be appropriate to add to your portfolio.

Investments in emerging or developing markets involve exposure to economic structures that are generally less diverse and mature, and to political systems that may be less stable than those of more developed countries. Securities may be less liquid and more volatile than U.S. and longer-established non-U.S. markets. Special risks are inherent to international investing, including those related to currency fluctuations and foreign political and economic events. An investment in stocks will fluctuate with changes in market conditions and may be worth more or less than the original investment when sold.

- by mail upon written request

About Your Account

Account Information — Your Account Agreement contains the complete conditions that govern your account. Please contact your financial advisor if you have any changes to your financial situation, contact information or investment objectives.

Account Safety — Please review your statement carefully. If you believe there are errors on your account, you must notify us promptly of your concerns. You may either contact our Client Relations department or your financial advisor. You should re-confirm any oral communication by sending us a letter within 30 days to protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Errors or Questions about your Electronic Transfers — Contact Client Relations at (800) 441-2357.

Complaints about Your Account — If you have a complaint please send a letter to Edward Jones, Attn: Complaints Dept., 1245 JJ Kelley Memorial Dr., St. Louis, MO 63131.

Withholding on Distributions or Withdrawals — Federal law requires Edward Jones to withhold income tax on distribution(s) from your retirement accounts and other plans unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect a percentage to be withheld from your distribution or not to have the withholding apply by signing and dating the appropriate form and returning it to the address specified on the form. Your election will remain in effect until you change or revoke it by returning another signed and dated form. If you do not return the form by the date your distributions are scheduled to begin, Federal income tax will be withheld. If you do not have enough income tax withheld from your distributions, you may need to pay estimated tax. You may incur penalties if the amounts withheld and your estimated tax payments are not equal to the tax you owe. State withholding, if applicable, is subject to the state's withholding requirements.

Fair Market Value for Individual Retirement Accounts — Your fair market value as of December 31st will be reported to the IRS as required by law.

Rights to Your Free Credit Balance — You may ask to withdraw your free credit balance during normal business hours, subject to any indebtedness in your account. While your funds are not segregated, they are properly accounted for on our books. Edward Jones may use your free credit balance to conduct business.

Consider contributing to your IRA before April 18.

Tax season is a good time to act on tax-advantaged savings opportunities. But don't wait until the April 18 tax deadline to fully fund your IRA for 2010. Contributing before the tax deadline will give your money more time to potentially grow. The maximum annual contribution for 2010 and 2011 is $5,000, with an additional $1,000 catch-up contribution for those age 50 and over. Contact your financial advisor today to fund your IRA.

* Your approved credit is not a commitment to loan funds. It is based on the value of your Investment account which could change daily. The amount you may be eligible to borrow may differ from your approved credit. Borrowing against securities has its risks and is not appropriate for everyone. If the value of your collateral declines, you may be required to deposit cash or additional securities, or the securities in your account may be sold to meet the margin call. The interest rate will vary depending on the amount borrowed and will begin to accrue from the date of the loan and be charged to the account. A minimum account value is required if you have loan features on your account. Call your financial advisor today.

Outlook for 2011: Not a Perfect World, but Plenty of Opportunity

Many investors start the new year by pouring over economic forecasts, searching for clues that might predict short-term market performance. While we think it's important to assess today's situation and identify probable short-term trends, those aren't likely to be the key determinants of long-term investment success.

Instead, we believe investors should prepare for good and bad times by reviewing the quality of their investments and their diversification, and then rebalancing to keep their investment mix aligned with their risk tolerance and long-term goals. We want to share with you a few questions we asked our investment strategist, Kate Warne, about the new year:

Q: What's the outlook for the economy in 2011?

A: In our view, the economy should continue on a slowly improving path in 2011, although high unemployment and weak housing are likely to remain headwinds. Overall growth in 2010 was above 2.5%, but it may have felt much slower.* These areas of weakness may have hidden three key positive trends that appear likely to stay in place in 2011:

- The effects of the 2008 financial crisis should fade as time passes, but progress is slow.
- Company profits are strong and expected to continue to grow.
- Consumers are spending more but saving more too, which is positive for today's growth.

If the economy grows more quickly than currently expected, stocks typically perform well. If it continues at a slow pace, we would expect low interest rates to continue longer.

Q: What do you see as a common risk for investors?

A: Some investors have not recovered emotionally from the 2008 financial crisis, even though their investments may have made a significant recovery. While inaction may appear "easier" than action, investors may risk missing some of the best days in the market by sitting on the sidelines.

Q: What are some of the better opportunities, in your opinion?

A: In our view, opportunities lie in dividend-paying stocks (domestic and foreign). They've historically outperformed non-dividend-paying stocks, and many are attractively priced compared to their earnings. Quality companies are expected to continue to report solid earnings growth based on modest revenue increases combined with lower operating costs achieved during the downturn.

About Your Account

Account Information — Your Account Agreement contains the complete conditions that govern your account. Please contact your financial advisor if you have any changes to your financial situation, contact information or investment objectives.

Account Safety — Please review your statement carefully. If you believe there are errors on your account, you must notify us promptly of your concerns. You may either contact our Client Relations department or your financial advisor. You should re-confirm any oral communication by sending us a letter within 30 days to protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Errors or Questions about your Electronic Transfers — Contact Client Relations at (800) 441-2357.

Complaints about Your Account — If you have a complaint please send a letter to Edward Jones, Attn: Complaints Dept., 1245 JJ Kelley Memorial Dr., St. Louis, MO 63131.

Withholding on Distributions or Withdrawals — Federal law requires Edward Jones to withhold income tax on distribution(s) from your retirement accounts and other plans unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect a percentage to be withheld from your distribution or not to have the withholding apply by signing and dating the appropriate form and returning it to the address specified on the form. Your election will remain in effect until you change or revoke it by returning another signed and dated form. If you do not return the form by the date your distributions are scheduled to begin, Federal income tax will be withheld. If you do not have enough income tax withheld from your distributions, you may need to pay estimated tax. You may incur penalties if the amounts withheld and your estimated tax payments are not equal to the tax you owe. State withholding, if applicable, is subject to the state's withholding requirements.

Fair Market Value for Individual Retirement Accounts — Your fair market value as of December 31st will be reported to the IRS as required by law.

Rights to Your Free Credit Balance — You may ask to withdraw your free credit balance during normal business hours, subject to any indebtedness in your account. While your funds are not segregated, they are properly accounted for on our books. Edward Jones may use your free credit balance to conduct business.

Your Financial Resolutions

The key to achieving your New Year's resolutions is choosing goals that are reasonable and attainable – and then disciplining yourself to stick with them. For financial resolutions that can last for the long term, you may want to consider cutting debt, building an emergency fund, boosting your retirement savings and reviewing your estate plan. Talk to your financial advisor about other investment ideas you can add to your list for 2011.

About Your Account

Account Information — Your Account Agreement contains the complete conditions that govern your account. Please contact your financial advisor if you have any changes to your financial situation, contact information or investment objectives.

Account Safety — Please review your statement carefully. If you believe there are errors on your account, you must notify us promptly of your concerns. You may either contact our Client Relations department or your financial advisor. You should re-confirm any oral communication by sending us a letter within 30 days to protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Errors or Questions about your Electronic Transfers — Contact Client Relations at (800) 441-2357.

Complaints about Your Account — If you have a complaint please send a letter to Edward Jones, Attn: Complaints Dept., 1245 JJ Kelley Memorial Dr., St. Louis, MO 63131.

Withholding on Distributions or Withdrawals — Federal law requires Edward Jones to withhold income tax on distribution(s) from your retirement accounts and other plans unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect a percentage to be withheld from your distribution or not to have the withholding apply by signing and dating the appropriate form and returning it to the address specified on the form. Your election will remain in effect until you change or revoke it by returning another signed and dated form. If you do not return the form by the date your distributions are scheduled to begin, Federal income tax will be withheld. If you do not have enough income tax withheld from your distributions, you may need to pay estimated tax. You may incur penalties if the amounts withheld and your estimated tax payments are not equal to the tax you owe. State withholding, if applicable, is subject to the state's withholding requirements.

Fair Market Value for Individual Retirement Accounts — Your fair market value as of December 31st will be reported to the IRS as required by law.

Rights to Your Free Credit Balance — You may ask to withdraw your free credit balance during normal business hours, subject to any indebtedness in your account. While your funds are not segregated, they are properly accounted for on our books. Edward Jones may use your free credit balance to conduct business.

The amount you may be eligible to borrow may differ from your approved credit. Borrowing against securities has its risks and is not appropriate for everyone. If the value of your collateral declines, you may be required to deposit cash or additional securities, or the securities in your account may be sold to meet the margin call. The interest rate will vary depending on the amount borrowed and will begin to accrue from the date of the loan and be charged to the account. A minimum account value is required if you have loan features on your account. Call your financial advisor today.

The Importance of Updating Your Estate Plan

There's never a bad time to update your estate plan. But given the upcoming changes to estate tax laws, updating your plan is more important than ever.

As the law now stands, there is no federal estate tax in 2010. In 2011, the estate tax is scheduled to return, with an exemption amount of $1 million and a top rate of 55%.

Remember, your estate taxes depend on the size of your estate. But no matter the value of your assets, you'll want to have your estate plan in order.

First, you'll need a will. You'll also want to make sure you've named the proper beneficiaries in all your legal documents. Next, work with your tax and legal professionals and Edward Jones financial advisor to review your financial strategy. During this review, look for options to potentially reduce your estate taxes, which may include the following:

- Taking Advantage of Your Exemptions — You and your spouse each receive an exemption from the federal estate tax. To help maximize these exemptions, consider creating a credit shelter trust for your surviving spouse and beneficiaries.
- Using Life Insurance — Consider creating an irrevocable life insurance trust (ILIT) with a new insurance policy to help keep the life insurance proceeds out of your taxable estate.
- Giving Generously — To help reduce your estate, you can give up to $13,000 per year to as many individuals as you want without incurring gift taxes. You can also make gifts to charitable organizations.

Keep in mind that estate planning can be complex. It's essential you work with your legal and tax professionals, as well as your Edward Jones financial advisor, before establishing any type of trust or other estate-planning strategy. And with the looming return of the estate tax, there's no time like the present to get started.

Call your financial advisor to schedule time to discuss your estate plan.

Edward Jones, its employees and financial advisors are not estate planners and cannot provide tax or legal advice. Consult a qualified tax professional or attorney for advice about your situation.

About Edward Jones

Edward D. Jones & Co., L.P. is dually registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) as a broker-dealer and an investment advisor. Edward Jones is also a member of FINRA.

Statement of Financial Condition — Edward Jones' statement of financial condition is available for your personal review:

About Your Account

Account Information — Your Account Agreement contains the complete conditions that govern your account. Please contact your financial advisor if you have any changes to your financial situation, contact information or investment objectives.

Account Safety — Please review your statement carefully. If you believe there are errors on your account, you must notify us promptly of your concerns. You may either contact our Client Relations department or your financial advisor. You should re-confirm any oral communication by sending us a letter within 30 days to protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Errors or Questions about your Electronic Transfers — Contact Client Relations at (800) 441-2357.

Complaints about Your Account — If you have a complaint please send a letter to Edward Jones, Attn: Complaints Dept., 1245 JJ Kelley Memorial Dr., St. Louis, MO 63131.

Withholding on Distributions or Withdrawals — Federal law requires Edward Jones to withhold income tax on distribution(s) from your retirement accounts and other plans unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect a percentage to be withheld from your distribution or not to have the withholding apply by signing and dating the appropriate form and returning it to the address specified on the form. Your election will remain in effect until you change or revoke it by returning another signed and dated form. If you do not return the form by the date your distributions are scheduled to begin, Federal income tax will be withheld. If you do not have enough income tax withheld from your distributions, you may need to pay estimated tax. You may incur penalties if the amounts withheld and your estimated tax payments are not equal to the tax you owe. State withholding, if applicable, is subject to the state's withholding requirements.

Fair Market Value for Individual Retirement Accounts — Your fair market value as of December 31st will be reported to the IRS as required by law.

Rights to Your Free Credit Balance — You may ask to withdraw your free credit balance during normal business hours, subject to any indebtedness in your account. While your funds are not segregated, they are properly accounted for on our books. Edward Jones may use your free credit balance to conduct business.

A Lasting Gift

This year, why not give a gift that will last — a contribution to a 529 plan. You can gift up to $13,000 this year per beneficiary and receive tax benefits. As you look at your priorities toward the end of the year, think about how impactful a gift for a child's future education could be. This could be especially meaningful considering the rising cost of college. Call your financial advisor today to discuss gifting to a college savings plan.

The Importance of Updating Your Estate Plan

There's never a bad time to update your estate plan. But given the upcoming changes to estate tax laws, updating your plan is more important than ever.

As the law now stands, there is no federal estate tax in 2010. In 2011, the estate tax is scheduled to return, with an exemption amount of $1 million and a top rate of 55%.

Remember, your estate taxes depend on the size of your estate. But no matter the value of your assets, you'll want to have your estate plan in order.

First, you'll need a will. You'll also want to make sure you've named the proper beneficiaries in all your legal documents. Next, work with your tax and legal professionals and Edward Jones financial advisor to review your financial strategy. During this review, look for options to potentially reduce your estate taxes, which may include the following:

- Taking Advantage of Your Exemptions — You and your spouse each receive an exemption from the federal estate tax. To help maximize these exemptions, consider creating a credit shelter trust for your surviving spouse and beneficiaries.
- Using Life Insurance — Consider creating an irrevocable life insurance trust (ILIT) with a new insurance policy to help keep the life insurance proceeds out of your taxable estate.
- Giving Generously — To help reduce your estate, you can give up to $13,000 per year to as many individuals as you want without incurring gift taxes. You can also make gifts to charitable organizations.

Keep in mind that estate planning can be complex. It's essential you work with your legal and tax professionals, as well as your Edward Jones financial advisor, before establishing any type of trust or other estate-planning strategy. And with the looming return of the estate tax, there's no time like the present to get started.

Call your financial advisor to schedule time to discuss your estate plan.

Edward Jones, its employees and financial advisors are not estate planners and cannot provide tax or legal advice. Consult a qualified tax professional or attorney for advice about your situation.

About Edward Jones

About Your Account

Account Information — Your Account Agreement contains the complete conditions that govern your account. Please contact your financial advisor if you have any changes to your financial situation, contact information or investment objectives.

Account Safety — Please review your statement carefully. If you believe there are errors on your account, you must notify us promptly of your concerns. You may either contact our Client Relations department or your financial advisor. You should re-confirm any oral communication by sending us a letter within 30 days to protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Errors or Questions about your Electronic Transfers — Contact Client Relations at (800) 441-2357.

Complaints about Your Account — If you have a complaint please send a letter to Edward Jones, Attn: Complaints Dept., 1245 JJ Kelley Memorial Dr., St. Louis, MO 63131.

Withholding on Distributions or Withdrawals — Federal law requires Edward Jones to withhold income tax on distribution(s) from your retirement accounts and other plans unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect a percentage to be withheld from your distribution or not to have the withholding apply by signing and dating the appropriate form and returning it to the address specified on the form. Your election will remain in effect until you change or revoke it by returning another signed and dated form. If you do not return the form by the date your distributions are scheduled to begin, Federal income tax will be withheld. If you do not have enough income tax withheld from your distributions, you may need to pay estimated tax. You may incur penalties if the amounts withheld and your estimated tax payments are not equal to the tax you owe. State withholding, if applicable, is subject to the state's withholding requirements.

Fair Market Value for Individual Retirement Accounts — Your fair market value as of December 31st will be reported to the IRS as required by law.

Rights to Your Free Credit Balance — You may ask to withdraw your free credit balance during normal business hours, subject to any indebtedness in your account. While your funds are not segregated, they are properly accounted for on our books. Edward Jones may use your free credit balance to conduct business.

Turn May 29 into a day to remember.

May is often busy with activities such as graduations and preparations for the summer months. We want to highlight May 29, which just happens to be a good calendar reminder to contribute to a 529 college savings plan. If you gift to a child's 529 plan, it may offer tax benefits for you and the beneficiary. Remember 5-29, and talk to your financial advisor about the benefits of a 529 plan for a child's future.

Investments with potential dividend growth can help offset inflation.

By owning investments with the potential to raise dividends, you could create a growing stream of dividend income to help offset rising prices over time. This can mean more income during retirement. If you are interested in individual stocks, ask about our Equity Income Buy List, which highlights stocks we believe offer the best opportunity for rising income across sectors.

We hope this overview of your relationship with Edward Jones provides useful information as you consider your financial decisions. Information reported from this point forward is specific to your individual investment and/or retirement account(s).

Estimated Yield

The Estimated Yield (EY) in the preceding sections(s) compares the anticipated earnings on your investments in the coming year to the current price of the investments. It is based on past interest and dividend payments made by the securities held in your account. Changes in the price of a security over time or in the amount of the investment held in your account will cause the EY to vary. The EY is only an estimate and cannot be guaranteed by Edward Jones or the issuers of the securities. Your actual yield may be higher or lower than the estimated amounts. Estimates for any securities that have a return of principal or capital gain may be overstated. Income cannot be estimated for any securities that do not have an annual payment amount or frequency available at this time.

Women Must Plan (Extra) Carefully for Retirement

No matter what type of an investor you may be, if you're a woman, there are at least two special considerations associated with your retirement planning:

- You've got a longer life expectancy. Women typically outlive men by about seven years, according to the National Center for Health Statistics - and the longer you live, the more expenses you'll have.
- You may have less money in your retirement plan. Women drop out of the workforce for an average of 12 years to care for young children or aging parents, according to the Older Women's League, a research and advocacy group. This time away from the workforce results in women accumulating much less money in their employer-sponsored retirement plans, such as 401(k)s.

Know Where You Stand

The prospect of a long, underfunded retirement is not a pleasant one. Fortunately, there's much you can do to help avoid this fate. For starters, know what's going on in your financial situation. If you're married, share the responsibility of making investment decisions. If you're working with a financial advisor, make sure you ask all the questions you can think of - and whenever you think of new questions, ask them as well.

In any case, whether you're married or single, here are some moves that can benefit you:

- "Max out" on your 401(k). If you can afford it, contribute the maximum amount to your 401(k), and if you don't contribute the maximum, increase your contributions every time your salary goes up. Your 401(k) provides you with tax-deferred earnings and a variety of investment options.
- Contribute to an IRA. Even if you have a 401(k) or other employer-sponsored retirement plan, you might be eligible to contribute to a traditional or Roth IRA. A traditional IRA offers tax-deferred earnings, while a Roth IRA grows tax free, provided you don't take withdrawals until you're at least age 59½ and you've held your account at least five years. You can fund an IRA with virtually any investment you choose.

Talk to your financial advisor today about steps you can take to help ensure a comfortable retirement.

About Your Account

Account Information - Your Account Agreement contains the complete conditions that govern your account. Please contact your financial advisor if you have any changes to your financial situation, contact information or investment objectives.

Account Safety - Please review your statement carefully. If you believe there are errors on your account, you must notify us promptly of your concerns. You may either contact our Client Relations department or your financial advisor. You should re-confirm any oral communication by sending us a letter within 30 days to protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Errors or Questions about your Electronic Transfers - Contact Client Relations at (800) 441-2357.

Complaints about Your Account - If you have a complaint please send a letter to Edward Jones, Attn: Complaints Dept., 1245 JJ Kelley Memorial Dr., St. Louis, MO 63131.

Withholding on Distributions or Withdrawals - Federal law requires Edward Jones to withhold income tax on distribution(s) from your retirement accounts and other plans unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect a percentage to be withheld from your distribution or not to have the withholding apply by signing and dating the appropriate form and returning it to the address specified on the form. Your election will remain in effect until you change or revoke it by returning another signed and dated form. If you do not return the form by the date your distributions are scheduled to begin, Federal income tax will be withheld. If you do not have enough income tax withheld from your distributions, you may need to pay estimated tax. You may incur penalties if the amounts withheld and your estimated tax payments are not equal to the tax you owe. State withholding, if applicable, is subject to the state's withholding requirements.

Fair Market Value for Individual Retirement Accounts - Your fair market value as of December 31st will be reported to the IRS as required by law.

Rights to Your Free Credit Balance - You may ask to withdraw your free credit balance during normal business hours, subject to any indebtedness in your account. While your funds are not segregated, they are properly accounted for on our books. Edward Jones may use your free credit balance to conduct business.

* Your approved credit is not a commitment to loan funds. It is based on the value of your Investment account which could change daily. The amount you may be eligible to borrow may differ from your approved credit. Borrowing against securities has its risks and is not appropriate for everyone. If the value of your collateral declines, you may be required to deposit cash or additional securities, or the securities in your account may be sold to meet the margin call. The interest rate will vary depending on the amount borrowed and will begin to accrue from the date of the loan and be charged to the account. A minimum account value is required if you have loan features on your account. Call your financial advisor today.

Pacing Behind, Going for Distance

Since the market bottomed in March 2009, U.S. stocks have regained much of the ground lost. Some sectors of the economy have done quite well, while others have lagged. Companies with the highest risk have seen the highest rewards. As a result, many high-quality companies have been largely ignored, and currently many of their stocks are attractively priced.

The S&P 500 Index and several of the sectors within it have posted a healthy total return during the past 24 months. Financials, consumer discretionary, industrials and materials have led the recovery. This makes sense because these outperforming sectors are most closely tied to the economy.

In addition to these cyclical companies, companies with high credit risk during the financial crisis have also been strong performers since the market bottom. These areas of outperformance follow the typical pattern we see in the early stages of an economic recovery, when fiscal policy focuses on stimulating growth and easing the supply of credit. Looking forward, we believe policy shifts may stir a change in investor mind-set.

Pacers: Consistency and Quality Should Be Rewarded

When considering how to invest today, we believe you should look forward, not in the rearview mirror chasing what has already outperformed. As the U.S. economy continues to gain steam, it solidifies the notion that the recovery is real. A healthier economy also calls for a shift in economic policy that tends to favor companies with high and consistent return potential.

Utility, health care, communications and consumer staples stocks have been left behind during the past two years. We think it makes sense to start looking here for high-quality companies at attractive valuations. Regardless of sector, we recommend taking a closer look at the quality companies with stock performance that have been trailing behind. We believe these even-paced stocks deserve more attention.

Riskier investments tend to do well when the economy starts to recover, but they can't maintain that pace forever. We believe it's a better strategy to consider higher-quality companies that have attractive valuation. Now is a good time to meet with your financial advisor to help ensure you don't have too much risk in your portfolio and to work to regain the right balance for you.

If you have long-term goals, you need a long-term strategy – and that means don't chase yesterday's winners but instead equip your portfolio with a strategy designed to go the distance. (Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. An investment in stocks will fluctuate with changes in market conditions and may be worth more or less than the original investment when sold.)

Complaints about Your Account — If you have a complaint please send a letter to Edward Jones, Attn: Complaints Dept., 1245 JJ Kelley Memorial Dr., St. Louis, MO 63131.

Withholding on Distributions or Withdrawals — Federal law requires Edward Jones to withhold income tax on distribution(s) from your retirement accounts and other plans unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect a percentage to be withheld from your distribution or not to have the withholding apply by signing and dating the appropriate form and returning it to the address specified on the form. Your election will remain in effect until you change or revoke it by returning another signed and dated form. If you do not return the form by the date your distributions are scheduled to begin, Federal income tax will be withheld. If you do not have enough income tax withheld from your distributions, you may need to pay estimated tax. You may incur penalties if the amounts withheld and your estimated tax payments are not equal to the tax you owe. State withholding, if applicable, is subject to the state's withholding requirements.

Fair Market Value for Individual Retirement Accounts — Your fair market value as of December 31st will be reported to the IRS as required by law.

Rights to Your Free Credit Balance — You may ask to withdraw your free credit balance during normal business hours, subject to any indebtedness in your account. While your funds are not segregated, they are properly accounted for on our books. Edward Jones may use your free credit balance to conduct business.

MAKING SENSE OF INVESTING

A Message
Jim Weddle

The first half of this year has been filled with dramatic events: from the powerful earthquake in Japan and catastrophic spring storms in our own country to the elimination of Osama bin Laden and the budget debates and related political tremors in Washington. It's only natural to wonder what could happen next.

When it comes to your finances, a long-term focus is almost always better than an emotional response to the short-term environment. Your long-term goals have probably not changed based on these headline events, and neither should your plan to reach your financial objectives. Our confidence in the basic strength of the American economy is steadfast. Based upon the past, however, we know we will continue to experience financial cycles.

The stock market has performed very well these past two years, but there will be inevitable periods of profit taking and decline. You and your financial advisor should look for the attractively priced opportunities that almost always accompany a market pullback.

At some point, we can also expect a return of higher inflation, which could make now a good time to consider the purchase of rising income stocks — stocks that have the potential to increase their dividends. Currently, many quality companies pay a good dividend and have a track record of growing that dividend over time. These can help you offset the impact of inflation with the potential of a growing stream of dividend income.

Economic cycles can pose a particular challenge if you're preparing to retire soon or already retired. As your financial picture evolves and changes — perhaps the mortgage is paid off or the children have finished school — make time to take financial stock of your situation and update your plan.

First, estimate your total retirement expenses and then analyze your sources of outside income, such as Social Security. The difference between the two is the amount you will need to receive through distributions from your retirement accounts and your personal investment portfolio. Not only is the amount you withdraw important in ensuring your strategy is successful, but the degree to which you rely on income from your investments can also provide insight into how much you could be affected by market fluctuations.

The old saying is: If you cannot predict the future, you must prepare for it. That's why when you are living in retirement, your investment strategy should help you plan for the expected as well as prepare for the unexpected.

For most investors, living in retirement should lead to changes in strategy. Taking into account your comfort level with risk, your investments should strike a balance between income for today and potential growth for tomorrow.

The old saying is: If you cannot
future, you must prepare for it.

It might be tempting to reach for the highest yield by purchasing bonds that pay relatively high interest rates, but remember that high yield almost always entails higher risk. Likewise, it might also be tempting to avoid most risk — but you must continue to incorporate some growth into your investment portfolio to keep pace with inflation.

Your financial advisor is ready to help you work through these important decisions. He or she can help you evaluate if your spending strategy is achievable and whether your investment mix is appropriate for your goals. Stick to your long-term strategy, but review it regularly to be sure you're still on track.

At Edward Jones, we look forward to serving you at every phase of your life. We were extremely honored this year that based upon associate feedback, we were named to FORTUNE magazine's list of "100 Best Companies to Work For" for the 12th time. One reason is that helping you achieve your financial goals is extremely gratifying work.

Thank you for your confidence in us.

Sincerely,

James D. Weddle
Managing Partner

Understanding Long-term Care

You've worked hard for the assets you've earned. But have you thought about what could happen to those assets and the people you love if you need long-term care?

Long-term care is the assistance or supervision you may need if you're unable to perform some of the basic activities of daily living, including bathing, dressing or moving from a bed to a chair. You may need help if you suffer from an injury (such as a broken hip), an illness or a stroke. Others may need help because of mental deterioration called severe cognitive impairment that can be caused by Alzheimer's disease, other mental illness or brain disorders.

Many people put off preparing for this possibility and fail to realize the costs that can accompany long-term care. They first learn about long-term care when they or a loved one needs it. However, preparing now may give you more control over your future and help protect your existing assets and your family.

Solutions for Funding Long-term Care

Self-funding	You pay your long-term care costs using savings, pension benefits, stocks, bonds and other investments.
Family	Your family or loved ones provide care and may need to contribute financially.
Government programs	In certain cases, Medicare and Medicaid can help pay for some long-term care expenses. However, they generally do not pay for care at home.
Long-term care insurance	This insurance is designed to provide coverage for extended care. Ordinary health insurance and medical expense policies do not pay for long-term care expenses.

There may be other appropriate solutions to help you reach your goals, depending on your situation. Talk with your Edward Jones financial advisor to evaluate appropriate strategies for yourself and your loved ones.

Your Mortgage — One Piece of Your Financial Puzzle

Your home may be one of your largest and most important investments. But as you piece together your long-term financial strategy, we realize it won't be the only one.

At Edward Jones Mortgage, we know that a comfortable home is just one of many financial priorities you face. That's why we offer home financing solutions that are designed to align with and enhance your overall financial strategy.

- Whether your priorities include:
- Having sufficient funds for daily expenses
 - Building an emergency fund
 - Obtaining adequate insurance for loved ones
 - Saving for education
 - Investing toward your retirement

Or all of the above, Edward Jones Mortgage can help ensure you're not paying too much for your home loan, so you can work toward your other important financial goals.

To learn more about incorporating your mortgage into your overall financial strategy, talk to your financial advisor or visit www.edwardjonesmortgage.com today.

Amendment to Edward Jones Account Agreement

Effective Aug. 29, 2011, the Edward Jones Account Agreement (“Agreement”) will be amended for accounts established on or before March 24, 2011.

The material changes to the Agreement section titled “Money Market Accounts and Access Options” allow the additional option of participating in an Insured Bank Deposit Program (“Program”). You may select either a no-load money market mutual fund holding (either taxable or non-taxable) (the “Fund”) or the Program as a sweeper option. In either case, Edward Jones is authorized to sweep your available cash deposits into the Fund or Program you have selected and to sell shares or withdraw money to settle transactions you have authorized.

The terms and conditions of the Agreement relating to or about an Access Transaction will also apply to the deposits in the Program.

The material changes to the Agreement section titled “Termination of Account” are as follows: Edward Jones has the right to amend this agreement by sending notice of the change to you. The change will be effective 30 days from the sending of the notice unless you object in writing prior to the effective date.

A complete copy of the amended Edward Jones Account Agreement that will govern your account as of Aug. 29, 2011, is available at www.edwardjones.com/disclosures or from your financial advisor. If you object to any of the above changes, you must notify Edward Jones by Aug. 15, 2011, in writing at Edward Jones, Cash Management Operations, 12555 Manchester Road, St. Louis, MO 63131.

Declare your financial independence.

This Fourth of July, as we celebrate our nation's freedom, why not take a few steps toward declaring your own financial freedom? Resolve to save and invest more. Take a hard look at your lifestyle. Do you have any debt to pay off or bad spending habits to break? Following smart habits and reviewing your portfolio regularly can help you on your way to celebrating your own financial freedom. Meet with your financial advisor soon to discuss your situation and any steps you can take.

Maintaining Proper Balance

Everyone enjoys watching his or her investments grow, but the strong growth of investments in certain sectors over the past two years may have left your portfolio out of balance. If you haven't reviewed your investments with your Edward Jones financial advisor in the past 12 months, now is the time to do so. He or she can help ensure your portfolio is properly balanced and review your long-term goals to help ensure you are still on track to reach them. Call today to schedule your portfolio review.

Are you taking advantage of asset allocation?

The Value of Asset Allocation

Asset Allocation refers to the way you spread your investments among various investment categories. Proper asset allocation can help you better work toward your long-term financial goals. Edward Jones has developed suggested allocations for various Portfolio Objectives based on investors' circumstances.

This graph compares your Edward Jones investment and retirement account(s) investments to your Portfolio Objective. Through a comprehensive portfolio review, your financial advisor can help you assess your financial goals, select an appropriate Portfolio Objective and identify the specific investments that should be included in your portfolio based on your specific situation. In addition, adjustments to your asset allocation will be influenced by your unique circumstances, including risk tolerance, time horizon, tax considerations and future investment or distribution needs.

Some investments may be allocated to more than one investment category based upon estimates by Edward Jones or objectives outlined within the fund's prospectus. Actual allocations change over time and can differ significantly.

(This graph includes all the assets in accounts listed under "A Unique Understanding of Your Financial Needs" on page 1 of this statement.)

We hope this overview of your relationship with Edward Jones provides useful information as you consider your financial decisions. Information reported from this point forward is specific to your individual investment and/or retirement account(s).

Please refer to the important information and disclosures on the last page of this package.

Keeping a Clear Perspective

At Edward Jones, we know that short-term events can test your long-term resolve. That's why we help individual investors focus on the big picture and a long-term investment strategy. One way we do this is with our Edward Jones Perspective videos. These short clips feature our market analysts' insights and perspectives on some of today's most pressing financial and investment topics. Check them out at www.edwardjones.com/perspective.

Pacing Behind, Going for Distance

Since the market bottomed in March 2009, U.S. stocks have regained much of the ground lost. Some sectors of the economy have done quite well, while others have lagged. Companies with the highest risk have seen the highest rewards. As a result, many high-quality companies have been largely ignored, and currently many of their stocks are attractively priced.

The S&P 500 Index and several of the sectors within it have posted healthy total returns during the past 24 months. Financials, consumer discretionary, industrials and materials have led the recovery. This makes sense because these outperforming sectors are most closely tied to the economy.

In addition to these cyclical companies, companies with high credit risk during the financial crisis have also been strong performers since the market bottom. These areas of outperformance follow the typical pattern we see in the early stages of an economic recovery, when fiscal policy focuses on stimulating growth and easing the supply of credit. Looking forward, we believe policy shifts may stir a change in investor mind-set.

Pacers: Consistency and Quality Should Be Rewarded

When considering how to invest today, we believe you should look forward, not in the rearview mirror chasing what has already outperformed. As the U.S. economy continues to gain steam, it solidifies the notion that the recovery is real. A healthier economy also calls for a shift in economic policy that tends to favor companies with high and consistent return potential.

Utility, health care, communications and consumer staples stocks have been left behind during the past two years. We think it makes sense to start looking here for high-quality companies at attractive valuations. Regardless of sector, we recommend taking a closer look at the quality companies with stock performance that have been trailing behind. We believe these even-paced stocks deserve more attention.

Riskier investments tend to do well when the economy starts to recover, but they can't maintain that pace forever. We believe it's a better strategy to consider higher-quality companies that have attractive valuation. Now is a good time to meet with your financial advisor to help ensure you don't have too much risk in your portfolio and to work to regain the right balance for you.

If you have long-term goals, you need a long-term strategy - and that means don't chase yesterday's winners but instead equip your portfolio with a strategy designed to go the distance. (Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. An investment in stocks will fluctuate with changes in market conditions and may be worth more or less than the original investment when sold.)

A Unique Understanding of Your Financial Needs

At Edward Jones, we believe the best investment recommendations are those tailored to your specific needs. That's why we work so hard to thoroughly understand your financial situation and your goals. The following is an overview of your investment and borrowing activity with Edward Jones. Working with your financial advisor, use it to determine how we can help you meet other important financial goals. Call DOUG WILLIAMS at 713-464-6071.

Although account information is provided on this page, it does not guarantee an actual statement was produced. Please refer to your account statement for the exact registration and more specific details regarding each account. Edward Jones statements are issued for each account holding securities in firm name with Edward Jones in March, June, September and December. Monthly statements (for months other than those previously referred to) will not be sent to you in months for which there was no activity or your only account activity is the payment of income on your Edward Jones money market fund or your cash account balance.

Money coming due?

If you have fixed-income investments maturing soon, this is an ideal time to examine your overall investment strategy to determine if your investments are still properly positioned to meet your long-term objectives as well as your short-term needs. For more details, contact your financial advisor soon to schedule an appointment.

Are you taking advantage of asset allocation?

The Value of Asset Allocation

Asset Allocation refers to the way you spread your investments among various investment categories. Proper asset allocation can help you better work toward your long-term financial goals. Edward Jones has developed suggested allocations for various Portfolio Objectives based on investors' circumstances.

This graph compares your Edward Jones investment and retirement account(s) investments to your Portfolio Objective. Through a comprehensive portfolio review, your financial advisor can help you assess your financial goals, select an appropriate Portfolio Objective and identify the specific investments that should be included in your portfolio based on your specific situation. In addition, adjustments to your asset allocation will be influenced by your unique circumstances, including risk tolerance, time horizon, tax considerations and future investment or distribution needs.

Some investments may be allocated to more than one investment category based upon estimates by Edward Jones or objectives outlined within the fund's prospectus. Actual allocations change over time and can differ significantly.

(This graph includes all the assets in accounts listed under "A Unique Understanding of Your Financial Needs" on page 1 of this statement.)

We hope this overview of your relationship with Edward Jones provides useful information as you consider your financial decisions. Information reported from this point forward is specific to your individual investment and/or retirement account(s).

Please refer to the important information and disclosures on the last page of this package.

About Your Account

Account Information - Your Account Agreement contains the complete conditions that govern your account. Please contact your financial advisor if you have any changes to your financial situation, contact information or investment objectives.

Account Safety - Please review your statement carefully. If you believe there are errors on your account, you must notify us promptly of your concerns. You may either contact our Client Relations department or your financial advisor. You should re-confirm any oral communication by sending us a letter within 30 days to protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Errors or Questions about your Electronic Transfers - Contact Client Relations at (800) 441-2357.

Complaints about Your Account - If you have a complaint please send a letter to Edward Jones, Attn: Complaints Dept., 1245 JJ Kelley Memorial Dr., St. Louis, MO 63131.

Withholding on Distributions or Withdrawals - Federal law requires Edward Jones to withhold income tax on distribution(s) from your retirement accounts and other plans unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect a percentage to be withheld from your distribution or not to have the withholding apply by signing and dating the appropriate form and returning it to the address specified on the form. Your election will remain in effect until you change or revoke it by returning another signed and dated form. If you do not return the form by the date your distributions are scheduled to begin, Federal income tax will be withheld. If you do not have enough income tax withheld from your distributions, you may need to pay estimated tax. You may incur penalties if the amounts withheld and your estimated tax payments are not equal to the tax you owe. State withholding, if applicable, is subject to the state's withholding requirements.

Fair Market Value for Individual Retirement Accounts - Your fair market value as of December 31st will be reported to the IRS as required by law.

Rights to Your Free Credit Balance - You may ask to withdraw your free credit balance during normal business hours, subject to any indebtedness in your account. While your funds are not segregated, they are properly accounted for on our books. Edward Jones may use your free credit balance to conduct business.

The amount you may be eligible to borrow may differ from your approved credit. Borrowing against securities has its risks and is not appropriate for everyone. If the value of your collateral declines, you may be required to deposit cash or additional securities, or the securities in your account may be sold to meet the margin call. The interest rate will vary depending on the amount borrowed and will begin to accrue from the date of the loan and be charged to the account. Why Do Investors Care about the Dollar?

For most people, the value of the dollar isn't how many euros or yen it equals - it's what goods and services a dollar can buy at the store. When prices rise, effectively reducing the value of the dollars we spend, we call it inflation. For investors focused on retirement, typical goals may include having enough money to live comfortably and leaving an inheritance. But even low inflation rates erode the value of a dollar over time. This is why we suggest owning investments that have the potential for rising income to help afford rising prices.

But a falling dollar doesn't usually result in higher inflation. Certainly, foreign travel and imported wines become more expensive, for example, but they're not big items in most budgets. More importantly, people tend to switch to alternatives rather than pay higher prices. In our view, the rise or fall of the dollar over time isn't likely to be a significant source of higher inflation.

The Ups and Downs of the Dollar

Most people pay little attention to the changing value of the dollar in foreign currencies, and in the short term it's nearly impossible to predict. But the dollar's decline over the past decade has raised concerns. When it comes to your investments, we believe the changing value of the dollar can matter in three main ways:

- The value of the international investments you own tends to benefit when the dollar declines.
- U.S. company earnings can be helped or hurt, depending on the business.
- Oil and other commodity prices tend to rise when the dollar declines, since many are priced in dollars.

Fortunately, you don't need to be a currency expert or even understand all of the reasons why the dollar's value changes to build a portfolio that's prepared for the varying value of the dollar.

Don't Let Currency Cloud Your Conviction

The value of the dollar in foreign currencies has always fluctuated, sometimes widely. As a result, we don't believe you should base your investment decisions on what you think the dollar will do. Talk with your financial advisor about ways to help position your portfolio for the changing value of the dollar.

Past performance does not guarantee future results. Diversification does not guarantee a profit or protect against loss. Special risks are inherent to international investing, including those related to currency fluctuations and foreign political and economic events. Investors should make investment decisions based on their unique investment objectives, risk tolerance and financial situation.

About Your Account

Account Information — Your Account Agreement contains the complete conditions that govern your account. Please contact your financial advisor if you have any changes to your financial situation, contact information or investment objectives.

Account Safety — Please review your statement carefully. If you believe there are errors on your account, you must notify us promptly of your concerns. You may either contact our Client Relations department or your financial advisor. You should re-confirm any oral communication by sending us a letter within 30 days to protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Errors or Questions about your Electronic Transfers — Contact Client Relations at (800) 441-2357.

Complaints about Your Account — If you have a complaint please send a letter to Edward Jones, Attn: Complaints Dept., 1245 JJ Kelley Memorial Dr., St. Louis, MO 63131.

Withholding on Distributions or Withdrawals — Federal law requires Edward Jones to withhold income tax on distribution(s) from your retirement accounts and other plans unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect a percentage to be withheld from your distribution or not to have the withholding apply by signing and dating the appropriate form and returning it to the address specified on the form. Your election will remain in effect until you change or revoke it by returning another signed and dated form. If you do not return the form by the date your distributions are scheduled to begin, Federal income tax will be withheld. If you do not have enough income tax withheld from your distributions, you may need to pay estimated tax. You may incur penalties if the amounts withheld and your estimated tax payments are not equal to the tax you owe. State withholding, if applicable, is subject to the state's withholding requirements.

Fair Market Value for Individual Retirement Accounts — Your fair market value as of December 31st will be reported to the IRS as required by law.

Rights to Your Free Credit Balance — You may ask to withdraw your free credit balance during normal business hours, subject to any indebtedness in your account. While your funds are not segregated, they are properly accounted for on our books. Edward Jones may use your free credit balance to conduct business.

Turn May 29 into a day to remember.

May is often busy with activities such as graduations and preparations for the summer months. We want to highlight May 29, which just happens to be a good calendar reminder to contribute to a 529 college savings plan. If you gift to a child's 529 plan, it may offer tax benefits for you and the beneficiary. Remember 5-29, and talk to your financial advisor about the benefits of a 529 plan for a child's future.

* Your approved credit is not a commitment to loan funds. It is based on the value of your Investment account which could change daily. The amount you may be eligible to borrow may differ from your approved credit. Borrowing against securities has its risks and is not appropriate for everyone. If the value of your collateral declines, you may be required to deposit cash or additional securities, or the securities in your account may be sold to meet the margin call. The interest rate will vary depending on the amount borrowed and will begin to accrue from the date of the loan and be charged to the account. A minimum account value is required if you have loan features on your account. Call your financial advisor today.

Women Must Plan (Extra) Carefully for Retirement

No matter what type of an investor you may be, if you're a woman, there are at least two special considerations associated with your retirement planning:

- You've got a longer life expectancy. Women typically outlive men by about seven years, according to the National Center for Health Statistics — and the longer you live, the more expenses you'll have.
- You may have less money in your retirement plan. Women drop out of the workforce for an average of 12 years to care for young children or aging parents, according to the Older Women's League, a research and advocacy group. This time away from the workforce results in women accumulating much less money in their employer-sponsored retirement plans, such as 401(k)s.

Know Where You Stand

The prospect of a long, underfunded retirement is not a pleasant one. Fortunately, there's much you can do to help avoid this fate. For starters, know what's going on in your financial situation. If you're married, share the responsibility of making investment decisions. If you're working with a financial advisor, make sure you ask all the questions you can think of — and whenever you think of new questions, ask them as well.

In any case, whether you're married or single, here are some moves that can benefit you:

- "Max out" on your 401(k). If you can afford it, contribute the maximum amount to your 401(k), and if you don't contribute the maximum, increase your contributions every time your salary goes up. Your 401(k) provides you with tax-deferred earnings and a variety of investment options.
- Contribute to an IRA. Even if you have a 401(k) or other employer-sponsored retirement plan, you might be eligible to contribute to a traditional or Roth IRA. A traditional IRA offers tax-deferred earnings, while a Roth IRA grows tax free, provided you don't take withdrawals until you're at least age 59½ and you've held your account at least five years. You can fund an IRA with virtually any investment you choose.

Talk to your financial advisor today about steps you can take to help ensure a comfortable retirement.

About Your Account

Account Information — Your Account Agreement contains the complete conditions that govern your account. Please contact your financial advisor if you have any changes to your financial situation, contact information or investment objectives.

Account Safety — Please review your statement carefully. If you believe there are errors on your account, you must notify us promptly of your concerns. You may either contact our Client Relations department or your financial advisor. You should re-confirm any oral communication by sending us a letter within 30 days to protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Errors or Questions about your Electronic Transfers — Contact Client Relations at (800) 441-2357.

Complaints about Your Account — If you have a complaint please send a letter to Edward Jones, Attn: Complaints Dept., 1245 JJ Kelley Memorial Dr., St. Louis, MO 63131.

Withholding on Distributions or Withdrawals — Federal law requires Edward Jones to withhold income tax on distribution(s) from your retirement accounts and other plans unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect a percentage to be withheld from your distribution or not to have the withholding apply by signing and dating the appropriate form and returning it to the address specified on the form. Your election will remain in effect until you change or revoke it by returning another signed and dated form. If you do not return the form by the date your distributions are scheduled to begin, Federal income tax will be withheld. If you do not have enough income tax withheld from your distributions, you may need to pay estimated tax. You may incur penalties if the amounts withheld and your estimated tax payments are not equal to the tax you owe. State withholding, if applicable, is subject to the state's withholding requirements.

Fair Market Value for Individual Retirement Accounts — Your fair market value as of December 31st will be reported to the IRS as required by law.

Rights to Your Free Credit Balance — You may ask to withdraw your free credit balance during normal business hours, subject to any indebtedness in your account. While your funds are not segregated, they are properly accounted for on our books. Edward Jones may use your free credit balance to conduct business.

* Your approved credit is not a commitment to loan funds. It is based on the value of your Investment account which could change daily. The amount you may be eligible to borrow may differ from your approved credit. Borrowing against securities has its risks and is not appropriate for everyone. If the value of your collateral declines, you may be required to deposit cash or additional securities, or the securities in your account may be sold to meet the margin call. The interest rate will vary depending on the amount borrowed and will begin to accrue from the date of the loan and be charged to the account. A minimum account value is required if you have loan features on your account. Call your financial advisor today.

The Foundation of a Successful Retirement

Whether you are already retired or still thinking about it, have you done everything you can to ensure you are well-prepared for that unique time of your life? If you're unsure, your Edward Jones financial advisor can help.

At Edward Jones, we believe a solid retirement plan is based on three major components:

1. Planning for the expected. This process begins with you. What is your vision of retirement? Do you see yourself remaining close to home, traveling, starting a new hobby or maybe even working part time? Based on that vision – whether you're already there or still working to get there – we can help you identify projected expenses and available resources. Using this information, you and your Edward Jones financial advisor can calculate an appropriate withdrawal rate and determine if your spending strategy is realistic. If not, you can pinpoint what trade-offs can be made to enable you to live the retirement you've envisioned.

2. Preparing for the unexpected. You and your financial advisor can examine and determine how to prepare for such retirement risks as inflation, market fluctuations, health care and living longer than you expected. This may include insuring against these risks or incorporating them into your investment strategy. For example, if short-term market declines make you uncomfortable, you may want to consider investments to better provide for your current income needs and, thereby, reduce the impact of short-term market swings on your income.

3. Positioning your portfolio for both. You and your Edward Jones financial advisor can discuss how transitioning from saving to spending in retirement affects your portfolio and examine the investment strategies you can implement to maintain the ideal balance between providing the necessary income for today with the growth needed for tomorrow.

Once you have developed a solid retirement strategy, you've taken a crucial step toward your retirement. But the process doesn't end there. Things change, even in retirement, so it's important to periodically review your portfolio and your investment strategy, especially after a major market move or a life-changing event. By doing so, you and your financial advisor can determine if you are still on track and, if not, make the necessary adjustments.

Call your financial advisor today for an appointment. He or she would be happy to meet with you to help you develop and maintain a strategy that will help fulfill your retirement expectations.

Life has changed. Has your portfolio?

Life is full of changes. Fashions change, the markets change, even you and your lifestyle change. But has your portfolio? If you haven't completed a portfolio review in the past 12 months, now is the time to do so. You and your financial advisor can discuss what changes have taken place in your life - and outside it - that may impact your portfolio and then decide if any changes are needed. Even if no action is necessary, you'll have the satisfaction of knowing your portfolio is still on track.

MAKING SENSE OF INVESTING

A Unique Understanding of Your Financial Needs

At Edward Jones, we believe the best investment recommendations are those tailored to your specific needs. That's why we work so hard to thoroughly understand your financial situation and your goals. The following is an overview of your investment and borrowing activity with Edward Jones. Working with your financial advisor, use it to determine how we can help you meet other important financial goals. Call DOUG WILLIAMS at 713-464-6071.

Although account information is provided on this page, it does not guarantee an actual statement was produced. Please refer to your account statement for the exact registration and more specific details regarding each account. Edward Jones statements are issued for each account holding securities in firm name with Edward Jones in March, June, September and December. Monthly statements (for months other than those previously referred to) will not be sent to you in months for which there was no activity or your only account activity is the payment of income on your Edward Jones money market fund or your cash account balance.

Life has changed. Has your portfolio?

Life is full of changes. Fashions change, the markets change, even you and your lifestyle change. But has your portfolio? If you haven't completed a portfolio review in the past 12 months, now is the time to do so. You and your financial advisor can discuss what changes have taken place in your life - and outside it - that may impact your portfolio and then decide if any changes are needed. Even if no action is necessary, you'll have the satisfaction of knowing your portfolio is still on track.

We hope this overview of your relationship with Edward Jones provides useful information as you consider your financial decisions. Information reported from this point forward is specific to your individual investment and/or retirement account(s).

Consider adopting a systematic investing habit.
 Not all habits are bad. Automatically investing part of each paycheck to fund a retirement account is one habit you can proudly establish and maintain. Systematic investment can't guarantee a profit or protect against loss, but it is a great way to stay focused on your goal of retirement. Systematic investing is ideal when you regularly invest a fixed dollar amount regardless of fluctuating prices, so please consider your ability to do so before starting such a plan.

The Foundation of a Successful Retirement

Whether you are already retired or still thinking about it, have you done everything you can to ensure you are well-prepared for that unique time of your life? If you're unsure, your Edward Jones financial advisor can help.

At Edward Jones, we believe a solid retirement plan is based on three major components:

1. Planning for the expected. This process begins with you. What is your vision of retirement? Do you see yourself remaining close to home, traveling, starting a new hobby or maybe even working part time? Based on that vision - whether you're already there or still working to get there - we can help you identify projected expenses and available resources. Using this information, you and your Edward Jones financial advisor can calculate an appropriate withdrawal rate and determine if your spending strategy is realistic. If not, you can pinpoint what trade-offs can be made to enable you to live the retirement you've envisioned.

2. Preparing for the unexpected. You and your financial advisor can examine and determine how to prepare for such retirement risks as inflation, market fluctuations, health care and living longer than you expected. This may include insuring against these risks or incorporating them into your investment strategy. For example, if short-term market declines make you uncomfortable, you may want to consider investments to better provide for your current income needs and, thereby, reduce the impact of short-term market swings on your income.

3. Positioning your portfolio for both. You and your Edward Jones financial advisor can discuss how transitioning from saving to spending in retirement affects your portfolio and examine the investment strategies you can implement to maintain the ideal balance between providing the necessary income for today with the growth needed for tomorrow.

Once you have developed a solid retirement strategy, you've taken a crucial step toward your retirement. But the process doesn't end there. Things change, even in retirement, so it's important to periodically review your portfolio and your investment strategy, especially after a major market move or a life-changing event. By doing so, you and your financial advisor can determine if you are still on track and, if not, make the necessary adjustments.

Call your financial advisor today for an appointment. He or she would be happy to meet with you to help you develop and maintain a strategy that will help fulfill your retirement expectations.

About Your Account

Account Information - Your Account Agreement contains the complete conditions that govern your account. Please contact your financial advisor if you have any changes to your financial situation, contact information or investment objectives.

Account Safety - Please review your statement carefully. If you believe there are errors on your account, you must notify us promptly of your concerns. You may either contact our Client Relations department or your financial advisor. You should re-confirm any oral communication by sending us a letter within 30 days to protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Errors or Questions about your Electronic Transfers - Contact Client Relations at (800) 441-2357.

Complaints about Your Account - If you have a complaint please send a letter to Edward Jones, Attn: Complaints Dept., 1245 JJ Kelley Memorial Dr., St. Louis, MO 63131.

Withholding on Distributions or Withdrawals - Federal law requires Edward Jones to withhold income tax on distribution(s) from your retirement accounts and other plans unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect a percentage to be withheld from your distribution or not to have the withholding apply by signing and dating the appropriate form and returning it to the address specified on the form. Your election will remain in effect until you change or revoke it by returning another signed and dated form. If you do not return the form by the date your distributions are scheduled to begin, Federal income tax will be withheld. If you do not have enough income tax withheld from your distributions, you may need to pay estimated tax. You may incur penalties if the amounts withheld and your estimated tax payments are not equal to the tax you owe. State withholding, if applicable, is subject to the state's withholding requirements.

Fair Market Value for Individual Retirement Accounts - Your fair market value as of December 31st will be reported to the IRS as required by law.

Rights to Your Free Credit Balance - You may ask to withdraw your free credit balance during normal business hours, subject to any indebtedness in your account. While your funds are not segregated, they are properly accounted for on our books. Edward Jones may use your free credit balance to conduct business.

Social Security: The Cost of Early Withdrawals

According to the Social Security Administration, nearly 74% of all retired workers begin taking Social Security benefits before full retirement age. If you're tempted to do so based solely on short-term fears about the future of Social Security, it's important to realize the long-term consequences. Claiming Social Security early can reduce future payments by as much as 25%. Your financial advisor may be able to offer some alternative scenarios that may help you delay claiming your Social Security benefits. Contact him or her today.

Stock Market Perspective

The first half of 2011 has been a roller-coaster ride for investors. Gross domestic product (GDP) reports showed that economic growth was weaker than anticipated in the first half of the year, but importantly, the economy is still growing. We also watched news unfold on topics, including the debt ceiling, S&P's downgrade of the U.S. credit rating to AA+ and renewed European debt issues. All of these events made August a particularly volatile month in the markets. The economic recovery is progressing, but growth is likely to be slower than most would hope for. The market's roller-coaster ride may continue in the near term, but we believe improving economic fundamentals and healthy corporate profits are reasons to look forward to the ups and not be so fearful of the downs.

A Bright Spot in Corporate Earnings

While slow economic growth is certainly disappointing, it can provide a positive environment for investors. Second-quarter corporate earnings are up more than 10% over the past year. In addition, at the end of July, 73% of the companies that had reported earnings had exceeded expectations. Although companies in the S&P 500 are on track to reach new record high earnings in the second half of the year, their prices haven't kept pace. As a result, we believe many quality companies are attractively valued.

Invest in Your Strategy, Not Your Emotions

While market fluctuations are unsettling, market declines are common and can even be used as an opportunity to add quality investments that fit well with your portfolio and will help work toward your long-range goals. After all, investing isn't about buying when you feel good and selling when you feel bad. It's about developing and following a solid strategy that addresses your needs today and your goals for the future. It can be tempting to abandon your investment strategy when the market is down, but we believe that doing so can be a costly mistake. It all boils down to one simple fact: You can't control the market or the economy, but you can control how you react to them.

Edward Jones Is Here to Help

That's where Edward Jones can help. If you find yourself considering changes to your investments based solely on recent headlines or market performance, contact your Edward Jones financial advisor. He or she can review your portfolio and provide a fresh perspective of where you are today and if you're still on track to reach your goals based not on what happened last week or last month but on longer-term trends in the market. In the end, we believe that these trends will ultimately matter more than the market's short-term ups and downs.

Remember, your Edward Jones financial advisor is there to help and to answer any questions and address any concerns you have regarding your investments. Don't hesitate to contact him or her.

Social Security: The High Cost of Early Withdrawals

According to the Social Security Administration, nearly 74% of all retired workers begin taking Social Security benefits before full retirement age. If you're tempted to do so based solely on short-term fears about the future of Social Security, it's important to realize the long-term consequences. Claiming Social Security early can reduce future payments by as much as 25%. Your financial advisor may be able to offer some alternative scenarios that may help you delay claiming your Social Security benefits. Contact him or her today.

Don't neglect your 401(k).

Having your 401(k) contribution automatically deducted from your paycheck is a smart move, but it doesn't mean your retirement plan should be on autopilot. Life changes, and as it does, it's important to make sure your retirement plan still fits your needs. When was the last time you increased your contribution? Do you still have the right mix of investments? Edward Jones can help you answer these questions and give your 401(k) the attention it deserves.

Stock Market Perspective

The first half of 2011 has been a roller-coaster ride for investors. Gross domestic product (GDP) reports showed that economic growth was weaker than anticipated in the first half of the year, but importantly, the economy is still growing. We also watched news unfold on topics, including the debt ceiling, S&P's downgrade of the U.S. credit rating to AA+ and renewed European debt issues. All of these events made August a particularly volatile month in the markets. The economic recovery is progressing, but growth is likely to be slower than most would hope for. The market's roller-coaster ride may continue in the near term, but we believe improving economic fundamentals and healthy corporate profits are reasons to look forward to the "ups" and not be so fearful of the downs.

A Bright Spot in Corporate Earnings

While slow economic growth is certainly disappointing, it can provide a positive environment for investors. Second-quarter corporate earnings are up more than 10% over the past year. In addition, at the end of July, 73% of the companies that had reported earnings had exceeded expectations. Although companies in the S&P 500 are on track to reach new record high earnings in the second half of the year, their prices haven't kept pace. As a result, we believe many quality companies are attractively valued.

Invest in Your Strategy, Not Your Emotions

While market fluctuations are unsettling, market declines are common and can even be used as an opportunity to add quality investments that fit well with your portfolio and will help work toward your long-range goals. After all, investing isn't about buying when you feel good and selling when you feel bad. It's about developing and following a solid strategy that addresses your needs today and your goals for the future. It can be tempting to abandon your investment strategy when the market is down, but we believe that doing so can be a costly mistake. It all boils down to one simple fact: You can't control the market or the economy, but you can control how you react to them.

Edward Jones Is Here to Help

That's where Edward Jones can help. If you find yourself considering changes to your investments based solely on recent headlines or market performance, contact your Edward Jones financial advisor. He or she can review your portfolio and provide a fresh perspective of where you are today and if you're still on track to reach your goals based not on what happened last week or last month but on longer-term trends in the market. In the end, we believe that these trends will ultimately matter more than the market's short-term ups and downs.

Remember, your Edward Jones financial advisor is there to help and to answer any questions and address any concerns you have regarding your investments. Don't hesitate to contact him or her.

The Three P's of Planning for Retirement

Although preparing for retirement may seem like just another task on your growing to-do list, you can prepare for that period of your life now. By working with your financial advisor today, you can address the three aspects of a retirement strategy: planning for the expected, preparing for the unexpected and positioning your portfolio for both. It's never too early or too late to start planning for the future, so contact your financial advisor today.

The Gift That Keeps Giving

This year, consider giving that special child on your holiday list a gift that will provide a lifetime of opportunities by contributing to his or her college savings plan. The cost of a college education is rising, but you can help make the future a bit brighter by gifting up to $13,000 this year per beneficiary. Call your financial advisor to learn about the many options to save.

About Your Account

Account Information — Your Account Agreement contains the complete conditions that govern your account. Please contact your financial advisor if you have any changes to your financial situation, contact information or investment objectives.

Account Safety — Please review your statement carefully. If you believe there are errors on your account, you must notify us promptly of your concerns. You may either contact our Client Relations department or your financial advisor. You should re-confirm any oral communication by sending us a letter within 30 days to protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Errors or Questions about your Electronic Transfers — Contact Client Relations at (800) 441-2357.

Complaints about Your Account — If you have a complaint please send a letter to Edward Jones, Attn: Complaints Dept., 1245 JJ Kelley Memorial Dr., St. Louis, MO 63131.

Withholding on Distributions or Withdrawals — Federal law requires Edward Jones to withhold income tax on distribution(s) from your retirement accounts and other plans unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect a percentage to be withheld from your distribution or not to have the withholding apply by signing and dating the appropriate form and returning it to the address specified on the form. Your election will remain in effect until you change or revoke it by returning another signed and dated form. If you do not return the form by the date your distributions are scheduled to begin, Federal income tax will be withheld. If you do not have enough income tax withheld from your distributions, you may need to pay estimated tax. You may incur penalties if the amounts withheld and your estimated tax payments are not equal to the tax you owe. State withholding, if applicable, is subject to the state's withholding requirements.

Fair Market Value for Individual Retirement Accounts — Your fair market value as of December 31st will be reported to the IRS as required by law.

Rights to Your Free Credit Balance — You may ask to withdraw your free credit balance during normal business hours, subject to any indebtedness in your account. While your funds are not segregated, they are properly accounted for on our books. Edward Jones may use your free credit balance to conduct business.

Taxes Don't Have a Season: Five Ideas to Consider Now

Too often, the thought of how to reduce taxes occurs only during March and April as the tax deadline approaches. Your taxes are determined when a transaction is made, so potentially reducing your tax bill and planning ahead should be a year-round endeavor. Here are five ideas to help you be tax-smart every day of the year.

1. Know which tax deductions and credits you can take. Be aware of any deductions (IRA contributions, health savings account contributions and tuition and fees) or tax credits (retirement savings contribution credits, education credits and child and dependent care credits) you might be eligible to take.

2. "Tax-diversify" your savings. Different types of tax-favored accounts have different benefits. For example, with a traditional IRA, your contributions may be tax-deductible and can grow tax deferred. With a Roth IRA, your contributions are nondeductible, but distributions you take during retirement are tax-free. * Each IRA provides benefits that could prove more valuable depending on future tax rates. While your situation and the tax code may be anything but constant, one thing is certain: An important benefit of having money in different types of tax-favored accounts is flexibility when it's time to withdraw your funds.

3. Fund early. If you wait until the tax deadline to fund your IRA each year, you miss up to 15 months of potential tax-deferred growth on your contribution. Although 15 months may not seem like a significant amount of time, it may considerably impact your retirement savings.

4. Directly deposit your tax refund into your IRA. Your 2011 tax refund is one way to help add to your retirement savings goals. You can instruct the IRS to directly deposit your tax refund into as many as three separate accounts. This includes any checking, savings and retirement accounts, such as an Edward Jones IRA. Even if you use only a portion of your refund for retirement savings, your 2011 tax refund can help make it a little easier to work toward your retirement goals.

5. Schedule a complimentary portfolio review. Changes in life can affect your investment needs. That's why we encourage you to review your portfolio at least annually. Your financial advisor can discuss changes in your life and help you determine if any investment changes are needed.

Contact your financial advisor to learn more about tax-smart investing.

Earnings distributions from a Roth IRA may be subject to taxes and a 10% penalty if the account is less than five years old and the owner is under age 59 1/2.*

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.

Edward Jones Tax Statements

All Forms 1099-R and 1099-Q have been issued to clients. Consolidated 1099 tax statements will be issued to clients no later than Feb. 15, 2012. Visit us at www.edwardjones.com/taxcenter for detailed information regarding your Edward Jones tax forms and the new IRS cost basis reporting changes on Form 1099-B.

Early contributions can make a difference.

Tax season is a good time to act on tax-advantaged savings opportunities. But don't wait until the April 17 tax deadline to fully fund your IRA for 2011. Contributing before the tax deadline can give your money more time to potentially grow. The maximum annual contribution for 2011 and 2012 is $5,000, with an additional $1,000 catch-up contribution for anyone age 50 or over. Contact your financial advisor today to fund your IRA.

All-terrain Investing: Preparing for Varying Road Conditions

Long-term investors encounter a wide variety of market conditions. They can be almost as varied as the terrain. Sometimes it's smooth and easy to navigate, and other times, the investment landscape is rocky and hilly, slowing your progress. In general, we're optimistic about the future, but there will be bumps along the way. Although you can't avoid them, you can work to smooth out the ride by owning a mix of investments that tend to do well in different market environments.

During the past several years, the market's path has been filled with major peaks and valleys, which have been the direct result of what is called "risk-on, risk-off" behavior. When economic news is positive, investors are optimistic and more willing to take on risk with investments that depend more on the economy for growth — and therefore fluctuate more. When the headlines turn negative, investors tend to become more risk-averse, or "risk-off." Rather than moving between "risk-on" and "risk-off" buying, consider a variety of companies that may provide opportunities in both types of markets.

Get in Gear

In our view, now is not the time to "park" your investment strategy. Given the uncertainty about European debt, U.S. budget deficits and the election, we expect market volatility to continue in the shorter term. In our view, the best way to prepare is to maintain a well-balanced portfolio with adequate holdings in quality investments. We believe equities offer an attractive opportunity and recommend the equity portion of your portfolio be well-balanced across sectors, with quality holdings that can benefit as the market landscape shifts.

Is Your Portfolio Prepared?

We think the current environment offers good opportunities for investors, but the challenges of the "risk-on, risk-off" pattern underscore the importance of being prepared. Make sure your portfolio contains quality investments and is diversified across sectors that perform well in varying environments. When appropriate, rebalance to take advantage of market movements. And remember, even when current events temporarily impact the market, keep focusing on your long-term financial goals, such as retirement and paying for education. Regardless of the landscape, your long-term financial goals should serve as your constant horizon.

For more information, ask your financial advisor for our full report on this topic.

Investing in stocks involves risk. Your investment return and principal value will fluctuate, and you may lose money. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Diversification does not guarantee a profit or protect against a loss.

About Edward Jones

Edward D. Jones & Co., L.P. is dually registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) as a broker-dealer and an investment adviser. Edward Jones is also a member of FINRA.

About Your Account

Account Information — Your Account Agreement contains the complete conditions that govern your account. Please contact your financial advisor if you have any changes to your financial situation, contact information or investment objectives.

Account Safety — Please review your statement carefully. If you believe there are errors on your account, you must notify us promptly of your concerns. You may either contact our Client Relations department or your financial advisor. You should re-confirm any oral communication by sending us a letter within 30 days to protect your rights, including your rights under the Securities Investor Protection Act (SIPA).

Errors or Questions about your Electronic Transfers —

Contact Client Relations at (800) 441-2357.

Complaints about Your Account — If you have a complaint please send a letter to Edward Jones, Attn: Complaints Dept., 1245 JJ Kelley Memorial Dr., St. Louis, MO 63131.

Withholding on Distributions or Withdrawals — Federal law requires Edward Jones to withhold income tax on distribution(s) from your retirement accounts and other plans unless you elect not to have withholding apply. You may elect a percentage to be withheld from your distribution or not to have the withholding apply by signing and dating the appropriate form and returning it to the address specified on the form. Your election will remain in effect until you change or revoke it by returning another signed and dated form. If you do not return the form by the date your distributions are scheduled to begin, Federal income tax will be withheld. If you do not have enough income tax withheld from your distributions, you may need to pay estimated tax. You may incur penalties if the amounts withheld and your estimated tax payments are not equal to the tax you owe. State withholding, if applicable, is subject to the state's withholding requirements.

Fair Market Value for Individual Retirement Accounts —

Your fair market value as of December 31st will be reported to the IRS as required by law.

Rights to Your Free Credit Balance — You may ask to withdraw your free credit balance during normal business hours, subject to any indebtedness in your account. While your funds are not segregated, they are properly accounted for on our books. Edward Jones may use your free credit balance to conduct business.

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:
Fannie Mae: 1-800-237-8627 or email: bestmbs@fanniemae.com

ORDER 653628703 PROCESSED ON 09/19/2011 @ 19:27:32 CUSIP 543487136 (LSIIX)

- If the phrase "we make a mkt in this security" appears on this confirmation, we have acted as principal functioning as a secondary market maker.
- If the phrase "unsolicited" appears on this confirmation, the transaction was conducted pursuant to an unsolicited order to buy or sell placed by the client.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.

THANK YOU FOR ALLOWING EDWARD JONES THE OPPORTUNITY TO SERVE YOU.

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:
Fannie Mae: 1-800-237-8627 or email: bestmbs@fanniemae.com
Freddie Mac: 1-800-336-3672 or email: Investor_Inquiry@FreddieMac.com

- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:
Fannie Mae: 1-800-237-8627 or email: bestmbs@fanniemae.com
Freddie Mac: 1-800-336-3672 or email: Investor_Inquiry@FreddieMac.com

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:
Fannie Mac: 1-800-237-8627 or email: bestmbs@fanniemae.com

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these product partners. For the year ended December 31, 2009, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $94.2 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $30.7 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $164.3 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to the standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .125% or 12.5 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $12.50 for that transaction.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following Revenue Sharing Summary tables.

Please review the following Revenue Sharing tables, which provide detailed information and disclosures concerning Edward Jones' revenue sharing arrangements.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners is included in the following revenue sharing summary tables. Revenue sharing paid in connection with mutual fund-based retirement plans is included in the "Mutual Fund Companies: Revenue Sharing Summary" table. Revenue sharing paid in connection with group annuity-based retirement plans is included on the "Insurance and Annuity Product Providers: Revenue Sharing Summary" table, which can be found on our website, www.edwardjones.com.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors ("American") as an asset fee because American has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $24.42 per $10,000 purchased. American has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American is the program manager.

⁶ MFS began paying revenue sharing on July 1, 2009.

⁷ Pioneer Funds Distributor, Inc. began paying revenue sharing effective Jan. 1, 2010.

⁸ Putnam Retail Management, L.P. ("Putnam") ceased paying revenue sharing to Edward Jones as of March 15, 2009. Putnam paid Edward Jones a portion of the amount otherwise due under the parties' agreement for the period from Jan. 1, 2009, through March 15, 2009.

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:
Fannie Mae: 1-800-237-8627 or email: bestmbs@fanniemae.com

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:
Fannie Mae: 1-800-237-8627 or email: bestmbs@fanniemae.com

Market Commentary as of December 31, 20102010 Ends on a Strong Note

The fourth quarter brought great cheer to equity investors. Economic data showed the economy continues to recover and investors also received good news on the tax front. The market ended the year on a strong note as the S&P 500 had its best December in 19 years, with domestic markets up 10% during the fourth quarter and 15% for the year. Bond markets held on to their gains for 2010 but had a choppy fourth quarter. Interest rates rose (and bond prices fell) due to concerns about both the longer-term inflationary impact of Federal Reserve actions and the recent tax cut extensions.

Tax Cut Extension Helps Fuel Optimism

After a good deal of anxiety over the expiring Bush-era tax cuts, investors received an early holiday gift as the tax cuts were extended for another two years. This removed the potential selling pressure that could have come from investors seeking to lock in capital gains at the lower rates before taxes increased. Economists estimate these tax cut extensions could add 0.5-1.0% to economic growth in 2011, which could serve as a positive catalyst in the recovery efforts as we move forward.

Say Goodbye to the "Lost Decade"

Much has been written in the press about the "Lost Decade" of the 2000s. Rolling annualized 10-year returns for domestic equity markets dipped into negative territory for the periods ending in 2008 and 2009 for the first time since the 1930s. With December's strong finish to the year, 10-year returns are now back in positive territory, with the S&P 500 up 1.4% on an annualized basis for the 10-year period ending in 2010.

This modest return over the course of a decade is certainly nothing to cheer about. However, we see opportunity and believe equity returns could revert to more normal levels over time. Historically, when rolling 10-year returns have approached or entered negative territory, investors have been presented with a compelling opportunity to invest in the stock market. Past performance is no guarantee of future results.

During the past two years we have seen strong market returns. Domestic equity markets were up 26% in 2009 and 15% in 2010. With the market still appearing reasonably valued, corporate profits continuing to grow, and plenty of investor cash on the sidelines, we believe there are numerous positive trends heading into the new year. However, 2011 brings a fair degree of uncertainty as well.

Looking Toward 2011: Cautiously Optimistic

After a second straight year of economic recovery, investors are rightfully torn as to what comes next. Optimists believe the economic recovery will continue to accelerate and push unemployment down without igniting inflation. Pessimists worry that consumers and governments are over-extended with debt, crimping their ability to spend and potentially leading to a double-dip recession. The truth is probably somewhere in the middle. In our view, the economy should continue on a slowly improving path in 2011, although high unemployment and a weak housing market are likely to remain headwinds.

Regardless of the outcome, you will still receive the benefits from Edward Jones Advisory Solutions, including the detailed asset allocation, ongoing review and periodic rebalancing of your account. This will help to ensure you are properly diversified and that your asset allocation remains appropriate relative to your risk tolerance and objectives. Diversification cannot prevent losses, but it can help lessen their impact. We view this as a critical component in helping to keep you on track toward your goals, regardless of what 2011 brings.

- The investments in Advisory Solutions, including money market funds, are offered by prospectus. You should consider the investment objectives, risks and charges and expenses carefully before investing. The prospectus contains this and other information. Your Edward Jones financial advisor can provide a prospectus that should be read carefully before investing.
- As described in the Advisory Solutions Disclosure Document, Edward Jones serves as custodian of client assets. This report is not a brokerage statement and is only intended for illustrative purposes. To review your Edward Jones investment holdings, please refer to your brokerage statement.
- Clients participating in Advisory Solutions pay certain fees to Edward Jones as described below. In addition, Clients indirectly bear the internal fees and expenses of mutual funds, ETFs and money market funds. These internal fees vary depending on the investment and share class.
- Performance information represents past performance and is not an indication of future results. The account value is subject to market fluctuations such that, when withdrawn, it may be worth more or less than its original value. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance figures quoted. Performance information is derived from unaffiliated third parties and is believed to be accurate but is not independently verified by Edward Jones. Net returns reflect the deduction of Advisory Solutions Fees and the internal fees and expenses of mutual funds, ETFs and money market funds. Net returns also reflect the reinvestment of dividends and earnings. Gross returns do not reflect the deduction of Advisory Solutions Fees.

- Rebalancing of assets within an account participating in Advisory Solutions will be at the sole discretion of Edward Jones and occurs when an asset class drifts from its target allocation by more than a specified percentage.
- Indices listed are used as a general measure of market performance for a particular asset class or type. Securities indices assume reinvestment of all distributions and interest payments and do not take into account brokerage fees, taxes or investment management fees. If such fees and taxes were taken into account, they would have the effect of reducing performance. Securities in Your Portfolio will not be identical to those in the indices, and performance of Your Portfolio will differ. An index is not managed and is unavailable for direct investment.
- The rates of inflation (U.S. CPI) include an estimate for the last month in the reporting period.
- Money market funds are not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) or any other government agency. Although the fund is managed to preserve your investment at $1 per share, it is possible to lose money by investing in the fund. Money market funds are offered by prospectus. You should consider the investment objectives, risks and charges and expenses carefully before investing. The prospectus contains this and other information. Your Edward Jones financial advisor can provide a prospectus that should be read carefully before investing.
- Equity investments generally involve greater risk than fixed-income investments, including greater volatility. Diversification does not ensure a profit or protect against loss. All investments involve risk, including loss of principal amount invested.
- Investments in small- and mid-capitalization and emerging growth companies involve greater-than-average risk. Such securities may have limited marketability, and the issues may have limited product lines, markets, and financial resources. The value of such investments may fluctuate more widely than investments in larger, more established companies.
- International stocks contain additional risks that are not associated with U.S. domestic issues, such as changes in currency exchange rates and different governmental regulations, economic conditions, and accounting standards. For a complete discussion of the risks, please read the prospectus.

Disclosures and Definitions as of December 31, 2010

- Some mutual fund or ETF investments categorized as Niche Assets may include real estate investment trusts (REITs), natural resources such as gold or commodities, emerging markets and alternative investments registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940. Niche Assets may be less liquid and contain a higher risk of loss of principal than other forms of equity investments. There are additional risks (including currency, political, social and economic risks) and the potential for greater price swings associated with Niche Assets.
- High-yield bond funds invest in fixed-income securities that, at the time of purchase, are noninvestment-grade, involve greater price volatility and present greater risks than higher-rated fixed-income securities.

FEE INFORMATION:

Advisory Solutions Fee - Clients pay certain fees for participating in Advisory Solutions ("Advisory Solutions Fee"). The Advisory Solutions Fee for Clients who own taxable accounts and individual retirement accounts, other than tax-qualified accounts and accounts subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), will be comprised of a Program Fee and an Administrative Fee, less any Fee Offset that may be applied by Edward Jones. The Program Fee is for advisory services provided by Edward Jones under the terms of the Client Agreement. The Administrative Fee is for record-keeping, accounting services and other administrative services provided by Edward Jones.

The Advisory Solutions Fee for Clients who own employee benefit plans subject to ERISA pay only the Program Fee subject to the applicable fee schedule set forth in the Client Agreement.

Fee Offset - As described in Section 6 of the Advisory Solutions Disclosure Document, compensation may be received by Edward Jones from mutual fund companies, such as payments for marketing and distribution (referred to as Rule 12b-1 fees) and for shareholding accounting services. Such compensation will be used to satisfy or otherwise offset the Program Fee or the Administrative Fee, if applicable ("Fee Offset").

Compensation received from Rule 12b-1 fees will be applied as a Fee Offset against a Client's Advisory Solutions Fee equal to the amount of Rule 12b-1 fees received by Edward Jones with respect to the Account's actual investments.

Compensation for shareholder accounting services received by Edward Jones on taxable accounts and IRAs that are not subject to ERISA will be collected and then allocated as a Fee Offset proportionately to all taxable accounts and IRAs based upon the value of the account's holding of Program Funds. Compensation for shareholder accounting services received by Edward Jones on tax qualified accounts (other than IRAs) and IRAs subject to ERISA, will be applied against the account equal to the amount of shareholder accounting fees received by Edward Jones with respect to the Account's actual investments.

REPORT INFORMATION:

Market Commentary - Brief analysis of some of the factors impacting the performance of Your Portfolio during the quarter.

Account Summary - Basic representation of Your Portfolio, divided between Equities, Fixed Income, and Cash Equivalents.

Actual vs. Target Allocation - Comparison by Asset Class of the Actual Asset Allocation against its Target Allocation. Target Allocation is based upon the Portfolio Objective selected. The actual and target asset allocation weightings are based on the overarching mandate of the mutual funds/ETFs and may not be representative of the actual underlying holdings of the funds, as the underlying holdings may vary on a daily basis.

Asset Class Performance - This page illustrates performance returns for each Asset Class (gross of the Advisory Solutions Fee) along with that of Your Portfolio (net of the Advisory Solutions Fee and associated fund fees and expenses). Asset Class performance is calculated on Program List funds only.

Portfolio Performance vs. Market Indices - This page discloses the performance returns for Your Portfolio and multiple benchmarks.

Portfolio Growth - Tracks the value of Your Portfolio on a quarterly basis and discloses net additions/withdrawals, Advisory Solutions Fees paid and the gain/loss for each quarter. The gain/loss figure is calculated gross of fees. Ending market value is illustrated net of the Advisory Solutions Fee and associated fund fees and expenses.

Account Holdings - List of the securities held within the account as of quarter end. Information is grouped by Asset Class. Other details provided include fund style, market value and percent of total portfolio.

Note that in some instances, the market value summation of each individual asset class may not equal Your Total Portfolio amount. This is because Your Total Portfolio amount includes income earned but not yet paid while the individual security and asset class values only include income paid.

INDICES INFORMATION:

The following indices are used as benchmarks. Below you will find an explanation for each benchmark.

Consumer Price Index (CPI) - Measure of the average change in prices of a fixed "basket" of goods and services. The CPI is calculated monthly by the government to give insight on inflationary or deflationary trends.

BarCap Aggregate Bond Index - Measures the performance of government, mortgage-backed, asset-backed and corporate securities with at least one year to maturity.

BarCap Municipal Bond Index - This market-cap-weighted index includes investment-grade, tax-exempt bonds and is classified into four main sectors: General Obligation, Revenue, Insured and Pre-refunded. Bonds with floating rates (including derivative and residual interest securities) are excluded.

MSCI EAFE - A market weighted index maintained by Morgan Stanley Capital International comprised of foreign stocks from 21 developed markets (excluding US & Canada). Source: MSCI. MSCI makes no express or implied warranties or representations and shall have no liability whatsoever with respect to any MSCI data contained herein. The MSCI data may not be further redistributed or used to create indices or financial products. This report is not approved or produced by MSCI.

Russell 2000 Index - Following the Russell 1000 measurement of the 1,000 largest U.S. companies, this index measures the performance of the next 2,000 largest U.S. companies based on total market capitalization, representing approximately 8% of the invested U.S. equity market.

S&P 500 Total Index - A broad-based measurement of changes in stock market conditions based on the average performance of 500 widely held common stocks. While many of the stocks are among the largest, this index also includes many relatively small companies. It is a capitalization-weighted index (stock price times number of shares outstanding), calculated on a total return basis with dividends reinvested.

- If the phrase "we make a mkt in this security" appears on this confirmation, we have acted as principal functioning as a secondary market maker.
- If the phrase "unsolicited" appears on this confirmation, the transaction was conducted pursuant to an unsolicited order to buy or sell placed by the client.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.

THANK YOU FOR ALLOWING EDWARD JONES THE OPPORTUNITY TO SERVE YOU.

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:
Fannie Mae: 1-800-237-8627 or email: bestmbs@fanniemae.com
Freddie Mac: 1-800-336-3672 or email: Investor_Inquiry@FreddieMac.com

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:
Fannie Mae: 1-800-237-8627 or email: bestmbs@fanniemae.com
Freddie Mac: 1-800-336-3672 or email: Investor_Inquiry@FreddieMac.com
- For municipal securities transactions, you can obtain the official statement through the EMMA website. Simply enter the cusip number into the following internet address: [http://emma.msrb.org/securityview/securitydetails.aspx?cusip=\(enter the 9-digit cusip\)](http://emma.msrb.org/securityview/securitydetails.aspx?cusip=(enter the 9-digit cusip)). It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.

- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:
Fannie Mae: 1-800-237-8627 or email: bestmbs@fanniemae.com

Market Commentary as of September 30, 2010The Economy: Slowing or Growing?

The U.S. economy continues to send mixed messages, leading to widespread debate over the recovery's future. On one hand, the economy appears to have stalled. The housing market weakened as the tax credits for home purchases expired, while manufacturing activity moderated throughout the summer. With consumer confidence still low, investors questioned whether a deeper slowdown may be on the horizon.

However, several reports have helped alleviate these concerns. Retail sales and business spending have rebounded from their early quarter slowdowns. Continuing a trend from earlier quarters, corporate earnings have exceeded expectations. With a strong focus on productivity and expense control, business fundamentals continue to improve, with profit margins and cash balances both near record highs.*

So is the economy slowing or growing? The answer may be "yes" to both. The economy may have lost some of its initial momentum, but it continues to grow at a modest pace.

Standing in a Familiar Place

Interestingly, the past two economic recoveries (1991 and 2002) followed similar patterns. In each case, less than a year into the recovery, economic growth stalled, confidence waned, and job growth was lackluster, calling the recovery into question. However, after a brief pause, confidence and employment slowly improved, and the economy resumed its upward momentum. Although each recession faces unique challenges, this pattern of a brief economic slowdown early in the recovery is actually quite common.

Markets Turn Positive for the Year

Stocks posted solid gains in the third quarter, boosted by optimism that although economic growth has slowed, a double-dip recession looks unlikely. U.S. stocks rose 11% in the quarter, registering their best September since 1939, and are back in positive territory for the year.

International shares also rallied, rising 16%. Bond prices rose as well, with Treasury bonds rising 3%, corporate bonds up 5% and municipal bonds up 3%.*

Voting Machines and Weighing Machines

As we approach midterm elections, we're reminded of an analogy by legendary investor Ben Graham. He noted that in the short term, the market is a voting machine, driven by emotions, or "votes," that change based on the most recent piece of news. But over the long term, the market is a weighing machine, with the "weight" of corporate earnings, and earnings growth, becoming the key driver of market performance.

Notably, the "weight" of earnings continues to grow, as earnings have rebounded sharply over the past several quarters. However, investors have been voting in the other direction, turning to fixed income and cash with interest rates at record lows. In fact, even with this quarter's gains, stocks are trading near 15-year lows relative to corporate earnings. Interestingly, the current pessimism for stocks rivals the euphoria for them seen during the tech bubble, as investments into bond funds over the past few years have nearly equaled stock investments during the late 1990s.* This strategy did not work well in the late 1990s, and it could result in similar disappointment this time around.

To borrow some quotes from the Federal Reserve, we've moved from "irrational exuberance" in the 1990s to "unusual uncertainty" today. The recovery may have slowed, but this is fairly typical. And as highlighted by September's market performance, often the times of greatest opportunity occur when the environment appears the most uncertain.

Disclosures and Definitions as of September 30, 2010

IMPORTANT INFORMATION REGARDING EDWARD JONES ADVISORY SOLUTIONS:

DISCLOSURES:

If there have been changes in your financial situation or investment objectives, or if you wish to restrict certain mutual funds or ETFs in your Advisory Solutions account, please notify your Edward Jones financial advisor.

The Advisory Solutions Disclosure Document provides important information about the Edward Jones Advisory Solutions program and is given to Clients when an account participating in Advisory Solutions is opened and is also available upon request. To receive a copy please send a written request to the following address:

Advisory Solutions Operations
ATTN: DISCLOSURE DOCUMENT
8640 South River Parkway
Tempe, AZ 85284

- The investments in Advisory Solutions, including money market funds, are offered by prospectus. You should consider the investment objectives, risks and charges and expenses carefully before investing. The prospectus contains this and other information. Your Edward Jones financial advisor can provide a prospectus that should be read carefully before investing.
- As described in the Advisory Solutions Disclosure Document, Edward Jones serves as custodian of client assets. This report is not a brokerage statement and is only intended for illustrative purposes. To review your Edward Jones investment holdings, please refer to your brokerage statement.
- Clients participating in Advisory Solutions pay certain fees to Edward Jones as described below. In addition, Clients indirectly bear the internal fees and expenses of mutual funds, ETFs and money market funds. These internal fees vary depending on the investment and share class.
- Performance information represents past performance and is not an indication of future results. The account value is subject to market fluctuations such that, when withdrawn, it may be worth more or less than its original value. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance figures quoted. Performance information is derived from unaffiliated third parties and is believed to be accurate but is not independently verified by Edward Jones. Net returns reflect the deduction of Advisory Solutions Fees and the internal fees and expenses of mutual funds, ETFs and money market funds. Net returns also reflect the reinvestment of dividends and earnings. Gross returns do not reflect the deduction of Advisory Solutions Fees.

- Rebalancing of assets within an account participating in Advisory Solutions will be at the sole discretion of Edward Jones and occurs when an asset class drifts from its target allocation by more than a specified percentage.
- Indices listed are used as a general measure of market performance for a particular asset class or type. Securities indices assume reinvestment of all distributions and interest payments and do not take into account brokerage fees, taxes or investment management fees. If such fees and taxes were taken into account, they would have the effect of reducing performance. Securities in Your Portfolio will not be identical to those in the indices, and performance of Your Portfolio will differ. An index is not managed and is unavailable for direct investment.
- The rates of inflation (U.S. CPI) include an estimate for the last month in the reporting period.
- Money market funds are not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) or any other government agency. Although the fund is managed to preserve your investment at $1 per share, it is possible to lose money by investing in the fund. Money market funds are offered by prospectus. You should consider the investment objectives, risks and charges and expenses carefully before investing. The prospectus contains this and other information. Your Edward Jones financial advisor can provide a prospectus that should be read carefully before investing.
- Equity investments generally involve greater risk than fixed-income investments, including greater volatility. Diversification does not ensure a profit or protect against loss. All investments involve risk, including loss of principal amount invested.
- Investments in small- and mid-capitalization and emerging growth companies involve greater-than-average risk. Such securities may have limited marketability, and the issues may have limited product lines, markets, and financial resources. The value of such investments may fluctuate more widely than investments in larger, more established companies.
- International stocks contain additional risks that are not associated with U.S. domestic issues, such as changes in currency exchange rates and different governmental regulations, economic conditions, and accounting standards. For a complete discussion of the risks, please read the prospectus.

Disclosures and Definitions as of September 30, 2010

- Some mutual fund or ETF investments categorized as Niche Assets may include real estate investment trusts (REITs), natural resources such as gold or commodities, emerging markets and alternative investments registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940. Niche Assets may be less liquid and contain a higher risk of loss of principal than other forms of equity investments. There are additional risks (including currency, political, social and economic risks) and the potential for greater price swings associated with Niche Assets.
- High-yield bond funds invest in fixed-income securities that, at the time of purchase, are noninvestment-grade, involve greater price volatility and present greater risks than higher-rated fixed-income securities.

FEE INFORMATION:

Advisory Solutions Fee - Clients pay certain fees for participating in Advisory Solutions ("Advisory Solutions Fee"). The Advisory Solutions Fee for Clients who own taxable accounts and individual retirement accounts, other than tax-qualified accounts and accounts subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), will be comprised of a Program Fee and an Administrative Fee, less any Fee Offset that may be applied by Edward Jones. The Program Fee is for advisory services provided by Edward Jones under the terms of the Client Agreement. The Administrative Fee is for record-keeping, accounting services and other administrative services provided by Edward Jones.

The Advisory Solutions Fee for Clients who own employee benefit plans subject to ERISA pay only the Program Fee subject to the applicable fee schedule set forth in the Client Agreement.

Fee Offset - As described in Section 6 of the Advisory Solutions Disclosure Document, compensation may be received by Edward Jones from mutual fund companies, such as payments for marketing and distribution (referred to as Rule 12b-1 fees) and for shareholding accounting services. Such compensation will be used to satisfy or otherwise offset the Program Fee or the Administrative Fee, if applicable ("Fee Offset").

Compensation received from Rule 12b-1 fees will be applied as a Fee Offset against a Client's Advisory Solutions Fee equal to the amount of Rule 12b-1 fees received by Edward Jones with respect to the Account's actual investments.

Compensation for shareholder accounting services received by Edward Jones on taxable accounts and IRAs that are not subject to ERISA will be collected and then allocated as a Fee Offset proportionately to all taxable accounts and IRAs based upon the value of the account's holding of Program Funds. Compensation for shareholder accounting services received by Edward Jones on tax qualified accounts (other than IRAs) and IRAs subject to ERISA, will be applied against the account equal to the amount of shareholder accounting fees received by Edward Jones with respect to the Account's actual investments.

REPORT INFORMATION:

Market Commentary - Brief analysis of some of the factors impacting the performance of Your Portfolio during the quarter.

Account Summary - Basic representation of Your Portfolio, divided between Equities, Fixed Income, and Cash Equivalents.

Actual vs. Target Allocation - Comparison by Asset Class of the Actual Asset Allocation against its Target Allocation. Target Allocation is based upon the Portfolio Objective selected. The actual and target asset allocation weightings are based on the overarching mandate of the mutual funds/ETFs and may not be representative of the actual underlying holdings of the funds, as the underlying holdings may vary on a daily basis.

Asset Class Performance - This page illustrates performance returns for each Asset Class (gross of the Advisory Solutions Fee) along with that of Your Portfolio (net of the Advisory Solutions Fee and associated fund fees and expenses). Asset Class performance is calculated on Program List funds only.

Portfolio Performance vs. Market Indices - This page discloses the performance returns for Your Portfolio and multiple benchmarks.

Portfolio Growth - Tracks the value of Your Portfolio on a quarterly basis and discloses net additions/withdrawals, Advisory Solutions Fees paid and the gain/loss for each quarter. The gain/loss figure is calculated gross of fees. Ending market value is illustrated net of the Advisory Solutions Fee and associated fund fees and expenses.

Account Holdings - List of the securities held within the account as of quarter end. Information is grouped by Asset Class. Other details provided include fund style, market value and percent of total portfolio.

INDICES INFORMATION:

The following indices are used as benchmarks. Below you will find an explanation for each benchmark.

Consumer Price Index (CPI) - Measure of the average change in prices of a fixed "basket" of goods and services. The CPI is calculated monthly by the government to give insight on inflationary or deflationary trends.

Disclosures and Definitions as of September 30, 2010

BarCap Aggregate Bond Index - Measures the performance of government, mortgage-backed, asset-backed and corporate securities with at least one year to maturity.

BarCap Municipal Bond Index - This market-cap-weighted index includes investment-grade, tax-exempt bonds and is classified into four main sectors: General Obligation, Revenue, Insured and Pre-refunded. Bonds with floating rates (including derivative and residual interest securities) are excluded.

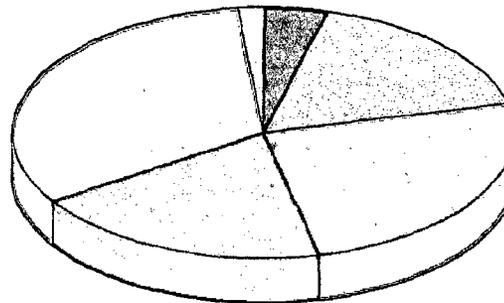

MSCI EAFE - A market weighted index maintained by Morgan Stanley Capital International comprised of foreign stocks from 21 developed markets (excluding US & Canada). Source: MSCI. MSCI makes no express or implied warranties or representations and shall have no liability whatsoever with respect to any MSCI data contained herein. The MSCI data may not be further redistributed or used to create indices or financial products. This report is not approved or produced by MSCI.

Russell 2000 Index - Following the Russell 1000 measurement of the 1,000 largest U.S. companies, this index measures the performance of the next 2,000 largest U.S. companies based on total market capitalization, representing approximately 8% of the invested U.S. equity market.

S&P 500 Total Index - A broad-based measurement of changes in stock market conditions based on the average performance of 500 widely held common stocks. While many of the stocks are among the largest, this index also includes many relatively small companies. It is a capitalization-weighted index (stock price times number of shares outstanding), calculated on a total return basis with dividends reinvested.

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:
Fannie Mae: 1-800-237-8627 or email: bestmbs@fanniemae.com
Freddie Mac: 1-800-336-3672 or email: Investor_Inquiry@FreddieMac.com

SHORT TERM TRADING FEES MAY BE CHARGED ON SALES OR EXCHANGES. PLEASE SEE THE FUND PROSPECTUS FOR DETAILED INFORMATION.

- If the phrase "we make a mkt in this security" appears on this confirmation, we have acted as principal functioning as a secondary market maker.
- If the phrase "unsolicited" appears on this confirmation, the transaction was conducted pursuant to an unsolicited order to buy or sell placed by the client.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.

THANK YOU FOR ALLOWING EDWARD JONES THE OPPORTUNITY TO SERVE YOU.

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:
Fannie Mae: 1-800-237-8627 or email: bestmbs@fanniemae.com
Freddie Mac: 1-800-336-3672 or email: Investor_Inquiry@FreddieMac.com
- For municipal securities transactions, you can obtain the official statement through the EMMA website. Simply enter the cusip number into the following internet address: [http://emma.msrb.org/securityview/securitydetails.aspx?cusip=\(enter the 9-digit cusip\)](http://emma.msrb.org/securityview/securitydetails.aspx?cusip=(enter the 9-digit cusip)). We will, upon your request, provide you with a paper copy of the official statement for your new issue municipal securities purchase, or, if you would like to establish a standing request for copies of official statements for all of your new issue municipal securities purchases. Please contact us with your explicit request at (800)441-2357.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2010, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $96.4 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $41.6 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $392.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

Mutual Fund Companies: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2010¹
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.29 ²	$0	$31.2 million
Federated Securities Corp. ^{3,4}	$10.00	$0	$0.5 million
Franklin Templeton Distributors, Inc. ⁴	$5.00	$8.00	$13.9 million

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2010 ¹
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.29 ²	$-	$-
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$53,000

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $26.67 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

³ Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2010 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco (see footnote 6), Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.

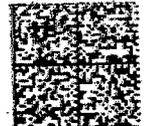

⁶ Van Kampen Funds, Inc. previously paid revenue sharing to Edward Jones. Van Kampen was purchased by Invesco effective May 28, 2010, and Invesco is now paying revenue sharing to Edward Jones at the rates reflected in the table.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:
Fannie Mae: 1-800-237-8627 or email: bestmbs@fanniemae.com
Freddie Mac: 1-800-336-3672 or email: Investor_Inquiry@FreddieMac.com
- For municipal securities transactions, you can obtain the official statement through the EMMA website. Simply enter the cusip number into the following internet address: [http://emma.msrb.org/securityview/securitydetails.aspx?cusip=\(enter the 9-digit cusip\)](http://emma.msrb.org/securityview/securitydetails.aspx?cusip=(enter the 9-digit cusip)). We will, upon your request, provide you with a paper copy of the official statement for your new issue municipal securities purchase, or, if you would like to establish a standing request for copies of official statements for all of your new issue municipal securities purchases. Please contact us with your explicit request at (800)441-2357.

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:
Fannie Mae: 1-800-237-8627 or email: bestmbs@fanniemae.com
Freddie Mac: 1-800-336-3672 or email: Investor_Inquiry@FreddieMac.com
- For municipal securities transactions, you can obtain the official statement through the EMMA website. Simply enter the cusip number into the following internet address: [http://emma.msrb.org/securityview/securitydetails.aspx?cusip=\(enter the 9-digit cusip\)](http://emma.msrb.org/securityview/securitydetails.aspx?cusip=(enter the 9-digit cusip)). We will, upon your request, provide you with a paper copy of the official statement for your new issue municipal securities purchase, or, if you would like to establish a standing request for copies of official statements for all of your new issue municipal securities purchases. - Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.

Market Commentary as of March 31, 2011Resilience in the Midst of Challenges

Investors were tested with a host of challenges as we entered the new year. Who could have imagined a few short months ago that in just the first quarter of 2011 alone there would be a crisis in Egypt, growing political unrest throughout the middle east, violence in Libya, oil prices approaching $110, an earthquake, tsunami and nuclear crisis in Japan, re-emergence of concerns about European debt and the potential for slowing growth in China? If you knew of these events in advance, you might have been tempted to move to the sidelines and wait until the dust settled.

As is usually the case with investing, markets have a way of confounding us. U.S. markets not only navigated these challenges but moved even higher. Continued solid economic growth, strong growth in corporate earnings, an improving job market, relatively low interest rates and inflation and growing investor confidence provided the fuel for continued upward trajectory in the markets. The steady improvement in the U.S. economy was able to overshadow many of the problems internationally.

Stock Market Rally Continues in First Quarter

After rising 26% in 2009 and another 15% in 2010, the S&P 500 index tacked on another 5.9% gain in the first quarter of 2011. This marks the strongest first quarter market performance since 1998, topping last year's first quarter gain of 5.0%. U.S. markets have shown their resiliency by overcoming global events of significant magnitude to continue marching higher.

Understanding a Few Investing Basics

Events of 2011 have provided us a great opportunity to review a few key lessons from our years of investing. First, Don't sell during a panic: we do not know what the future will bring, but the markets have shown resiliency. Decisions made in haste are often regretted later. Long-term investors know that staying invested has often been successful during past market declines.

Second, Have a plan and stick to it. Having thoughtfully considered your personal situation and choosing an appropriate asset allocation for your investments is the first step in this process. Periodic review to ensure the plan is still appropriate is another critical step. Through detailed asset allocation and periodic rebalancing, our goal in Edward Jones Advisory Solutions is to maintain proper diversification, regardless of the market environment.

Third, market corrections are a normal part of investing and happen with great regularity. Having this historical perspective and being mentally prepared for the next market downturn can help increase the likelihood you will stick with your plan. Remember, on average, a market "dip" of 5% or more happens 3 times per year, a market "correction" of 10% or more happens once a year and a "bear" market decline of 20% or more happens once every 3.5 years.

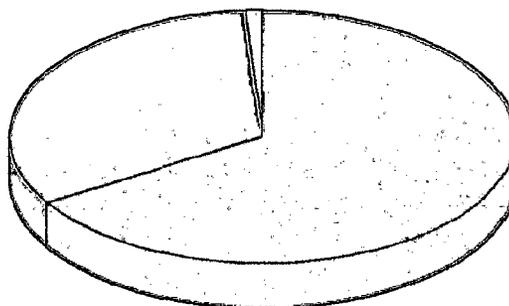

Stocks have rebounded significantly since the market bottomed in March 2009 and have almost doubled since that time. It is highly likely that sometime in the near future the market will take a breather or experience a dip or correction. This is normal and not a cause for panic. Make sure to review with your Edward Jones Financial Advisor any recent changes to your situation that would warrant revisiting your asset allocation. In addition, if you are interested in learning more about any of the topics covered in this quarterly review, talk to your Financial Advisor about getting copies of recent Edward Jones Market Insights reports that address these issues in more detail. Keep in mind that past performance does not guarantee future results.

Disclosures and Definitions as of March 31, 2011*IMPORTANT INFORMATION REGARDING EDWARD JONES ADVISORY SOLUTIONS:*DISCLOSURES:

If there have been changes in your financial situation or investment objectives, or if you wish to restrict certain mutual funds or ETFs in your Advisory Solutions account, please notify your Edward Jones financial advisor.

The Advisory Solutions Disclosure Document provides important information about the Edward Jones Advisory Solutions program and is given to Clients when an account participating in Advisory Solutions is opened and is also available upon request. To receive a copy please send a written request to the following address:

Advisory Solutions Operations
ATTN: DISCLOSURE DOCUMENT

Tempe, AZ 85284

- The investments in Advisory Solutions, including money market funds, are offered by prospectus. You should consider the investment objectives, risks and charges and expenses carefully before investing. The prospectus contains this and other information. Your Edward Jones financial advisor can provide a prospectus that should be read carefully before investing.
- As described in the Advisory Solutions Disclosure Document, Edward Jones serves as custodian of client assets. This report is not a brokerage statement and is only intended for illustrative purposes. To review your Edward Jones investment holdings, please refer to your brokerage statement.
- Clients participating in Advisory Solutions pay certain fees to Edward Jones as described below. In addition, Clients indirectly bear the internal fees and expenses of mutual funds, ETFs and money market funds. These internal fees vary depending on the investment and share class.
- Performance information represents past performance and is not an indication of future results. The account value is subject to market fluctuations such that, when withdrawn, it may be worth more or less than its original value. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance figures quoted. Performance information is derived from unaffiliated third parties and is believed to be accurate but is not independently verified by Edward Jones. Net returns reflect the deduction of Advisory Solutions Fees and the internal fees and expenses of mutual funds, ETFs and money market funds. Net returns also reflect the reinvestment of dividends and earnings. Gross returns do not reflect the deduction of Advisory Solutions Fees.

- Rebalancing of assets within an account participating in Advisory Solutions will be at the sole discretion of Edward Jones and occurs when an asset class drifts from its target allocation by more than a specified percentage.
- Indices listed are used as a general measure of market performance for a particular asset class or type. Securities indices assume reinvestment of all distributions and interest payments and do not take into account brokerage fees, taxes or investment management fees. If such fees and taxes were taken into account, they would have the effect of reducing performance. Securities in Your Portfolio will not be identical to those in the indices, and performance of Your Portfolio will differ. An index is not managed and is unavailable for direct investment.
- The rates of inflation (U.S. CPI) include an estimate for the last month in the reporting period.
- Money market funds are not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) or any other government agency. Although the fund is managed to preserve your investment at $1 per share, it is possible to lose money by investing in the fund. Money market funds are offered by prospectus. You should consider the investment objectives, risks and charges and expenses carefully before investing. The prospectus contains this and other information. Your Edward Jones financial advisor can provide a prospectus that should be read carefully before investing.
- Equity investments generally involve greater risk than fixed-income investments, including greater volatility. Diversification does not ensure a profit or protect against loss. All investments involve risk, including loss of principal amount invested.
- Investments in small- and mid-capitalization and emerging growth companies involve greater-than-average risk. Such securities may have limited marketability, and the issues may have limited product lines, markets, and financial resources. The value of such investments may fluctuate more widely than investments in larger, more established companies.
- International stocks contain additional risks that are not associated with U.S. domestic issues, such as changes in currency exchange rates and different governmental regulations, economic conditions, and accounting standards. For a complete discussion of the risks, please read the prospectus.

Disclosures and Definitions as of March 31, 2011

- Some mutual fund or ETF investments categorized as Niche Assets may include real estate investment trusts (REITs), natural resources such as gold or commodities, emerging markets and alternative investments registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940. Niche Assets may be less liquid and contain a higher risk of loss of principal than other forms of equity investments. There are additional risks (including currency, political, social and economic risks) and the potential for greater price swings associated with Niche Assets.
- High-yield bond funds invest in fixed-income securities that, at the time of purchase, are noninvestment-grade, involve greater price volatility and present greater risks than higher-rated fixed-income securities.

FEE INFORMATION:

Advisory Solutions Fee - Clients pay certain fees for participating in Advisory Solutions ("Advisory Solutions Fee"). The Advisory Solutions Fee for Clients who own taxable accounts and individual retirement accounts, other than tax-qualified accounts and accounts subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), will be comprised of a Program Fee and an Administrative Fee, less any Fee Offset that may be applied by Edward Jones. The Program Fee is for advisory services provided by Edward Jones under the terms of the Client Agreement. The Administrative Fee is for record-keeping, accounting services and other administrative services provided by Edward Jones.

The Advisory Solutions Fee for Clients who own employee benefit plans subject to ERISA pay only the Program Fee subject to the applicable fee schedule set forth in the Client Agreement.

Fee Offset - As described in Section 6 of the Advisory Solutions Disclosure Document, compensation may be received by Edward Jones from mutual fund companies, such as payments for marketing and distribution (referred to as Rule 12b-1 fees) and for shareholding accounting services. Such compensation will be used to satisfy or otherwise offset the Program Fee or the Administrative Fee, if applicable ("Fee Offset").

Compensation received from Rule 12b-1 fees will be applied as a Fee Offset against a Client's Advisory Solutions Fee equal to the amount of Rule 12b-1 fees received by Edward Jones with respect to the Account's actual investments.

Compensation for shareholder accounting services received by Edward Jones on taxable accounts and IRAs that are not subject to ERISA will be collected and then allocated as a Fee Offset proportionately to all taxable accounts and IRAs based upon the value of the account's holding of Program Funds. Compensation for shareholder accounting services received by Edward Jones on tax qualified accounts (other than IRAs) and IRAs subject to ERISA, will be applied against the account equal to the amount of shareholder accounting fees received by Edward Jones with respect to the Account's actual investments.

REPORT INFORMATION:

Market Commentary - Brief analysis of some of the factors impacting the performance of Your Portfolio during the quarter.

Account Summary - Basic representation of Your Portfolio, divided between Equities, Fixed Income, and Cash Equivalents.

Actual vs. Target Allocation - Comparison by Asset Class of the Actual Asset Allocation against its Target Allocation. Target Allocation is based upon the Portfolio Objective selected. The actual and target asset allocation weightings are based on the overarching mandate of the mutual funds/ETFs and may not be representative of the actual underlying holdings of the funds, as the underlying holdings may vary on a daily basis.

Asset Class Performance - This page illustrates performance returns for each Asset Class (gross of the Advisory Solutions Fee) along with that of Your Portfolio (net of the Advisory Solutions Fee and associated fund fees and expenses). Asset Class performance is calculated on Program List funds only.

Portfolio Performance vs. Market Indices - This page discloses the performance returns for Your Portfolio and multiple benchmarks.

Portfolio Growth - Tracks the value of Your Portfolio on a quarterly basis and discloses net additions/withdrawals, Advisory Solutions Fees paid and the gain/loss for each quarter. The gain/loss figure is calculated gross of fees. Ending market value is illustrated net of the Advisory Solutions Fee and associated fund fees and expenses.

Account Holdings - List of the securities held within the account as of quarter end. Information is grouped by Asset Class. Other details provided include fund style, market value and percent of total portfolio.

Note that in some instances, the market value summation of each individual asset class may not equal Your Total Portfolio amount. This is because Your Total Portfolio amount includes income earned but not yet paid while the individual security and asset class values only include income paid.

Disclosures and Definitions as of March 31, 2011

INDICES INFORMATION:

The following indices are used as benchmarks. Below you will find an explanation for each benchmark.

Consumer Price Index (CPI) - Measure of the average change in prices of a fixed "basket" of goods and services. The CPI is calculated monthly by the government to give insight on inflationary or deflationary trends.

BarCap Aggregate Bond Index - Measures the performance of government, mortgage-backed, asset-backed and corporate securities with at least one year to maturity.

BarCap Municipal Bond Index - This market-cap-weighted index includes investment-grade, tax-exempt bonds and is classified into four main sectors: General Obligation, Revenue, Insured and Pre-refunded. Bonds with floating rates (including derivative and residual interest securities) are excluded.

MSCI EAFE - A market weighted index maintained by Morgan Stanley Capital International comprised of foreign stocks from 21 developed markets (excluding US & Canada). Source: MSCI. MSCI makes no express or implied warranties or representations and shall have no liability whatsoever with respect to any MSCI data contained herein. The MSCI data may not be further redistributed or used to create indices or financial products. This report is not approved or produced by MSCI.

Russell 2000 Index - Following the Russell 1000 measurement of the 1,000 largest U.S. companies, this index measures the performance of the next 2,000 largest U.S. companies based on total market capitalization, representing approximately 8% of the invested U.S. equity market.

S&P 500 Total Index - A broad-based measurement of changes in stock market conditions based on the average performance of 500 widely held common stocks. While many of the stocks are among the largest, this index also includes many relatively small companies. It is a capitalization-weighted index (stock price times number of shares outstanding), calculated on a total return basis with dividends reinvested.

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:
Fannie Mae: 1-800-237-8627 or email: bestnbs@fanniemae.com

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:
Fannie Mae: 1-800-237-8627 or email: bestmbs@fanniemae.com
Freddie Mac: 1-800-336-3672 or email: Investor_Inquiry@FreddieMac.com
- For municipal securities transactions, you can obtain the official statement through the EMMA website. Simply enter the cusip number into the following internet address: [http://emma.msrb.org/securityview/securitydetails.aspx?cusip=\(enter the 9-digit cusip\)](http://emma.msrb.org/securityview/securitydetails.aspx?cusip=(enter the 9-digit cusip)). It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:
Fannie Mae: 1-800-237-8627 or email: bestmbs@fanniemae.com
Freddie Mac: 1-800-336-3672 or email: Investor_Inquiry@FreddieMac.com
- For municipal securities transactions, you can obtain the official statement through the EMMA website. Simply enter the cusip number into the following internet address: [http://emma.msrb.org/securityview/securitydetails.aspx?cusip=\(enter the 9-digit cusip\)](http://emma.msrb.org/securityview/securitydetails.aspx?cusip=(enter the 9-digit cusip)). We will, upon your request, provide you with a paper copy of the official statement for your new issue municipal securities purchase, or, if you would like to establish a standing request for copies of official statements for all of your new issue municipal securities purchases. It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2010, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $96.4 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $41.6 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $392.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

Mutual Fund Companies: Revenue Sharing Summary

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2010¹
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.29 ²	$-	$-
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$53,000

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $26.67 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

³ Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2010 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco (see footnote 6), Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.

⁶ Van Kampen Funds, Inc. previously paid revenue sharing to Edward Jones. Van Kampen was purchased by Invesco effective May 28, 2010, and Invesco is now paying revenue sharing to Edward Jones at the rates reflected in the table.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these product partners. For the year ended December 31, 2010, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $96.4 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $41.6 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $392.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $26.67 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

³ Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2010 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco (see footnote 6), Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.

⁶ Van Kampen Funds, Inc. previously paid revenue sharing to Edward Jones. Van Kampen was purchased by Invesco effective May 28, 2010, and Invesco is now paying revenue sharing to Edward Jones at the rates reflected in the table.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these product partners. For the year ended December 31, 2010, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $96.4 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $41.6 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $392.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $26.67 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

³ Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2010 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco (see footnote 6), Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.

⁶ Van Kampen Funds, Inc. previously paid revenue sharing to Edward Jones. Van Kampen was purchased by Invesco effective May 28, 2010, and Invesco is now paying revenue sharing to Edward Jones at the rates reflected in the table.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $26.67 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

³ Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2010 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco (see footnote 6), Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.

⁶ Van Kampen Funds, Inc. previously paid revenue sharing to Edward Jones. Van Kampen was purchased by Invesco effective May 28, 2010, and Invesco is now paying revenue sharing to Edward Jones at the rates reflected in the table.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2010, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $96.4 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $41.6 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $392.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2010¹
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.29 ²	$-	$-
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$53,000

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $26.67 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

³ Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2010 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco (see footnote 6), Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.

⁶ Van Kampen Funds, Inc. previously paid revenue sharing to Edward Jones. Van Kampen was purchased by Invesco effective May 28, 2010, and Invesco is now paying revenue sharing to Edward Jones at the rates reflected in the table.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2010, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $96.4 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $41.6 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $392.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2010, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $96.4 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $41.6 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $392.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

Mutual Fund Companies: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2010¹
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.29 ²	$	$31.2 million
Federated Securities Corp. ^{3,4}	$10.00	$0	$0.5 million
Franklin Templeton Distributors, Inc. ⁴	$5.00	$8.00	$13.9 million
Goldman Sachs Asset Management, L.P. ^{4,5}	$13.00	$0	$5.3 million
Hartford Investment Financial Services, LLC	$13.00	$0	$13.2 million
Invesco Distributors, Inc. ^{4,6}	$13.00	$0	$14.9 million
Lord Abbett Distributor LLC ⁴	$10.00	$0	$13.1 million
MFS Fund Distributors, Inc.	$9.00	$0	$1.3 million
OppenheimerFunds Distributor, Inc. ⁴	$13.00	$0	$2.7 million
Pioneer Funds Distributor, Inc.	$13.00	$0	$0.3 million

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2010¹
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.29 ²	$	$
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$53,000

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $26.67 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

³ Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2010 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco (see footnote 6), Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.

⁶ Van Kampen Funds, Inc. previously paid revenue sharing to Edward Jones. Van Kampen was purchased by Invesco effective May 28, 2010, and Invesco is now paying revenue sharing to Edward Jones at the rates reflected in the table.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2010 ¹
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.29 ²	$	$
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$53,000

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $26.67 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

³ Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2010 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco (see footnote 6), Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.

⁶ Van Kampen Funds, Inc. previously paid revenue sharing to Edward Jones. Van Kampen was purchased by Invesco effective May 28, 2010, and Invesco is now paying revenue sharing to Edward Jones at the rates reflected in the table.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2010, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $96.4 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $41.6 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $392.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $26.67 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

³ Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2010 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco (see footnote 6), Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.

⁶ Van Kampen Funds, Inc. previously paid revenue sharing to Edward Jones. Van Kampen was purchased by Invesco effective May 28, 2010, and Invesco is now paying revenue sharing to Edward Jones at the rates reflected in the table.

For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

Mutual Fund Companies: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2010¹
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.29 ²	$	$31.2 million
Federated Securities Corp. ^{3,4}	$10.00	$0	$0.5 million
Franklin Templeton Distributors, Inc. ⁴	$5.00	$8.00	$13.9 million
Goldman Sachs Asset Management, L.P. ^{4,5}	$13.00	$0	$5.3 million
Hartford Investment Financial Services, LLC	$13.00	$0	$13.2 million
Invesco Distributors, Inc. ^{4,6}	$13.00	$0	$14.9 million
Lord Abbett Distributor LLC ⁴	$10.00	$0	$13.1 million
MFS Fund Distributors, Inc.	$9.00	$0	$1.3 million
OppenheimerFunds Distributor, Inc. ⁴	$13.00	$0	$2.7 million
Pioneer Funds Distributor, Inc.	$13.00	$0	$0.3 million

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2010¹
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.29 ²	$	$
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$53,000

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $26.67 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

³ Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2010 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco (see footnote 6), Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.

⁶ Van Kampen Funds, Inc. previously paid revenue sharing to Edward Jones. Van Kampen was purchased by Invesco effective May 28, 2010, and Invesco is now paying revenue sharing to Edward Jones at the rates reflected in the table.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2010, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $96.4 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $41.6 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $392.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2010¹
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.29 ²	$	$
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$53,000

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $26.67 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

³ Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2010 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco (see footnote 6), Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.

⁶ Van Kampen Funds, Inc. previously paid revenue sharing to Edward Jones. Van Kampen was purchased by Invesco effective May 28, 2010, and Invesco is now paying revenue sharing to Edward Jones at the rates reflected in the table.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

Edward Jones receives payments known as revenue sharing from certain mutual fund companies, 529 plan program managers, insurance companies and retirement plan providers (collectively referred to as "product partners"). Virtually all of Edward Jones' transactions relating to mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans involve product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones. We want you to understand that Edward Jones' receipt of revenue sharing payments creates a potential conflict of interest in the form of an additional financial incentive and financial benefit to the firm, its financial advisors and equity owners in connection with the sale of products from these products partners. For the year ended December 31, 2010, Edward Jones received revenue sharing payments of approximately $96.4 million from mutual fund and 529 product partners and $41.6 million from insurance product partners. For that same period, Edward Jones' net income was $392.8 million.

Revenue sharing, as received by Edward Jones, involves a payment from a mutual fund company's adviser or distributor, a 529 plan program manager, an insurance company or the entity that markets an insurance contract, or a retirement plan provider. It is not an additional charge to you. These payments are in addition to standard sales loads, annual sales fees, expense reimbursements, sub-transfer agent fees for maintaining client account information and providing other administrative services for mutual funds (shareholder accounting and networking fees), and reimbursements for education, marketing support and training-related expenses.

Some product partners pay Edward Jones a fee based on the value of assets under management, known as an asset-based fee. For example, if you made a $10,000 purchase of an investment, held it for a year, and its value remained the same, Edward Jones would be paid by the product partner .075% or 7.5 basis points. That would translate to a $7.50 payment from the product partner to Edward Jones for the $10,000 investment in your account. For every subsequent year you held that $10,000 investment in your Edward Jones account, the product partner would make a $7.50 payment to Edward Jones, assuming no change in the value of your investment. Asset-based payments will increase or decrease from year to year with changes in the value of the related assets held by Edward Jones' clients.

Other product partners may pay Edward Jones a one-time fee based on the amount of the product sold. This approach is referred to as a sales-based fee and is based on the dollar value of your purchase. For example, the product partner may pay Edward Jones .25% or 25 basis points for each dollar you invest or use to purchase a product. Therefore, if you made a $10,000 investment, the product partner would pay Edward Jones $25 for that transaction. Finally, some insurance companies pay annual servicing fees or similar compensation to Edward Jones in connection with insurance products.

Most, but not all, of the product partners that pay revenue sharing to Edward Jones have been designated as preferred product partners by Edward Jones. This designation means that Edward Jones has determined these product partners have a broad spectrum of investment and insurance solutions designed to meet a variety of client needs. Edward Jones grants preferred product partners greater access to certain information about its business practices. In addition, these product partners have frequent interactions with our financial advisors to provide training, marketing support and educational presentations. Non-preferred product partners that pay revenue sharing may receive similar treatment. With regard to insurance, Edward Jones' financial advisors have limited access to the products and services of other insurance carriers. Additionally, while Edward Jones financial advisors may sell, and our clients are free to select, funds from many mutual fund families, we exclusively promote mutual fund preferred product partners on our website. The vast majority of mutual funds, 529 plans, insurance products and retirement plans sold by Edward Jones involve preferred product partners, and, as noted above, each of these product partners pays revenue sharing to Edward Jones. The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold on the following revenue sharing summary tables.

Detailed information and disclosures concerning revenue sharing received from product partners are included in the following revenue sharing summary tables.

For additional information on a particular product partner's payment and compensation practices, please review the applicable prospectus, statement of additional information or offering statement.

Mutual Fund Companies: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2010¹
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.29 ²	$-	$31.2 million
Federated Securities Corp. ^{3,4}	$10.00	$0	$0.5 million
Franklin Templeton Distributors, Inc. ⁴	$5.00	$8.00	$13.9 million
Goldman Sachs Asset Management, L.P. ^{4,5}	$13.00	$0	$5.3 million

529 Plan Program Managers: Revenue Sharing Summary
Paid by	Maximum Annual Asset Fees (Based on $10,000 of fund assets owned)	Maximum Sales Fees (Per $10,000 of fund assets purchased)	Total Earned during 2010¹
American Funds Distributors, Inc.	$2.29 ²	$	$
Upromise Investments, Inc.	$12.50	$0	$53,000

The names of preferred product partners are shown in bold in both tables.

¹ The amounts earned have been reported under the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

² For the purposes of computing the annualized amount per $10,000 of assets, Edward Jones has categorized the entire revenue sharing arrangement with American Funds Distributors, Inc. ("American Funds") as an asset fee because American Funds has not distinguished to Edward Jones the breakdown of the revenue arrangement between asset fees and sales fees. If the entire revenue sharing arrangement was categorized as sales fees, the amount would be $26.67 per $10,000 purchased. American Funds has not distinguished the portion of its annual revenue sharing payment that is attributable to Edward Jones' sales of interests in the 529 plan for which American Funds is the program manager.

³ Federated and Edward Jones jointly own the investment adviser to the taxable Edward Jones Money Market Fund and the Edward Jones Tax-Free Money Market Fund, with Edward Jones holding a 49.5% limited partnership interest. The foregoing table does not include any amounts earned by or paid to Edward Jones related to its or Federated's ownership of the adviser. Please refer to the funds' prospectuses for further information.

⁴ As reflected in the Total Earned during 2010 column, Edward Jones receives revenue sharing payments in connection with retirement plans sponsored by Federated, Franklin Templeton, Goldman Sachs, Invesco (see footnote 6), Lord Abbett and Oppenheimer, or for holdings in these entities' mutual funds that are included in other retirement plans sold by Edward Jones.

⁵ Goldman Sachs was removed as a preferred product partner on April 28, 2011.

⁶ Van Kampen Funds, Inc. previously paid revenue sharing to Edward Jones. Van Kampen was purchased by Invesco effective May 28, 2010, and Invesco is now paying revenue sharing to Edward Jones at the rates reflected in the table.

Detailed information concerning revenue sharing payments received from insurance and annuity product providers is available at www.edwardjones.com.

It is agreed between Edward Jones ("Broker") and the client

- That all orders are received and executed subject to the rules and customs of the market or exchange (and its clearing house, if any) where order is executed.
- All securities purchased or received for the client's account and not paid for in full may be loaned by the Broker or used by it in making deliveries or substitutions, or may be pledged by the Broker either separately or together with other client securities for the sum due hereon without further notice to the client.
- Should payment for purchases or delivery of sold securities be delayed beyond the settlement date or when in the Broker's judgment it appears necessary for its protection, the Broker at its option, without notice to the client may cancel, sell out or buy in the described security and the client shall be held liable for any loss incurred.
- All statements of account rendered to the client from time to time are acknowledged by the client to be correct unless written notice of exception thereto be given Edward Jones within five days after their receipt.
- Unless you indicate your non-acquiescence in writing, this agreement shall also inure to the benefit of the successors of Edward Jones.

Please note the following:

- We confirm the above transaction subject to the disclosures on the front and reverse side. This confirm shall be deemed correct in all aspects unless written notice of any inaccuracy is promptly sent to us. Failure to notify us constitutes your acceptance of this transaction.
- For odd-lot transactions, an odd-lot differential may have been charged and such amount will be furnished upon request.
- For debt securities transactions, call features may exist which could affect yield; additional information available upon request.
- For zero coupon transactions, no periodic payment and callable below maturity value, without notice by mail to holder unless registered.
- For agency transactions, the name of the other broker or party to the transaction will be furnished upon request; for agency and principal transactions, the time of execution will be furnished upon request.
- For asset backed security transactions, the actual yield of the security may vary according to the rate at which the underlying receivables or other financial assets are prepaid. A statement concerning the factors that affect yield (including estimated yield, weighted average life and prepayment assumptions underlying yield) will be furnished upon request.
- From time to time we may receive other remuneration on agency trades from other sources.
- For purchases of FNMA and Freddie Mac securities, additional pool information is available by contacting the appropriate issuer:
Fannie Mae: 1-800-237-8627 or email: bestmbs@fanniemae.com
Freddie Mac: 1-800-336-3672 or email: Investor_Inquiry@FreddieMac.com

Dear Investor:

Thank you for contacting BNY Mellon Shareowner Services regarding the availability of a dividend reinvestment program for shareholders of MetLife, Inc. common stock.

Unfortunately, MetLife does not provide the option for dividend reinvestment. In accordance with the guidelines governing the MetLife Policyholder Trust, approved as part of MetLife's Plan of Reorganization, dividend reinvestment is not permitted. However, if in the future, the rules governing the Trust are amended to provide for the offering of a dividend reinvestment program, all shareholders will be appropriately notified.

If you have any additional questions or concerns, please call our Customer Service Center at 1-800-649-3593. You may also access your MetLife, Inc. common stock account on the Internet at

RE: Policy # 21 282 000 A Insured: Elmer H Brunsting

Dear Mr. Brunsting,

Thank you for calling our toll-free number and giving us the opportunity to be of service to you.

The cash surrender value of the above-numbered policy was determined as of March 28, 2004.

Items Payable:

Cash Value of Insurance
Regular Insurance	7440.77
Additional Insurance	444.54
Total Cash Surrender Value	$7885.31
Face Value of Policy	$9141.00
Death Benefit as of 03/28/04	$9635.49
Premium Paid To Date	03/28/04
Premium Amount	$207.59
Frequency of Payment	Annual
Dividend Option	Additional Insurance

The cash value may be obtained by filling out the enclosed request form and sending the form to your MetLife representative or to the address printed on the back of the form. The enclosed form should be signed by Elmer H Brunsting.

However, we urge you to carefully consider any decision to surrender this insurance. The reasons you bought this insurance may still exist, and new insurance may not be available at as low a cost.

If you request the cash value of this policy, $8433.77 of the proceeds will be taxable as ordinary income. In general, this amount is based on the cash surrender value available (including any existing loan and interest), less the net premiums paid. As this policy would have a taxable gain upon surrender, be sure to complete the Withholding Election section of the attached form and provide your Social Security Number.

The cost basis for this policy is $ 0.00.

As an alternative, you may want to consider taking a loan out on this policy. A loan is available at a fixed interest rate of 5.00%. To determine the loan amount available please contact your local sales office.

For questions or service, about this or any other policies you may have, please contact your MetLife Account Representative or call 1+800+MET-5000 (1+800+638-5000). Our busiest day is Monday, so it is best to call Tuesday through Friday, if possible.

One of the most attractive features of your life insurance policy is that it pays dividends. MetLife shares a portion of its surplus (earnings) with policyholders through the distribution of declared policy dividends. We've paid dividends without interruption since 1915. Each year dividends are credited to your policy provided premiums are paid to the policy's anniversary date.

Here are the dividend options offered by MetLife:

- Additional Paid-Up Insurance—You can use your dividends to add to your insurance coverage through the purchase of additional paid-up insurance. Paid-up insurance provides you with more life insurance coverage without having to pay additional out-of-pocket premium payments and without having to take a medical exam. In addition, paid-up insurance has an immediate cash value, which grows on a tax-deferred basis over time. This dividend option is not considered taxable as long as you do not cash in the additional insurance.
- Dividends with Interest—You can leave your dividends on deposit the way you do with a savings account. Interest is earned on these funds and the total amount of your Dividend with Interest balance grows over time. Each year we will send you and the Internal Revenue Service an official tax report (1099-INT) showing the taxable interest. Moreover, if dividends under this option plus other policy payments received in cash exceed your investment, future dividends would be taxable.
- Premium Reduction—You can apply your dividends to pay all or part of your premium.
- Cash Payments—You can receive a check for the amount of your dividend.
- One-Year Term Coverage—You can use your dividends to purchase one-year term coverage, which can be an inexpensive way to increase your insurance protection. (Not available on all policies.)

Your insurance policy describes your contractual rights and includes complete information regarding the dividend options that are available.

If you wish to change your dividend option, simply contact your local MetLife representative at the telephone number listed on the front of this statement.

RE: Policy # 21 282 000 A Insured: ELMER H BRUNSTING

Dear Mr. Brunsting,

We have received your request for a dividend withdrawal.

The taxable portion of this payment for 2004 is $233.92. This amount is subject to federal income tax withholding at the rate of ten percent (10%) in the year the payment is made.

You may elect not to have withholding apply. To make an election, please complete the lower portion of this notice. In making your election, please be aware that if you are required to file an estimated tax return under the estimated tax payment rules, you may be subject to penalties. This would occur if your tax payments, in addition to any amounts withheld by us, are not sufficient to satisfy your tax liabilities.

If we are not provided with your election within fifteen days of the date of this letter, we will withhold federal income tax from any taxable portion of your payment.

Sincerely,

Alicia Houle

One of the most attractive features of your life insurance policy is that it pays dividends. MetLife shares a portion of its surplus (earnings) with policyholders through the distribution of declared policy dividends. We've paid dividends without interruption since 1915. Each year dividends are credited to your policy provided premiums are paid to the policy's anniversary date.

Here are the dividend options offered by MetLife :

- Additional Paid-Up Insurance—You can use your dividends to add to your insurance coverage through the purchase of additional paid-up insurance. Paid-up insurance provides you with more life insurance coverage without having to pay additional out-of-pocket premium payments and without having to take a medical exam. In addition, paid-up insurance has an immediate cash value, which grows on a tax-deferred basis over time. This dividend option is not considered taxable as long as you do not cash in the additional insurance.
- Dividends with Interest—You can leave your dividends on deposit the way you do with a savings account. Interest is earned on these funds and the total amount of your Dividend with Interest balance grows over time. Each year we will send you and the Internal Revenue Service an official tax report (1099-INT) showing the taxable interest. Moreover, if dividends under this option plus other policy payments received in cash exceed your investment, future dividends would be taxable.
- Premium Reduction—You can apply your dividends to pay all or part of your premium.
- Cash Payments—You can receive a check for the amount of your dividend.
- One-Year Term Coverage—You can use your dividends to purchase one-year term coverage, which can be an inexpensive way to increase your insurance protection. (Not available on all policies.)

Your insurance policy describes your contractual rights and includes complete information regarding the dividend options that are available.

If you wish to change your dividend option, simply contact your local MetLife representative at the telephone number listed on the front of this statement.

Notice of Right to Withdraw from the MetLife Policyholder Trust

In accordance with Section 5.4(a) of the MetLife Policyholder Trust Agreement, beginning on April 7, 2001 and lasting until the termination of the Trust, you may elect to withdraw all (but not less than all) of your Trust Shares from the Trust in exchange for all of your Trust Interests. If you make a withdrawal election, your Trust Interests will be reduced to zero and shares of MetLife, Inc. common stock will be issued to you in uncertificated form, subject to applicable law. You will receive a statement reflecting ownership of your uncertificated shares, which will provide a means to transfer the withdrawn shares to a brokerage account or request a stock certificate to be issued to you for these shares. Shares will be issued to you within five business days after receipt of a completed withdrawal election. MetLife, Inc. will pay the fees and expenses related to a share withdrawal. Please use the form below if you choose to make a withdrawal election. Once a withdrawal election has been delivered, it cannot be revoked.

Shares will not be issued in exchange for fractional Trust Shares. Instead, you will be paid an amount in cash equal to the value of the fractional share based on the current market value of a whole share of MetLife, Inc. common stock. The current market value will be equal to the average of the high and low prices during regular trading hours on the trading day immediately preceding the day your withdrawal election is received.

Once you have withdrawn shares of common stock from the Trust, you may no longer participate in the Trust's commission-free Purchase and Sale Program. Under the Program, subject to limitations, you may sell your Trust Interests and receive the proceeds, and, if you own less than 1,000 shares, you may buy more shares of common stock to be held for you in the Trust, all on a commission-free basis. Trust Beneficiaries may vote withdrawn shares of common stock on any matters on which stockholders are entitled to vote.

Changes in Voting Rights of Trust Beneficiaries for Shares Held in the Trust

Special rules and procedures have been established under our demutualization plan to determine how Wilmington Trust Company, the current trustee of the Trust, will vote the Trust Shares on matters put to a vote of the stockholders of MetLife, Inc. In accordance with these rules, the voting rights of Trust Beneficiaries will change on April 7, 2001, the first anniversary of the demutualization. As a Trust Beneficiary, you will continue to be able to instruct the trustee on how to vote the Trust Shares held for you in the Trust on the following matters:

- An election or removal of directors of MetLife, Inc. in which a stockholder has nominated or is opposed to one or more candidates for election as directors of MetLife, Inc., or seeks to remove one or more directors of MetLife, Inc. for cause (but only if that stockholder has met conditions set forth in MetLife, Inc.'s certificate of incorporation, by-laws and the Trust agreement).
- A merger or consolidation, a sale, lease or exchange of all or substantially all of the property or assets of MetLife, Inc., or a recapitalization or dissolution of MetLife, Inc., in each case, if it requires a vote of MetLife, Inc. stockholders under applicable Delaware law.
- Any transaction that would result in an exchange or conversion of the Trust Shares for cash, securities or other property.
- A proposal requiring the board of directors of MetLife, Inc. to amend MetLife, Inc.'s stockholder rights plan or redeem rights under the plan, other than a proposal with respect to which MetLife, Inc. has received advice of nationally-recognized legal counsel to the effect that the proposal is not a proper subject for stockholder action under Delaware law.

Effective April 7, 2001, however, you will no longer be able to instruct the Trustee on how to vote the Trust Shares on the following matters, although you were able to do so until that date:

- Issuance of MetLife, Inc. common stock at a price materially less than the prevailing market price (other than issuance in an underwritten public offering or pursuant to an employee benefit plan) if a vote is required under applicable Delaware law.
- Any matter that requires approval by more than a majority of the outstanding stock of MetLife, Inc. entitled to vote on the matter (which, under MetLife Inc.'s certificate of incorporation and by-laws, would include only an amendment of certain specified sections of the certificate of incorporation and the by-laws; any of those amendments would require approval of holders of at least three-quarters of the outstanding stock of MetLife, Inc. entitled to vote generally in the election of directors).
- An amendment to the certificate of incorporation or by-laws of MetLife, Inc. that is submitted to MetLife, Inc.'s stockholders for approval.

You will be mailed a notice of the outcome of any of these matters that has been approved by the stockholders.

To continue your participation in the Trust, NO ACTION IS REQUIRED.
THIS IS NOT A POLICY NOTICE AND DOES NOT AFFECT YOUR POLICY IN ANY WAY.

IMPORTANT! Read Me First!

As you may already know, MetLife is pursuing conversion from a mutual insurance company to a stock insurance company (a process called demutualization) in order to best position the company for long-term growth and increased financial strength. As an eligible MetLife policyholder or annuity contractholder ("policyholder") you are receiving these materials because you are entitled to vote on the demutualization plan. It is very important for you to know that our conversion to a stock insurance company WILL NOT IN ANY WAY DIMINISH your insurance or annuity protection under your MetLife policy or contract.

You will be eligible to receive compensation in the form of stock, cash or policy credits if the demutualization plan becomes effective. To become effective, the demutualization plan must be approved by at least two-thirds of eligible policyholders who vote and by the New York State Superintendent of Insurance following a public hearing on the Plan held by the Superintendent.

Please carefully review all the enclosed materials, complete cards 1-3 and return them in the envelope provided so that we receive them by February 7, 2000. If we do not receive the ballot card (card #2) or form of compensation card (card #3) by that date, your vote or election to receive cash instead of stock will not count.

If you have any questions or need help with any of the materials contained in this package, you may call us toll-free at 1-800-649-3593 or write us at Metlife, c/o ChaseMellon Shareholder Services, Individual Business Correspondence, P.O. Box 4444, South Hackensack, NJ 07606-2044. If you write, please include on any correspondence your investor ID number located in the top right hand corner on your ballot and personalized information cards.

The following checklist outlines all the materials contained in this packet. If any materials are missing, please call the above listed toll-free number:

- Chairman's Letter
A message from MetLife Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Robert H. Benmosche explaining what MetLife is doing and how it affects you.
- Ballot and Personalized Information Cards – Taxpayer Information Card (card #1), Ballot Card (card #2), Form of Compensation Card (card #3) and Policy Information Card (card #4). Read both sides of these cards and complete cards 1-3 as indicated.
- Return Envelope (postage paid)
For you to send the completed and signed cards 1-3.
- Read Me First
 - Policyholder Questions & Answers
Brief answers to the most frequently asked questions about the MetLife demutualization plan. (See pages 2-4 of this booklet.)
 - Ballot and Personalized Information Cards Instruction Guide
Instructions on how to complete the ballot and personalized information cards and information about taxpayer identification requirements. (See pages 6-7 and 11-12 of this booklet.)
 - Important Notices
Details about the vote on MetLife's demutualization and the New York State Superintendent of Insurance's public hearing on the demutualization plan, as well as a letter from the New York State Insurance Department. (See pages 5 and 8-10 of this booklet.)
- Policyholder Information Booklet Part One
This booklet contains information about the demutualization and a copy of the demutualization plan.
- Policyholder Information Booklet Part Two
This booklet contains information about MetLife and its business, including financial statements.

Policyholder Questions and Answers

Here are answers to the questions frequently asked about MetLife's demutualization. Additional information can be found in the Policyholder Information Booklet included with these materials.

1. Why is MetLife planning to convert from a mutual insurance company to a stock insurance company (a process known as demutualization)?

MetLife's Board of Directors determined that converting to a stock insurance company increases MetLife's potential for long-term growth and financial strength in ways not available to it as a mutual insurance company. The Board believes that, by becoming a stock insurance company, MetLife can raise money more efficiently and have greater flexibility to make acquisitions. The Board also believes that this will enable MetLife to increase its market leadership, financial strength and strategic position, providing additional security to policyholders.

2. How does demutualization affect MetLife policyholders?

Conversion to a stock insurance company will not diminish your insurance or annuity protection under your MetLife policy or contract. In other words, it will not diminish the benefits, values, guarantees or premiums under your MetLife policy or contract, and it will not change dividend eligibility under your policy or contract (if you are currently eligible to receive policy or contract dividends). However, if you receive policy credits (adjustments to policy values) as your compensation in the demutualization you will receive an increase in your policy benefits.

Conversion to a stock insurance company will result in payment of compensation to those policyholders whose policies were in force on September 28, 1999.

3. Can you tell me more about the compensation I will receive?

If your policy or contract with MetLife was in force on September 28, 1999 you will be eligible to receive compensation if the demutualization plan takes effect. Compensation will be made in the form of common stock of MetLife, Inc. (the new holding company of MetLife), cash, or policy credits. At a minimum, you will receive an allocation of 10 shares of common stock or an equivalent amount of cash or policy credits. If you receive cash or policy credits, the amount of your compensation generally will be equal to the number of shares allocated to you multiplied by the IPO price per share. (For further explanation about the IPO, please see Question 4.)

- Policyholders who are to receive shares of MetLife, Inc. common stock will be mailed a notice of their total number of shares of stock at least 14 days prior to the IPO. All other eligible policyholders will receive cash or notice of their policy credit compensation within 60 days following the IPO.
- On or after January 30, 2000, you can inquire about the total number of shares allocated to you by calling MetLife at 1-800-649-3593.

(For further explanation about the compensation you will receive, please see Policyholder Information Booklet Part One, pages 18-25.)

4. What happens before and during the demutualization?

The most important events that must take place are:

- The demutualization plan must be adopted by the Board of Directors. This occurred on September 28, 1999.
- The demutualization plan must be submitted to a vote of eligible policyholders like you. Two-thirds of those policyholders that cast a vote must indicate Yes in order for the Plan to be approved. (No minimum number of votes is required for the results to be valid.)

- The New York State Superintendent of Insurance must approve the demutualization plan, but only after he conducts a public hearing on the Plan. Details about the public hearing are included in this document.

Assuming approval by both policyholders and the Superintendent:

- MetLife's demutualization will become effective upon the completion of the initial public offering (IPO) of the common stock of the new holding company, MetLife, Inc. The IPO must take place within 12 months after the Superintendent's approval of the Plan unless this period is extended by MetLife with the approval of the Superintendent. Concurrently with the IPO, MetLife may raise additional capital by selling other capital instruments as described in the Plan. (Please see Policyholder Information Booklet Part One, pages 35-40.)
- When the demutualization takes effect, eligible policyholders will be entitled to compensation in the form of common stock of MetLife, Inc., cash or policy credits in exchange for their MetLife membership rights (which include the right to vote and to participate in any distribution of surplus if MetLife is liquidated), which will be extinguished. Policyholders receiving stock will have their stock transferred to the MetLife Policyholder Trust and held for their benefit. (For further explanation of the Policyholder Trust, please see Question 5 and Policyholder Information Booklet Part One, pages 25-34.)

5. Why does MetLife's demutualization utilize a policyholder trust?

MetLife projects that its initial shareholder base may exceed 10 million – several times greater than that of today's largest publicly held companies. The company proposes to establish a MetLife Policyholder Trust to enable the efficient and orderly administration of stockholder accounts and in order to reduce costs related to such an unprecedented large number of shareholders. If you are to receive shares of stock as compensation, your shares will be placed in the Trust and you will be a beneficiary of the Trust. The Trust will hold the shares on your behalf.

6. If my stock is held in the Trust, will I be able to sell or obtain my stock in the future?

Yes. If you leave your stock in the Trust after the IPO, you may sell that stock at the prevailing market price at any time beginning shortly after the IPO on a commission-free basis, subject to certain restrictions, through MetLife's Purchase and Sale Program. You will receive additional information regarding this Program, including any selling restrictions, prior to the IPO. Starting with the first anniversary after the IPO, you may also withdraw your shares, but once you withdraw your shares from the Trust you will no longer be eligible for the commission-free Purchase and Sale Program. (For further explanation about the Purchase and Sale Program, please see Policyholder Information Booklet Part One, pages 27-29.)

7. Is there a program for purchasing additional shares on a commission-free basis?

Yes. Policyholders whose stock is held in the Trust will be able to purchase additional shares on a commission-free basis beginning 90 days after the IPO through the Purchase and Sale Program, provided that their total holdings do not exceed 1,000 shares. (For further explanation about the Purchase and Sale Program, please see Policyholder Information Booklet Part One, pages 27-29.)

8. Will there be tax consequences of receiving stock, or cash or policy credits?

In general, if you receive shares of stock held for your benefit in the Policyholder Trust you will not be taxed. You will be taxed when you sell your shares. Generally, if you receive cash in the demutualization, you will be taxed on the full amount you receive, usually in the year you receive it. If you receive policy credits, you will not be taxed. However, the amount you are ultimately paid on your policy will be taxable when you receive it in accordance with the rules governing distribution of benefits under your policy. For definitive answers for your personal situation, we urge you to consult your tax advisor. (For further explanation about tax consequences, please see Policyholder Information Booklet Part One, pages 51-56.)

9. How will MetLife be structured after the demutualization?

Upon conversion, the ownership of MetLife will be transferred to our newly formed holding company, MetLife, Inc. In other words, MetLife will become a wholly owned subsidiary of the holding company. At the time of the IPO, the shareholders of MetLife, Inc. will consist of the Trust, which will hold shares of stock on behalf of the Trust beneficiaries, and investors who purchase stock at the IPO. Following the IPO, others may purchase shares of MetLife, Inc. stock. MetLife, Inc. stock will be traded on a major stock exchange.

10. If I prefer to receive cash instead of stock at the time of the IPO, how do I communicate my choice?

Policyholders who are eligible to receive stock may elect to receive cash instead. To do this, you must mark the "elect cash" box on the enclosed form of compensation card (card #3), sign the card and place it in the enclosed postage-paid envelope along with cards #1 and #2. Cards #2 and #3 must be received by 4:00 p.m. (EST) on February 7, 2000. Please note that all instructions are on the card. If you do not mark the "elect cash" box or if your election is not received by the deadline, your shares will be held for you in the Trust.

11. Will MetLife management become entitled to receive compensation as a result of the demutualization?

The officers, directors and employees of MetLife and its affiliates will not receive stock or cash compensation at the time of the demutualization other than what they may receive as eligible policyholders of MetLife. In the future, MetLife intends to provide stock-based compensation, including stock options, to officers, directors and employees as part of their annual compensation and to provide grants of stock to non-employee directors in lieu of certain directors' fees. Officers, directors and employees may not receive stock options or grants for one year after the demutualization and may not sell the stock or exercise the stock options until two years after the demutualization. (For further information, please see Policyholder Information Booklet Part One, pages 40-44.)

12. How long will it take before MetLife will conduct an IPO?

We currently expect that the IPO will take place within the first quarter of next year. The actual timing will be based upon prevailing conditions in the stock market, but will be within 12 months of the New York State Superintendent of Insurance's approval of the Plan, unless this period is extended by MetLife with the approval of the Superintendent. Until the IPO, MetLife will continue to operate as mutual insurance company.

13. How can eligible policyholders vote?

You can vote by mail by marking your ballot card (card #2) Yes or No, signing it and placing it in the enclosed postage-paid envelope, along with card #1. Mark and return card #3 if you want to elect to receive cash instead of stock. Cards #2 and #3 must be received by 4:00 p.m. (EST), on February 7, 2000. If you prefer to vote in person, you may come to MetLife headquarters, One Madison Avenue (entrance on Park Avenue South between 23rd and 24th Streets), 1st Floor, New York, NY 10010 and cast your ballot between 10:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. (EST), on February 7, 2000.

14. What happens if the Plan is not approved by policyholders or the Superintendent?

In that case, MetLife will remain a mutual insurance company and no compensation will be paid.

NOTICE OF A SPECIAL VOTE OF POLICYHOLDERS ON A PROPOSAL TO APPROVE THE PLAN OF REORGANIZATION TO CONVERT FROM A MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY TO A STOCK INSURANCE COMPANY

As an eligible policyholder of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company (MetLife), a New York mutual life insurance company, you are being asked to vote on a proposal to approve the Plan of Reorganization adopted by the Board of Directors of MetLife on September 28, 1999 and as amended by amendment adopted on November 16, 1999. In order for the Plan to be approved, at least two-thirds of the votes validly cast by eligible policyholders must be in favor of the Plan. You may cast your vote in person at MetLife or return your ballot by mail using the postage-paid envelope enclosed. You may vote in person at the offices of MetLife:

Place: MetLife
One Madison Avenue, 1st Floor
New York, NY

Date: February 7, 2000

Time: 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. (EST)

A ballot for you to cast your vote is enclosed. You are entitled to only one vote regardless of the number or size of the policies you own. Be sure to mark your ballot with a vote Yes (FOR the Plan), or No (AGAINST the Plan).

Please vote, sign and date the enclosed ballot card (card #2) and mail it to MetLife in the enclosed postage-paid envelope as soon as possible. You must either vote in person or mail the ballot card (card #2) to us so that we receive it by 4:00 p.m. (EST) February 7, 2000 in order for your vote to count.

Please verify your Social Security Number or Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN) printed on the Taxpayer Identification Card (card #1). If the number is missing or incorrect, please write the correct number on the Taxpayer Identification Card. If MetLife does not have the correct number on its records, MetLife may be required by law to deduct withholding taxes on amounts paid to you. Even if your TIN is correct, sign the certification and return the card to us.

If you have received more than one copy of these materials please call the MetLife Demutualization Information Center toll free at 1-800-649-3593. We ask that you sign and return all the required cards in a single envelope.

You may authorize someone else to cast your ballot by using a proxy form. Proxy forms and substitute or duplicate ballot forms are available by calling 1-800-649-3593 (toll-free) or by writing to MetLife, c/o ChaseMellon Shareholder Services, Individual Business Correspondence, P.O. Box 4444, South Hackensack, NJ 07606-2044. The proxy agent's completed ballot and the proxy form must be mailed to us so that we receive it by 4:00 p.m. (EST) on February 7, 2000 in order for your vote to count.

Please return the card(s) in the enclosed postage-paid envelope. DO NOT INCLUDE ANY OTHER CORRESPONDENCE.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON PLAN OF REORGANIZATION TO CONVERT FROM A MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY TO A STOCK INSURANCE COMPANY

The Superintendent of Insurance of the State of New York has scheduled a public hearing to consider the Plan of Reorganization adopted by the Board of Directors of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company (MetLife) on September 28, 1999 and as amended by amendment adopted on November 16, 1999.

THE PUBLIC HEARING WILL BE HELD AT THE GRAND HYATT NEW YORK, PARK AVENUE AT GRAND CENTRAL (AT EAST 42ND STREET), IN THE EMPIRE STATE BALLROOM, NEW YORK, NEW YORK, BEGINNING AT 10:00 A.M. (EST) ON JANUARY 24, 2000.

You will find a description of the Plan, as well as a copy of the Plan and the MetLife Policyholder Trust, and a summary of the Plan's exhibits and schedules, in the enclosed Policyholder Information Booklet Parts One and Two. In addition, until the date the New York Superintendent acts to approve or disapprove the Plan, complete copies of the Plan and the MetLife Policyholder Trust, including all of the Plan's exhibits and schedules, will be available for any policyholder and the general public to examine or obtain at the offices of MetLife, One Madison Avenue, 1st Floor, New York, New York, between 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. Monday through Friday, except days on which MetLife is closed for business. All documents and exhibits will also be available on MetLife's internet website, www.metlife.com.

The New York State Superintendent of Insurance is required by law to hold this public hearing on:

- the fairness of the terms and conditions of the Plan.
- the reasons and purposes for the reorganization.
- whether the reorganization is in the interest of MetLife and its policyholders and not detrimental to the public.

The Plan cannot become effective without the New York State Superintendent's approval. The New York Insurance Law requires the New York State Superintendent to approve the Plan if he finds that, after giving effect to the reorganization, MetLife will have an amount of capital and surplus that he deems to be reasonably necessary for its future solvency, and that the reorganization in whole and in part:

- does not violate the New York Insurance Law.
- is fair and equitable to policyholders.
- is not detrimental to the public.

The New York State Superintendent must approve or disapprove the Plan on or before 60 days after the close of the public hearing record.

If you would like to submit a written statement concerning the Plan to the New York State Superintendent, you may do so by mailing it to the attention of Ms. Ellen Wenz, New York State Insurance Department, Life Bureau, 25 Beaver Street, 3rd Floor, New York, NY 10004-2319. If you would like to make an oral statement at the public hearing, you should register with Ms. Ellen Wenz by writing to her at the address above or calling her at (212) 480-5262 by January 20, 2000.

The location of the public hearing is reasonably accessible to people who are in wheelchairs or have trouble walking. In accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, the New York State Insurance Department will provide a reasonable accommodation, such as a sign language interpreter, a qualified reader, etc., at no charge to any covered individual wishing to attend or testify at the hearing when such a request is made at least seven days before the hearing. Please submit a written request to Ms. Ellen Wenz at the address above by January 17, 2000.

STATE OF NEW YORK INSURANCE DEPARTMENT
25 BEAVER STREET
NEW YORK, NY 10004-2319

Dear MetLife Policyholder:

This letter is accompanying the material being sent to you by Metropolitan Life Insurance Company ("MetLife") in accordance with Section 7312 of the New York Insurance Law. The purpose of this letter is to describe the role of the New York State Insurance Department ("Department") and provide further information on your participation in MetLife's Plan of Reorganization ("Plan") to convert from a mutual insurance company to a stock insurance company, a process called "demutualization".

The Board of Directors of MetLife adopted the Plan on September 28, 1999 and adopted amendments to the Plan on November 16, 1999, and submitted it to the Superintendent of Insurance of the State of New York ("Superintendent") on November 23, 1999, along with a finding by the Board that the Plan is fair and equitable to policyholders. Before the Plan, as amended, may become effective, it must be approved by MetLife's policyholders and the Superintendent.

The material being sent to you by MetLife contains important information with respect to MetLife's Plan, as well as a ballot for your use in voting on this important matter. The material also indicates why the management of MetLife believes that the conversion as described in the Plan is in the best interest of MetLife and its policyholders.

A copy of the Plan and Trust Agreement and a summary of the other Exhibits and Schedules to the Plan have been prepared by MetLife and are included in the material being sent to you. The summary of the Exhibits and Schedules to the Plan has been prepared by MetLife and approved by the Superintendent in accordance with the statute, as being a fair and accurate summary of such Exhibits and Schedules to the Plan. It should be understood that the receipt of the Plan by the Superintendent, the approval of the summary of the Exhibits and Schedules to the Plan and this letter do not constitute an endorsement of the Plan by the Superintendent or the Department, or any indication as to how you should vote, or any indication as to how the Superintendent will act upon the Plan.

The Plan will not become effective unless it receives the affirmative vote of two thirds (2/3) of all policyholders who vote. You may vote either by mailing the ballot enclosed with this mailing, by proxy, or by appearing in person at the home office of MetLife, One Madison Avenue, New York, New York, on the 1st floor, on February 7, 2000 between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. If you wish to vote by mail, your ballot or proxy must be received by 4:00 p.m. on that date.

The Superintendent has adopted rules for the conduct of voting on the proposal to approve the Plan. These rules include, among other things, rules on the balloting process, policyholder communications and policyholder representative groups. Copies of these rules may be obtained by writing to MetLife, c/o ChaseMellon Shareholder Services, Individual Business Correspondence, P.O. Box 4444, South Hackensack, New Jersey 07606-2044 or calling 1-800-649-3593.

If you support or oppose the Plan and wish to persuade other policyholders to vote for or against the adoption of the Plan, you may at your own expense contact other policyholders. It should be understood that MetLife will not release its list of policyholders and the Department will not require MetLife to do so. However, MetLife has agreed to mail, or cause to be mailed, your material to all policyholders or certain segments of policyholders you designate, if the selection will not require MetLife to make any modifications to its list. You will be required to pay the actual costs for such services at the rate paid or allocated by MetLife. If you wish to utilize the mailing list and facilities of MetLife for such a solicitation, you must furnish a copy of the material to the Department at least ten (10) days prior to its intended mailing date. The material is not subject to review by MetLife, but this Department will not require MetLife to send any material that is, in the opinion of this Department, misleading.

Any policyholder eligible to vote may formally apply to the Superintendent for recognition as a Policyholder Representative. Once recognized as such by the Superintendent, any such Policyholder Representative or his or her approved designee shall be entitled to be present during the process of receipt, verification and tabulation of the ballots or proxies, but only for that part of such process occurring after recognition by the Superintendent, and to examine and object to any ballot or proxy. The Superintendent, in order to assure the orderly, prompt, and accurate tabulation of the ballots, reserves the right to limit the number of such representatives and to adopt reasonable procedures for the review process. Any such Policyholder Representative will have no other rights or entitlements under the New York Insurance Law with respect to the vote.

[REDACTED]

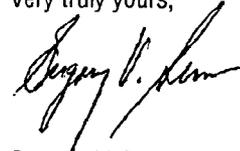

The public hearing required by statute will be held at the facilities of the Grand Hyatt New York, Park Avenue at Grand Central (at East 42nd Street), New York, New York, and will begin on January 24, 2000 in the Empire State Ballroom at 10:00 a.m. and may continue to subsequent dates to accommodate those who wish to be heard. While all those who wish to testify may do so, the Superintendent may, in order to accommodate all interested parties, limit the amount of time that any individual or group may speak. Accordingly, you should bring copies of your presentation to the hearing and be prepared to summarize your position in your testimony. In addition, if you are unable to or do not wish to attend the hearing, you may submit a written statement. In order for your statement to be included in the hearing record, it must be received prior to the close of the hearing. Since at this time we cannot predict the exact date the hearing will close, we suggest that any written statement be received by the Superintendent no later than February 7, 2000.

The Superintendent must approve or disapprove the Plan on or before 60 days from the close of the public hearing record. In determining whether to approve the Plan, the Superintendent must consider whether the Plan, in whole or in part, does not violate the New York Insurance Law, is fair and equitable to the policyholders and is not detrimental to the public and that, after giving effect to the reorganization, the reorganized insurer will have an amount of capital and surplus the Superintendent deems to be reasonably necessary for its future solvency. We are confident that the voting process and the public hearing will aid the Superintendent in reaching a decision.

Any correspondence with respect to this matter or any requests for additional information, including requests for participation in the balloting process as a Policyholder Representative, should be addressed to the Life Bureau, New York State Insurance Department, 25 Beaver Street, New York, New York 10004.

If you wish to testify at the hearing, please notify the Office of Public Affairs at the same address by January 20, 2000. Submission of written testimony should also be sent to Ms. Ellen Wenz at the above address.

Very truly yours,

Gregory V. Serio
First Deputy Superintendent

TAXPAYER IDENTIFICATION INFORMATION

Purpose of Form.—A person who is required to file an information return with the IRS must get your correct taxpayer identification number (TIN) to report, for example, income paid to you, real estate transactions, mortgage interest you paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, or contributions you made to an IRA.

Use Form W-9 to give your correct TIN to the person requesting it (the requester) and, when applicable, to:

1. Certify the TIN you are giving is correct (or you are waiting for a number to be issued).
2. Certify you are not subject to backup withholding, or
3. Claim exemption from backup withholding if you are an exempt payee.

What Is Backup Withholding?—Persons making certain payments to you must withhold and pay to the IRS 31% of such payments under certain conditions. This is called "backup withholding." Payments that may be subject to backup withholding include interest, dividends, broker and barter exchange transactions, rents, royalties, nonemployee pay, and certain payments from fishing boat operators. Real estate transactions are not subject to backup withholding.

If you give the requester your correct TIN, make the proper certifications, and report all your taxable interest and dividends on your tax return, payments you receive will not be subject to backup withholding. Payments you receive will be subject to backup withholding if:

1. You do not furnish your TIN to the requester, or
2. The IRS tells the requester that you furnished an incorrect TIN, or
3. The IRS tells you that you are subject to backup withholding because you did not report all your interest and dividends on your tax return (for reportable interest and dividends only), or
4. You do not certify to the requester that you are not subject to backup withholding under 3 above, or
5. You do not certify your TIN when required. See the Part III instructions on page 2 for details.

Certain payees and payments are exempt from backup withholding. See the Part II instructions and the separate Instructions for the Requester of Form W-9.

Specific Instructions

Name—If you are an individual, you must generally enter the name shown on your social security card. However, if you have changed your last name, for instance, due to marriage, without informing the Social Security Administration of the name change, enter your first name, the last name shown on your social security card, and your new last name.

If the account is in joint names, list first and then circle the name of the person or entity whose number you enter in Part I of the form.

Sole Proprietor.—You must enter your individual name as shown on your social security card. You may enter your business, trade, or "doing business as" name on the business name line.

Other Entities.—Enter the business name as shown on required Federal tax documents. This name should match the name shown on the charter or other legal document creating the entity. You may enter any business, trade, or "doing business as" name on the business name line.

Part I—Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN)

You must enter your TIN in the appropriate box. If you are a resident alien and you do not have and are not eligible to get an SSN, your TIN is your IRS individual taxpayer identification number (ITIN). Enter it in the social security number box. If you do not have an ITIN, see How To Get a TIN below.

If you are a sole proprietor and you have an EIN, you may enter either your SSN or EIN. However, using your EIN may result in unnecessary notices to the requester.

Note: See the chart on the next page for further clarification of name and TIN combinations.

How to Get a TIN.—If you do not have a TIN, apply for one immediately. To apply for an SSN, get Form SS-5 from your local Social Security Administration office. Get Form W-7 to apply for an ITIN or Form SS-4 to apply for an EIN. You can get Forms W-7 and SS-4 from the IRS by calling 1-800-TAX-FORM (1-800-829-3676).

If you do not have a TIN, write "Applied For" in the space for the TIN, sign and date the form, and give it to the requester. For interest and dividend payments, and certain payments made with respect to readily tradable instruments, you will generally have 60 days to get a TIN and give it to the requester. Other payments are subject to backup withholding.

Note: Writing "Applied For" means that you have already applied for a TIN OR that you intend to apply for one soon.

Part II—For Payees Exempt From Backup Withholding

Individuals (including sole proprietors) are not exempt from backup withholding. Corporations are exempt from backup withholding for certain payments, such as interest and dividends. For more information on exempt payees, see the separate instructions for the Requester of Form W-9.

If you are exempt from backup withholding, you should still complete this form to avoid possible erroneous backup withholding. Enter your correct TIN in Part I, write "Exempt" in Part II, and sign and date the form.

If you are a nonresident, alien or a foreign entity not subject to backup withholding, give the requester a completed Form W-8, Certificate of Foreign Status.

Part III—Certification

For a joint account, only the person whose TIN is shown in Part I should sign (when required).

Interest, Dividend, Broker, and Barter Exchange Accounts Opened After 1983. You must sign the certification or backup withholding will apply. If you are subject to backup withholding and you are merely providing your correct TIN to the requester, you must cross out item 2 in the certification before signing the form.

Privacy Act Notice

Section 6109 of the Internal Revenue Code requires you to give your correct TIN to persons who must file information returns with the IRS to report interest, dividends, and certain other income paid to you, mortgage interest you paid, the acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt or contributions you made to an IRA. The IRS uses the numbers for identification purposes and to help verify the accuracy of your tax return. The IRS may also provide this information to the Department of Justice for civil and criminal litigation and to cities, states, and the District of Columbia to carry out their tax laws.

You must provide your TIN whether or not you are required to file a tax return. Payers must generally withhold 31% of taxable interest, dividend, and certain other payments to a payee who does not give a TIN to a payer. Certain penalties may also apply.

GUIDELINES FOR CERTIFICATION OF TAXPAYER IDENTIFICATION NUMBER ON SUBSTITUTE FORM W-9

Guidelines for Determining the Proper Identification Number to Give the Payer—Social Security numbers have nine digits separated by two hyphens: i.e. 000-00-0000. Employer identification numbers have nine digits separated by only one hyphen: i.e. 00-0000000. The table below will help determine the number to give the Payer.

For this type of account:	Give the name and SOCIAL SECURITY number of—	For this type of account:	Give the name and EMPLOYEE IDENTIFICATION number of—

- (1) List first and circle the name of the person whose number you furnish. If only one person on a joint account has an SSN, that person's number must be furnished.
- (2) Circle the minor's name and furnish the minor's social security number.
- (3) You must show your individual name, but you may also enter your business or "doing business as" name. You may use either your social security number or employment identification number (if you have one).
- (4) List first and circle the name of the legal trust, estate or pension trust.

NOTE: If no name is circled when there is more than one name, the number will be considered to be that of the first name listed.

Our commitment to protecting customer privacy is not new. We will continue to safeguard our customers' privacy and the confidentiality of the information they provide to us.

THIS NOTICE IS FOR YOUR INFORMATION. NO RESPONSE IS REQUIRED.

Privacy Notice To Our Customers

MetLife®

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company (“MetLife”) and each member of the MetLife family of companies (an “Affiliate”) strongly believe in protecting the confidentiality and security of information we collect about you. This notice refers to MetLife by using the terms “us,” “we,” or “our.” This notice describes our privacy policy and describes how we treat the information we receive (“Information”) about you.

Why We Collect and How We Use Information: We collect and use Information for business purposes with respect to our insurance and other business relationships involving you. These business purposes include evaluating a request for our insurance or other products or services, evaluating benefit claims, administering our products or services, and processing transactions requested by you. We may also use Information to offer you other products or services we provide.

How We Collect Information: We get most Information directly from you. The Information that you give us when applying for our products or services generally provides the Information we need. If we need to verify Information or need additional Information, we may obtain Information from third parties such as adult family members, employers, other insurers, consumer reporting agencies, physicians, hospitals and other medical personnel. Information collected may relate to your finances, employment, health, avocations or other personal characteristics as well as transactions with us or with others, including our Affiliates.

How We Protect Information: We treat Information in a confidential manner. Our employees are required to protect the confidentiality of Information. Employees may access Information only when there is an appropriate reason to do so, such as to administer or offer our products or services. We also maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards to protect Information; these safeguards comply with all applicable laws. Employees are required to comply with our established policies.

Information Disclosure: We may disclose any Information when we believe it necessary for the conduct of our business, or where disclosure is required by law. For example, Information may be disclosed to others to enable them to provide business services for us, such as helping us to evaluate requests for insurance or benefits, performing general administrative activities for us, and assisting us in processing a transaction requested by you. Information may also be disclosed for audit or research purposes; or to law enforcement and regulatory agencies, for example, to help us prevent fraud. Information may be disclosed to Affiliates as well as to others that are outside of the MetLife family of companies, such as companies that process data for us, companies that provide general administrative services for us, other insurers, and consumer reporting agencies. Our affiliates include financial services companies such as life and property and casualty insurers, securities firms, broker dealers and financial advisors and may also include companies that are not financial services companies. We may make other disclosures of Information as permitted by law.

Information may also be shared with our Affiliates so that they may offer you products or services from the MetLife family of companies. We may also provide Information: (i) to others outside of the MetLife family of companies, such as marketing companies, to assist us in offering our products and services to you, and (ii) to financial services companies outside of the MetLife family of companies with which we have a joint marketing agreement. For example, an agreement with another insurer to enable us to offer you certain of that insurer’s products. We do not make any other disclosures of Information to other companies who may want to sell their products or services to you. For example, we will not sell your name to a catalog company. We may disclose any Information, other than a consumer report or health information, for the purposes described in this paragraph.

Access to and Correction of Information: Generally, upon your written request, we will make available Information for your review. Information collected in connection with, or in anticipation of, any claim or legal proceeding will not be made available. If you notify us that the Information is incorrect, we will review it. If we agree, we will correct our records. If we do not agree, you may submit a short statement of dispute, which we will include in any future disclosure of Information.

Further Information: In addition to any other privacy notice we may provide, a recently enacted federal law established new privacy standards and requires us to provide this summary of our privacy policy once each year. You may have additional rights under other applicable laws. For additional information regarding our privacy policy, please contact us at our website, www.metlife.com, or write to us at MetLife, PO Box 489, Warwick, R I 02887-9954.

All-terrain Investing: Preparing for Varying Road Conditions

Long-term investors encounter a wide variety of market conditions. They can be almost as varied as the terrain. Sometimes it's smooth and easy to navigate, and other times, the investment landscape is rocky and hilly, slowing your progress. In general, we're optimistic about the future, but there will be bumps along the way. Although you can't avoid them, you can work to smooth out the ride by owning a mix of investments that tend to do well in different market environments.

During the past several years, the market's path has been filled with major peaks and valleys, which have been the direct result of what is called "risk-on, risk-off" behavior. When economic news is positive, investors are optimistic and more willing to take on risk with investments that depend more on the economy for growth — and therefore fluctuate more. When the headlines turn negative, investors tend to become more risk-averse, or "risk-off." Rather than moving between "risk-on" and "risk-off" buying, consider a variety of companies that may provide opportunities in both types of markets.

Get in Gear

In our view, now is not the time to "park" your investment strategy. Given the uncertainty about European debt, U.S. budget deficits and the election, we expect market volatility to continue in the shorter term. In our view, the best way to prepare is to maintain a well-balanced portfolio with adequate holdings in quality investments. We believe equities offer an attractive opportunity and recommend the equity portion of your portfolio be well-balanced across sectors, with quality holdings that can benefit as the market landscape shifts.

Is Your Portfolio Prepared?

We think the current environment offers good opportunities for investors, but the challenges of the "risk-on, risk-off" pattern underscore the importance of being prepared. Make sure your portfolio contains quality investments and is diversified across sectors that perform well in varying environments. When appropriate, rebalance to take advantage of market movements. And remember, even when current events temporarily impact the market, keep focusing on your long-term financial goals, such as retirement and paying for education. Regardless of the landscape, your long-term financial goals should serve as your constant horizon.

For more information, ask your financial advisor for our full report on this topic.

Investing in stocks involves risk. Your investment return and principal value will fluctuate, and you may lose money. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Diversification does not guarantee a profit or protect against a loss.

HOLDS ON CHECKS

We may sometimes tell you that a "hold" has been placed on your account. This means that you have deposited or cashed a check drawn on another financial institution and you may not withdraw those funds until we have received payment from the other institution.

Under normal circumstances, we release a hold within 4 business days for a check drawn on a local financial institution and 7 business days if the check is drawn on an out-of-town institution. If you present a check drawn on a foreign bank or in foreign currency, the check will be entered for collection. In this instance, your account will not be credited until we receive payment. A hold will not be placed on your account for funds received through wire transfers or electronic direct deposits.

DEPOSITS MADE TO INTEREST-BEARING ACCOUNTS BEGIN TO EARN INTEREST FROM THE DATE OF DEPOSIT EVEN THOUGH A HOLD MAY HAVE BEEN PLACED. Items entered for collection will begin earning interest when your account is credited.

The information provided explains our normal operating policy regarding holds. It is intended to give you access to your funds in the most timely manner. Should you require additional information or if you have any questions, please contact the branch manager.

or on my behalf where BAIS/SWS prevails. I further agree to pay interest on all such sums, including any deficiency in my Accounts at the margin rate of interest calculated in accordance with BAIS/SWS's usual custom.

18. Joint Accounts The following applies only to Accounts in the names of two or more persons ("JOINT ACCOUNT"):

A. In consideration of BAIS/SWS opening or maintaining one or more Accounts, CASH, in the names of two or more persons as listed on the Account Application, we jointly and severally agree that our obligations on the Accounts and under the Agreements with BAIS/SWS shall be joint and several and that each of us shall have authority on behalf of the JOINT ACCOUNT to buy, sell and otherwise deal in stocks, bonds, and other investments; to receive on behalf of the JOINT ACCOUNT demands, notices, confirmations, reports, statements of Account and communications of every kind; to receive on behalf of the JOINT ACCOUNT money, securities and property of every kind and to dispose of same; to make agreements on behalf of the JOINT ACCOUNT relating to any of the foregoing matters and to terminate or modify same or waive any of the provisions thereof; and generally to deal with BAIS/SWS on behalf of the JOINT ACCOUNT as fully and completely as if each of us alone were interested in said JOINT ACCOUNT, all without notice to the other or others interested in said JOINT ACCOUNT.

B. BAIS/SWS is authorized to follow the instructions of any of the undersigned in every respect concerning the JOINT ACCOUNT and to make deliveries to any of the undersigned or upon his/her instructions, of any or all securities in the JOINT ACCOUNT, and if BAIS/SWS elects to do so to make payments to any of the undersigned, or upon his/her order, of any or all monies at any time or from time to time in the JOINT ACCOUNT as he/she may order and direct, even if such deliveries and/or payments shall be made to him/her personally, and not for the JOINT ACCOUNT of the undersigned. In the event of any such deliveries of securities or payments of monies to any of the undersigned as aforesaid, BAIS/SWS shall be under no duty or obligation to inquire into the purpose or propriety of any such demand for delivery of securities or payment of monies, and BAIS/SWS shall not be bound to see to the application or disposition of the said securities and/or monies so delivered or paid to any of the undersigned or upon his/her order. The authority hereby conferred shall remain in force until written notice of the revocation addressed to BAIS is delivered at its main office.

C. Unless otherwise indicated in writing, it is the express intention of the undersigned that ownership of the JOINT ACCOUNT be vested in them as joint tenants with rights of survivorship and not as tenants in common or as tenants by the entirety. In the event of the death of either or any of the undersigned, the entire interest in the JOINT ACCOUNT shall be vested in the survivor or survivors on the same terms and conditions as theretofore held, without in any manner releasing the undersigned or their estates from the liability provided for in this Agreement. (NOTE: If the parties to the JOINT ACCOUNT do not wish to be joint tenants with rights of survivorship, they must obtain from BAIS its "Tenants in Common Agreement" and execute and deliver said Agreement to BAIS.)

19. Recording of Telephone Conversations ANY OF MY TELEPHONE CONVERSATIONS WITH BAIS MAY BE RECORDED TO ASSURE ACCURACY. I consent to such recording.

20. Applicable Regulations All transactions for my Accounts shall be subject to applicable transaction and settlement rules, regulations, and customs, and practices, including the rules, regulations, customs and practices of (a) the market or exchange (selected by BAIS/SWS at its discretion) where an order is entered, (b) the clearing house, if any, (c) the Securities and Exchange Commission, (d) the Federal Reserve Board and (e) the NASD and the New York Stock Exchange.

21. Binding Effect My Agreements and their terms shall be binding upon my heirs, executors, successors, administrators, assigns, committee and conservator ("successors"). In the event of my death, incompetency, or disability, whether or not any successors of my estate and property shall have qualified or been appointed, until BAIS/SWS has written notice of my death or incompetence BAIS/SWS may continue to operate as though I were alive and competent and you may liquidate my Accounts WITHOUT PRIOR NOTICE TO OR DEMAND upon my successors. My Agreements shall inure to the benefit of your successors and assigns, whether by merger, consolidation or otherwise (and you may transfer my Accounts to any such successors and assigns) WITHOUT NOTICE.

22. All Accounts THIS AGREEMENT SHALL COVER INDIVIDUALLY AND COLLECTIVELY ALL ACCOUNTS, WHICH I MAY OPEN OR REOPEN WITH BAIS/SWS.

3. I certify that I have read, understand and agree specifically to the terms set forth in the ARBITRATION AGREEMENT (Items 15 and 16 on the reverse side). I further acknowledge that I have also received a copy of the customer agreement and more specifically, the arbitration clauses.
4. Under penalties of perjury, I certify that (A) the taxpayer information provided is true, complete and correct, and (B) I am not subject to backup withholding as a result of failure to report all interest or dividends or the Internal Revenue Service has notified me that I am no longer subject to backup withholding. (PLEASE NOTE: You must strike out Item 4B if you have been notified that you are subject to backup withholding due to under-reporting and you have not received a notice from the Internal Revenue Service advising you that backup withholding has terminated).
5. Under penalties of perjury, I certify that (A) for interest payments, I am not a U.S. citizen or resident (or I am filing for a foreign corporation, partnership, estate, or trust), (B) for dividends, I am not a U.S. citizen or resident (or I am filing for a foreign corporation, partnership, or trust), and (C) for Broker Transactions or Barter Exchanges, I am an exempt foreign person as defined by the IRS.

6. BAIS and Southwest Securities, Inc. (BAIS's clearing broker) may disclose my name, address, and security positions to requesting companies in which I am a shareholder. (PLEASE NOTE: You must strike out item 6 if you do not wish your name, address, and security position disclosed.)
7. Unless I have indicated otherwise to BAIS/SWS in writing, it is my intention to reinvest cash credit balances held by BAIS/SWS in my name. I further confirm that any such cash credit balance will be maintained with BAIS/SWS solely for the purpose of reinvestment. I understand that cash balances of up to $100,000 are protected by SIPC, but SIPC coverage is not available for funds maintained solely for the purpose of earning interest.
8. If a depository institution ("Bank"), has been indicated in Part 12, that depository institution is authorized: (i) to pay for securities purchased by either of the undersigned in any of my (our) brokerage Accounts with BAIS/SWS by debiting my (our) bank account for all or part of the purchase price and remitting same as directed by BAIS/SWS; (ii) to pay for dividends and interest due on securities in my (our) brokerage Accounts with BAIS/SWS; (iii) to credit my (our) bank account the net proceeds of securities sold by either of the undersigned in my (our) brokerage Accounts as remitted to Bank by BAIS/SWS; and (iv) to credit my (our) bank Accounts with the dividends or interest on securities in my brokerage Accounts with BAIS as remitted to Bank by BAIS/SWS.
9. I understand that the product or products I am purchasing or may purchase are not deposits and may not be insured by an agency or instrumentality of the United States such as the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC).

Customer Agreement—Investment Account

To: BA Investment Services, Inc. (BAIS)
Southwest Securities, Inc. (SWS)

I EXPRESSLY ACKNOWLEDGE AND AGREE THAT THE ENTIRE INTRODUCTION SECTION OF THE FORM CONTAINING THIS CUSTOMER AGREEMENT IS INCORPORATED HEREIN BY THIS REFERENCE.

1. Authorization I request that BAIS/SWS establish a Cash Account for me. I appoint BAIS as my agent for the purposes of buying and selling securities in my Cash Account. I authorize BAIS/SWS to open or close my Account, to place and withdraw orders and to take such other directions or to protect itself in the event I breach any of my obligations. I understand that BAIS will accept orders from me for execution by BAIS/SWS or others. I acknowledge that BAIS/SWS reserves the right in its sole discretion to refuse or restrict my orders. I authorize BAIS/SWS to act upon my instructions given by telephone or telegraph, orally, or by facsimile transmission and agree that BAIS/SWS may act upon and shall incur no liability in acting upon such instructions as reasonably understood by BAIS/SWS, providing such instructions reasonably appear genuine to BAIS/SWS.

2. Deliveries and Settlements I will not buy any security through my Cash Account unless there are, or by Settlement Date there will be, sufficient funds in my Account to make full cash payment, and I do not contemplate selling such security before making such payment. Deposits will be credited to my Accounts subject to collection. I will not sell any security through my Cash Account unless I then own the security and it is either on deposit with BAIS/SWS or by the Settlement Date can and will be delivered to BAIS/SWS in good deliverable form, and the placing of such an order shall constitute a representation by me that I will deliver such security to BAIS/SWS on or before the Settlement Date. If I fail timely to deliver securities sold in good deliverable form or timely to deposit the total purchase price as provided by applicable law, BAIS/SWS may, in its sole discretion and WITHOUT NOTICE OR DEMAND, take such steps as BAIS/SWS deems appropriate either to consummate or to liquidate the transaction, and I shall pay to BAIS/SWS, UPON DEMAND, all costs (including attorneys' fees) and losses incurred by BAIS/SWS in connection therewith, plus late charges and interest thereon as set forth in the Disclosure of Credit Terms and Other Charges which is incorporated herein by this reference.

3. Written Confirmation: Communications Confirmations of transactions and statements of my Accounts shall be conclusive as to me if not objected to by me in writing within ten (10) days after the date on which such confirmations of transactions and statements are received by me from BAIS/SWS. The absence of my objection shall constitute a COMPLETE WAIVER by me of any and all claims that I may have with respect to such transactions or statements. I shall remain liable at all times, however, for the return to BAIS/SWS of any dividends, interest, cash or securities erroneously distributed or delivered to me or deposited into my Accounts by BAIS/SWS. Communications may be sent to me at the address set forth on my Account Application or at such other address as I instruct in writing. All communications so sent, whether by mail, telegraph, messenger or otherwise, shall be deemed delivered to me personally, whether actually received or not, as of the date they are dispatched to me. I agree to waive all claims resulting from failure to receive such communications.

4. Fees and Charges BAIS may charge commissions and other fees for execution of transactions to purchase and sell Securities or Other Property, and I agree to pay such commissions and fees at BAIS's then prevailing rates. I also understand that such commission and fee rates may be changed from time to time without notice to me and I agree to be bound thereby.

As set forth in the Introduction section "Credit Terms and Other Charges," I may be subject to late charges and interest on any of my Accounts as to which I fail to deposit funds or Securities or Other Property by the due date thereof.

5. Information Disclosure BAIS/SWS may disclose information to others and receive information from others, including credit bureaus or other agencies, about me, my Accounts or my Account transactions (1) if the purpose is to establish or maintain my Accounts or to complete transactions, (2) to comply with court orders or government agency or exchange regulations or inquiries, or (3) if I give BAIS/SWS my permission.

6. Definition of Securities and Other Property Securities and Other Property shall include, but not be limited to, money, instruments and securities of every kind and nature and all contracts and actions relating thereto and all proceeds therefrom and all dividends and interest thereon, whether for present or future delivery, now or hereafter held, carried or maintained by BAIS/SWS in or for any of my Accounts, now or hereafter opened, including any Accounts in which I may have an interest.

7. Security Interest As security for the repayment of all my indebtedness and other obligations owed to BAIS/SWS, I hereby grant to BAIS and SWS a continuing security interest in all of my Securities and Other Property now or in the future held, carried, or maintained for any purpose by BAIS/SWS. In enforcing its security interest, lien, or right of set-off BAIS/SWS, in its sole discretion, may determine which Securities and Other Property are to be bought or sold and the order in which they are to be sold and which contracts are to be closed.

8. Transfer BAIS/SWS shall have the right to transfer Securities and Other Property held by BAIS/SWS from or to any of my Accounts whenever BAIS/SWS, in its sole and absolute discretion, considers such a transfer necessary for its protection.

9. Impartial Lottery System When BAIS/SWS holds on my behalf bonds or preferred stock in street name or bearer form which are callable in part, I agree to participate in the impartial lottery allocation system of the called securities in accordance with the rules of the NYSE of applicable depositories.

10. Representations I represent that I am of the age of majority according to the laws of my state of residence. I represent that no one other than me (and to the extent community property stands in my Accounts, my spouse) and any other persons signing this Customer Agreement has an interest in my Accounts. I further represent that, except as disclosed to BAIS in writing, I am not an employee of any exchange or of any corporation of which an exchange controls a majority of the capital stock, or of a member of any exchange or of a member firm or member corporation of any exchange, and I am not an employee of any bank or trust company or insurance company or any corporation, firm or individual engaged in the business of dealing as broker or principal in securities, bills of exchange, acceptances or other forms of commercial paper. If I become so employed, I shall notify BAIS promptly in writing.

11. Non-waiver; No Oral Modifications; Amendments BAIS/SWS's failure to insist at any time upon strict compliance with any of my Agreements or with any of their terms or any continued course of such conduct on BAIS/SWS's part shall not constitute a waiver by BAIS/SWS of any of its rights thereunder. Except as otherwise provided for herein, no provision of any of my Agreements shall in any respect be waived, modified or amended unless such waiver, modification or amendment is in writing, signed by a duly authorized officer of BAIS or SWS.

12. Governing Law All of my Agreements with BAIS/SWS and their enforcement shall be governed by the laws of the State of CALIFORNIA as it applies to domiciliaries thereof, except as otherwise specifically provided in such Agreements.

13. Severability If any provision or condition of any of my Agreements shall be held to be invalid or unenforceable by any court, regulatory or self-regulatory agency or body or arbitration tribunal, such invalidity or unenforceability shall attach only to that provision or condition. The validity of the remaining provisions and conditions shall not be affected thereby, and my Agreements shall be carried out as if any such invalid or unenforceable provision or condition were not contained herein.

14. Limitation on Liability I acknowledge and agree that BAIS/SWS shall not be liable on any of my Accounts for any loss caused directly or indirectly by government restrictions, lockout, natural disaster (including earthquake), riot or other civil disturbance, exchange or market ruling, suspensions of trading, war, strike, interruption of transportation, communication, or data processing services, or other conditions beyond their control. Further, in acting hereunder, I acknowledge and agree that BAIS/SWS shall not be liable with respect to any of my Accounts except for its gross negligence and willful misconduct.

15. Arbitration

• Arbitration is final and binding on the parties.

• The parties are waiving their right to seek remedies in court, including the right to jury trial.

• Pre-arbitration discovery is generally more limited than and different from court proceedings.

• The arbitrators' award is not required to include factual findings or legal reasoning and any party's right to appeal or to seek modification of rulings by the arbitrators is strictly limited.

• The panel of arbitrators will typically include a minority of arbitrators who were or are affiliated with the securities industry.

16. Arbitration Agreement Any dispute with respect to any or all of my Accounts shall be subject to and governed by the following ARBITRATION AGREEMENT.

To the extent permitted by law, any controversy arising out of or relating to any of my Accounts or any of my Agreements with BAIS/SWS shall be submitted to arbitration conducted under the Constitution and Rules of the Board of Governors of the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE"), the Code of Arbitration Procedure of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. ("NASD"), or the arbitration panel of any other exchange which has jurisdiction over the transaction in dispute. An arbitration must be commenced by service upon the other party or parties of a written demand for arbitration or a written notice of intention to arbitrate, therein selecting the arbitration tribunal. If I initiate the demand for arbitration and do not make such election by registered mail addressed to BAIS at its main office within fifteen (15) days thereafter, then BAIS/SWS may make such election on my behalf. If BAIS/SWS initiates arbitration, it may select the arbitration tribunal. Judgment upon any award rendered by the arbitrators shall be final, and may be entered in any court having jurisdiction. This ARBITRATION AGREEMENT does not constitute a waiver of my right to a judicial forum in instances in which such a waiver would be void under the applicable federal or state laws. In the event of arbitration, each party is required to conduct discovery with respect to documentary evidence only in accordance with applicable Federal Law including the Federal Arbitration Act. I specifically acknowledge and agree that in addition to and without waiver of this binding ARBITRATION AGREEMENT, BAIS/SWS shall be entitled to use the provisional remedies, including the remedies of prejudgment writs of attachment, available in any court having jurisdiction. "No person shall bring a putative or certified class action to arbitration, nor seek to enforce any pre-dispute arbitration agreement against any person who has initiated in court a putative class action; who is a member of a putative class who has not opted out of the class with respect to any claims encompassed by the putative class action until:

(i) the class certification is denied;

(ii) the class is decertified; or

(iii) the customer is excluded from the class by the court.

Such forbearance to enforce an agreement to arbitrate shall not constitute a waiver of any rights under this agreement except to the extent stated herein."

17. Costs I shall pay all of BAIS/SWS's costs, including but not limited to attorneys' fees, including allocated costs of in-house counsel, arbitration fees, and court costs, incurred in connection with (a) my failure to pay when due the monies owed in my Accounts, (b) the failure to deliver securities due in my Accounts, (c) the collection of any deficiency in my Accounts, or (d) the defense by BAIS/SWS of any claims by me

BA Investment Services, Inc.
A BankAmerica Company

Introduction

Welcome To BA Investment Services, Inc.

This form contains the terms and conditions of our CUSTOMER AGREEMENT and the other Agreements that need to be completed in order to open a CASH ACCOUNT with BA Investment Services, Inc. ("BAIS"). BEFORE COMPLETING AND SIGNING THE APPLICATION OR ANY FORMS OR SIGNING ANY OF THE AGREEMENTS, PLEASE BE SURE TO READ CAREFULLY AND UNDERSTAND THE APPLICABLE SECTIONS OF THIS BROCHURE. PLEASE NOTE THAT THE CUSTOMER AGREEMENT INCORPORATES INTO ITS TERMS THIS INTRODUCTION.

We have tried to make this form as convenient as possible for you to use and understand. If, however, you have questions concerning any aspect of this brochure or the Agreements or need help in completing any of the forms, PLEASE CONTACT ONE OF OUR OFFICES OR CALL US TOLL FREE AT 1-800-822-2222.

BAIS is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America NT&SA. BAIS PERFORMS CERTAIN EXECUTION, SETTLEMENT AND CLEARING FUNCTIONS AND HAS ENTERED INTO AN agreement with Southwest Securities, Inc. ("SWS"), to perform certain OTHER execution, settlement and clearing functions for BAIS. Thus, you may see reference to SWS, AS WELL AS BAIS, in this brochure, on the monthly account statements, and on the written confirmations of transactions.

Before you may open an Account at BAIS, you must furnish BAIS and SWS with information regarding your name and address, social security number (or tax identification number), citizenship, age, occupation, bank reference, and other general information. Please be sure to fill in all blanks on the Account Application and the Agreements that apply to you. If you fail to furnish BAIS with the correct taxpayer identification number, BAIS/SWS is required to withhold 31% of taxable interest, dividends and proceeds from sales of securities (which is referred to as "backup withholding"). For most individual taxpayers, their taxpayer identification number is their social security number.

Prompt Payment And Delivery of Certificates

There is no extension of credit made in connection with the purchase of securities in a Cash Account and therefore you must pay in full for any security that you purchase in your Cash Account. Federal Reserve Board Regulation T and certain other applicable rules and regulations make it necessary to settle the purchase or sale of securities usually on the fifth (5th) business day after the transaction ("the Settlement Date"). Please note, however, that the Settlement Date may vary depending on the kind of investment being purchased or sold and could be as soon as one (1) business day after the transaction. When securities are purchased, BAIS/SWS must pay the selling broker on the Settlement Date, and when securities are sold, BAIS/SWS must deliver the certificate representing such securities to the buying broker on the Settlement Date.

When you buy securities, BAIS/SWS must promptly receive payment of good funds in cash equivalent or by personal check or money order payable to its order. Since purchases usually must be paid for within five (5) business days (or sooner for certain investments), you should not await the arrival of your confirmation by mail before paying. In the event that payment for securities purchased by you is not received by the Settlement Date, Federal Reserve Board Regulation T may require that your securities be liquidated. You will be responsible for any resulting loss or deficiency, plus late charges and interest.

When you sell your securities, it is essential that you deliver the certificate(s) to BAIS/SWS promptly because the proceeds of sale cannot be paid to you until the Settlement Date, and then only if BAIS/SWS has received your stock certificate(s) in good deliverable form. If we do not receive the securities that you sell by the Settlement Date, BAIS/SWS may be required to purchase the securities in the open market. Again, you will be responsible for any resulting loss or deficiency, plus late charges and interest.

Investments Are Not Bank Deposits And Are Not FDIC Insured

Securities and Annuities are not bank deposits or obligations of any banking or other subsidiary of BankAmerica Corporation and are not FDIC insured. Bankers' acceptances are obligations of the issuing bank and are not bank deposits or FDIC insured. Securities issued by BankAmerica Corporation, including commercial paper, are obligations of BankAmerica Corporation only—they are not bank deposits or FDIC insured and are not obligations of any subsidiary of BankAmerica Corporation. A BAIS Investment Account is not a bank deposit and is not FDIC insured.

Transactions With Affiliates

Certain securities and other assets including, without limitation, municipal, government and money market securities purchased or sold by you through BAIS, are purchased from or sold to Bank of America NT&SA, an underwriter, broker, dealer or placement agent for such securities and assets. Further, SWS may make markets in certain over-the-counter securities purchased or sold by you through BAIS.

In addition, as part of the services available to you through your Accounts with BAIS, you will be able to purchase shares in a variety of mutual funds. In this connection, you are advised that related entities, such as Bank of America NT&SA, provide investment management and other services to various mutual funds, including Pacific Horizon Funds, Inc. Such related entities receive FEES for these services. These matters are covered in greater detail in the current prospectuses for these funds. It is important that you read such prospectuses carefully before deciding to invest. MUTUAL FUND SHARES INCLUDING THOSE DESCRIBED ABOVE ARE NOT BANK DEPOSITS OR OBLIGATIONS OF BANK OF AMERICA NT&SA OR ANY OF ITS AFFILIATES AND ARE NOT FDIC INSURED.

SHOULD YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS CONCERNING ANY ASPECT OF BANK OF AMERICA NT&SA'S RELATIONSHIP AS AN INVESTMENT ADVISOR TO THESE FUNDS, PLEASE CONTACT BAIS AT 1-800-822-2222.

Clearing Arrangement Between BA Investment Services, Inc. And Southwest Securities, Inc.

BAIS has entered into a contract, known as a Clearing Agreement, with SWS, a member of the New York Stock Exchange, Inc. ("NYSE"), and other exchanges to perform certain execution, settlement and clearing functions for BAIS. In performing these services SWS's role is that of an agent for BAIS. All of your instructions, orders and communications will be with BAIS as your broker.

Pursuant to the Clearing Agreement, BAIS is responsible for the opening, approving and monitoring of your Accounts. BAIS must obtain and maintain Account documentation. It is responsible for knowledge of the identity of the customer, new Accounts approval/rejection, order approval/rejection, review of orders/accounts, and the transmission and screening of orders prior to execution. BAIS is also responsible for compliance with restricted/control stock requirements.

SWS is responsible for the maintenance of stock records and compilation and filing of most regulatory reports as they apply to customers of BAIS; the delivery and receipt of funds and securities to and from customers; the transfer of securities and accounts; preparation and transmittal of confirmations to BAIS for mailing; preparation and mailing of monthly statements to customers.

When securities are held in street name, SWS is responsible for the payment of dividends; the processing of exchange and tender offers, rights, warrants and redemptions; and safeguarding funds and securities. As to all orders transmitted by BAIS to SWS; SWS is responsible for the selection of the appropriate exchange or dealer for the execution of your orders and the accurate execution of such orders.

SWS is not responsible or liable for the acts or omissions of BAIS or its agents or employees.

In addition to its rights under your Customer Agreement, SWS may, without inquiry or investigation, act on instructions of BAIS through whose courtesy your Accounts have been introduced to SWS, to: (a) buy or sell Securities and Other Property, (b) transfer funds in your Accounts, (c) close or cancel your Accounts or liquidate or reduce any debit balances owing with respect to your Accounts with BAIS/SWS or to close any or all open positions in Securities and Other Property, (d) buy and sell options, and (e) take any other actions concerning your Accounts.

SIPC Coverage

BAIS and SWS are members of the Securities Investor Protection Corporation ("SIPC"), a nonprofit, membership corporation funded by all Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC")-registered securities broker-dealers. SIPC assessments are collected from member broker-dealers; in an emergency, SIPC may borrow up to $1 billion from the U.S. Treasury through the SEC if the SEC determines such a loan is necessary. SIPC protects each customer's Account carried by BAIS/SWS up to $500,000 limited to $100,000 on claims for cash. Cash balances created and maintained solely for the purpose of earning interest are not protected by SIPC. Shares of money market funds, although often thought of by investors as cash, are in fact securities when organized as a mutual fund and thus are protected by SIPC up to $500,000 if held by BAIS/SWS. If you maintain custody of securities and cash with an institution that is not a member of SIPC, such securities and cash will not be protected by SIPC.

Recommendations

BAIS may from time to time recommend or identify investment opportunities by bringing them to the general attention of its customers. Further, BAIS may recommend particular bonds, unit trusts and mutual funds to certain customers. Except for such recommendations, BAIS makes no determination of the suitability of investments for individual customers. Moreover, BAIS neither renders advice nor provides research nor maintains discretionary accounts. Accordingly, BAIS's customers must make an independent investigation concerning the merit and suitability of the securities they purchase or sell. Your execution of this Customer Agreement will constitute your acknowledgment and agreement that with the exception of bonds, unit trusts or mutual funds recommended to you by BAIS, BAIS has no responsibility to assist you by means of investment advice or research in determining the suitability of your investment decisions and that you alone bear the full and complete responsibility for your investment decisions and the degree of risk represented by those decisions. BAIS/SWS will rely on the foregoing acknowledgment and agreement in opening and rendering services to you with respect to your Accounts.

Dealings By BA Investment Services, Inc. And Its Affiliates

BAIS, its representatives or its affiliates, may from time to time have long or short positions in and buy or sell securities of issuers, whose securities are the subject of your transactions.

Certain Credit Terms And Other Charges

- 1. Cash Account Interest may be charged on a customer's Cash Account (1) on purchases for such payment not received until after the Settlement Date of the transaction, (2) on monies paid out by broker representing the proceeds of sales, prior to the Settlement Date, (3) on the difference between the current market price and the cash deposited by a customer on purchases of "when issued" securities, and (4) any deficiency in a customer's Cash Account.
- 2. Account Statements A statement of Accounts showing cash and security positions will be sent to a customer at the end of each month in which there is account activity. If there is no activity, but a cash balance or security position remains in the Account as of the end of a calendar quarter, a statement will be sent.
- 3. Late Charges; Extension Fees If a customer purchases or sells securities in any of his Accounts and fails to deliver the required funds and/or securities to BAIS/SWS by the Settlement Date therefor, then BAIS/SWS may, in addition to its other rights and remedies, impose a Late Charge in an amount equal to fifteen dollars ($15) or two percent (2%) of the amount or value of such past due funds and/securities, whichever is greater. In addition, if BAIS/SWS obtains from the NYSE an extension of time for a customer's delivery of funds and/or securities after the Settlement Date, then BAIS/SWS may charge the customer an Extension Fee of twenty dollars ($20) for each such extension.

CERTIFICATE ACCOUNT NUMBER 47 205150
Initial Maturity Date 01/22/89
Term 12 MO
Renewal Term and Rate (See Section 4)
No Additions Permitted

Earnings Distribution dates beginning 03/31/88
and credit quarterly thereafter, with the last distribution on the final maturity date.

2. GENERAL SECTION

This certifies that the Accountholder(s) holds a savings account with Opening Balance and for the initial term expiring on the initial Maturity date shown hereon in GIBRALTAR SAVINGS ASSOCIATION of Houston, Texas.

3. EARNINGS SECTION

This account shall receive earnings at the Rate of Earnings and with the Frequency of Compounding as above set forth. Such earnings shall be payable on the Earnings Distribution Dates above set forth, provided the balance in the account is not reduced below the Minimum Balance Requirement. If such balance is reduced below the Minimum Balance Requirement, the Rate of Earnings on the remaining balance shall thereafter be reduced to the rate then paid on regular savings accounts. (Also see Section 5).

4. RENEWAL SECTION

This account shall be automatically renewed at the close of business on the Initial Maturity Date or on the maturity date of any Renewal Term unless (1) withdrawn within the 7-day period referred to in Section 5 hereof; or (2) at least fifteen (15) days prior to any such date, the Association gives written notice to the Accountholder that this account will not be renewed at an earnings rate set forth in Section 3 and/or for any other term(s) set forth in this certificate. In such latter event, upon maturity the account will either be renewed, at such rate of earnings and/or for such other term(s), as set forth in said written notice or converted to a regular savings account and paid earnings applicable to a regular savings account. The rate of earnings for any Renewal Term shall be at the rate the Association is paying at that time on renewed accounts of this class.

5. PENALTY CLAUSE SECTION

Except as otherwise provided herein in the event of any withdrawal of principal from this account prior to the Maturity Date, the Accountholder(s) shall forfeit an amount equal to 90 days of interest whether earned or not, on the amount withdrawn at the nominal (simple interest) rate being paid on the account, regardless of the length of time the funds withdrawn have remained in the account.

The penalty prescribed herein will not be imposed for withdrawal of principal following the death or adjudication of incompetence of any Accountholder.

Any withdrawal which reduces the account balance below the Minimum Balance Requirements, or any change in the term or Rate of Earnings, shall be considered as a withdrawal of the entire account balance and shall be subject to the penalty prescribed herein.

Earnings credited to this account during any term may be withdrawn at any time during such term without penalty described in this section. Earnings in the account at the commencement of the Renewal Term shall be deemed merged with the principal and only earnings for the Renewal Term may be withdrawn at any time without penalty during such term.

If the account or any portion thereof is withdrawn not more than seven (7) days after a maturity date, earnings shall be paid thereon at the Rate of Earnings set forth to the date of withdrawal without penalty.

To the extent necessary to comply with these requirements, deductions shall be made from the amount withdrawn or the remaining account balance.

This certificate is transferable only on the books of the Association.

FUNDS AVAILABILITY

We may sometimes tell you that a "hold" has been placed on your account. This means that you have deposited or cashed a check drawn on another financial institution and you may not withdraw those funds until we have received payment from the other institution.

Under normal circumstances, we release a hold within 3 business days for a check drawn on a local financial institution and 7 business days if the check is drawn on a nonlocal institution. If you present a check drawn on a foreign bank or in foreign currency, the check will be entered for collection. In this instance, your account will not be credited until we receive payment.

DEPOSITS MADE TO INTEREST-BEARING ACCOUNTS BEGIN TO EARN INTEREST FROM THE DATE OF DEPOSIT EVEN THOUGH A HOLD MAY HAVE BEEN PLACED. Items entered for collection will begin earning interest when your account is credited.

The information provided above explains our normal operating policy regarding funds availability. It is intended to give you access to your funds in the most timely manner. Should you require additional information or if you have any questions, please contact the branch manager.

CERTIFICATE OF DEPOSIT
FIXED RATE - FIXED TERM

1. ACCOUNT SUMMARY SECTION

CERTIFICATE ACCOUNT NUMBER 47-0693443
Date of Issuance 06/23/89 Initial Maturity Date 06/23/90
Opening Balance $ 11,000.00 Term 012 MONTHS
Rate of Interest per year 9.40 % Renewal Term and Rate (See Section 4)
Frequency of Compounding QUARTERLY COMPOUND No Additions Permitted
Minimum Balance Requirement $ 1,000.00
Accountholder(s) ELMER H BRUNSTING OR MELVA F BRUNSTING

Interest Distribution dates beginning SEPTEMBER 25, 1989
and QUARTERLY thereafter, with the last distribution on the final maturity date.

2. GENERAL SECTION

This certifies that the Accountholder(s) holds a savings account with the Opening Balance and for the initial Term expiring on the Initial Maturity Date shown herein in FIRST GIBRALTAR BANK, FSB of Houston, Texas.

3. INTEREST SECTION

This account shall receive interest at the Rate of Interest as above set forth, provided the balance in the account is not reduced below the Minimum Balance Requirement. Interest shall be computed with the Frequency of Compounding and shall be distributable as also set forth above. If such balance is reduced below the Minimum Balance Requirement, the Rate of Interest on the remaining balance shall thereafter be reduced to the rate then paid on regular savings (statement savings) accounts. (Also see section 5).

4. RENEWAL SECTION

This account shall be automatically renewed for another Term at the close of business on the Initial Maturity Date or on the maturity date of any Renewal Term unless (1) it is withdrawn within the 7-day period referred to in Section 5 hereof; or (2) at least fifteen (15) days prior to any maturity date, this savings bank gives written notice to the Accountholder that this account will not be renewed at an interest rate set forth in Section 3 and/or for any other term(s), as set forth in this Certificate. In such latter event, upon maturity the account will either be renewed, at such rate of interest and/or for such other term(s), as set forth in said written notice or converted to a regular savings (statement savings) account and paid interest applicable to a regular savings account. The rate of interest for any Renewal Term shall be at the rate the savings bank is paying at that time on renewed accounts of this class.

5. PENALTY CLAUSE SECTION

Except as otherwise provided herein, in the event of any withdrawal of principal from this account prior to the Maturity Date, the Accountholder(s) shall forfeit an amount equal to 30 DAYS of interest, whether earned or not, on the amount withdrawn at the nominal (simple) interest rate being paid on the account, regardless of the length of time the funds withdrawn have remained in the account.

The penalty prescribed herein will not be imposed for withdrawal of principal following the death or adjudication of incompetence of an Accountholder.

Any withdrawal which reduces the account balance below the Minimum Balance Requirement, or any change in the term or rate of interest, except at renewal, shall be considered as a withdrawal of the entire account balance and shall be subject to the penalty prescribed herein.

Interest credited to this account may be withdrawn without penalty at any time during the term in which earned. Interest in the account at the commencement of a Renewal Term shall be deemed merged with the principal and only interest credited during such Renewal Term may be withdrawn at any time without penalty during such term.

If the account or any portion thereof is withdrawn not more than seven (7) days after a maturity date, no penalty will be assessed on the amount withdrawn and no interest shall be paid on that amount from the date of maturity through the date of withdrawal.

To the extent necessary to comply with these requirements, deductions shall be made from the amount withdrawn or the remaining account balance.

This certificate is transferable only on the books of this savings bank.

Your certificate will mature on the date shown above. For your convenience, it will automatically renew for the same term you have now, but at the interest rate in effect on your maturity date. Certificates which renew with a balance of less than the minimum stated on the certificate will earn our regular savings account rate. Interest on your certificate can be compounded quarterly, if not withdrawn. If you would like to make any changes, additions, or withdrawals to your investment, you may do so up until seven days following your maturity date.

Dear Valued Customer:

On September 18, 1992, Bank of America Texas, N.A. agreed to purchase substantially all of the Texas branches and deposits and certain assets of First Gibraltar Bank, FSB. Because First Gibraltar is strong, solvent and the largest thrift in the State, this acquisition will position Bank of America to play a significant role in the Texas banking industry. When the acquisition is complete, Bank of America Texas, N.A. will have more than 250 branch locations in Texas and deposits of more than $11 billion.

The sale requires the approval of regulators, which we expect to receive by the end of this year. Until then, it will be business as usual -- you should continue to bank with First Gibraltar just as you always have.

Once the transaction is complete, you will receive details from Bank of America about how this will affect your accounts. There is some information, however, we can give to you now:

- Rates on term accounts -- your existing certificate rates and terms will be honored by Bank of America. Your current rates will continue to be paid until maturity.
- FDIC insurance coverage -- funds that are currently insured will continue to be insured. If you have accounts at both institutions and the combined balances of those deposits as a result of the consolidation is more than $100,000, special provisions may apply: your accounts at both institutions would be insured separately for six months on transaction accounts and until maturity on term accounts.
- Retirement Trustee changes -- the Trustee on your retirement accounts will no longer be First Gibraltar. Bank of America Texas, N.A. will be your new Trustee.

Remember, until the sale is approved, it will be business as usual in First Gibraltar offices. Of course, if you have any questions or concerns, please contact your branch or Customer Service at 1-800 CALL FGB (1-800-225-5342). In Dallas, dial CALL FGB (225-5342).

We appreciate your business, and are committed to making this a smooth transition for you.

Thank you for banking with us.

Sincerely,

Carl B. Webb
President

IN CASE OF ERRORS OR QUESTIONS ABOUT VERSATEL® PURCHASE SERVICE (VPS) TRANSACTIONS OR ELECTRONIC TRANSFERS:

Call or write to Customer Service at:

Bank of America Texas, N.A., Customer Service
P.O. Box 619005
Dallas, TX 75261-9005

From Dallas, call 432-1000 or toll-free at 1-800-432-1000. Speech or hearing impaired customers may call 1-800-833-0805. Call at once if you think your statement or transaction record is wrong or if you need more information about a transaction listed on the statement or transaction record.

You must contact us within 60 days of the time you received the first statement on which the problem or error appears. If you tell us orally, we may require you to send us a written description of your complaint or question within 10 business days of the time of your oral notice. When contacting us orally and/or in writing, please provide the following information:

- Your name, account number, the date, type, and dollar amount of the transaction; and your VERSATEL® Card number.
- A complete description of the suspected error or the transaction you're unsure about. Explain as clearly as you can why you believe there is an error and/or why you need more information.

Whether you notify us orally or in writing, we will notify you of the results of our investigation within 10 business days (20 business days for VPS) of the time you contacted us. We will correct any error(s) promptly. If we need additional time, we may take up to 45 days (90 days for VPS) to investigate your complaint or question. If we decide to do this, we will credit your account within 10 business days (20 business days for VPS) for the amount you think is in error, so that you will have use of the money during the time it takes us to complete our investigation. If we ask you to put your complaint or question in writing, and we do not receive it within 10 business days, we may not credit your account.

BA Investment Services, Inc.

A BankAmerica Company

NOT FDIC INSURED

Investment Acknowledgment

Customer's Full Name Brunsting Customer's Account Number _____

I acknowledge that I am investing in Franklin and I understand the following features of my investment:

FOR ALL INVESTMENTS

INVESTMENTS ARE NOT BANK DEPOSITS

I understand that mutual fund shares, fixed income products, equity securities, and other securities:
• Are NOT insured by the FDIC or any other governmental entity;
• Are NOT deposits or other obligations of, or guaranteed by, Bank of America or any of its affiliates;
• Are subject to investment risks, including possible loss of the principal amount invested.

SHARE/UNIT/BOND VALUES FLUCTUATE

When I redeem my shares or units, sell my bonds prior to maturity, or sell other securities, I may receive less than I paid for them.

FEES, COMMISSIONS, AND AFFILIATE RELATIONSHIPS

I acknowledge that BA Investment Services, Inc. (BAIS) or one of its affiliates may receive commissions or other fees paid by me in connection with my purchase. Affiliates of BAIS, including Bank of America NT&SA and BA Securities, Inc., may participate from time to time in a primary or secondary distribution of securities I purchase. Affiliates of BAIS may also have positions or effect transactions in such securities, and may perform or seek to perform services, including investment advisory services, for issuers of such securities.

FOR MUTUAL FUNDS ONLY

PAST RESULTS/FUTURE PERFORMANCE

Past results do not indicate future performance. Yields and returns are not guaranteed.

PROSPECTUS

I have received a current prospectus.

GOVERNMENT FUND SHARE VALUES FLUCTUATE

Although payments of principal and interest on underlying U.S. Government securities are guaranteed to the portfolio, the market value of fund's shares will fluctuate, resulting in a gain or loss of principal upon sale.

PACIFIC HORIZON FUNDS

I understand that Bank of America NT&SA, the parent company of BAIS, acts as investment adviser to the PACIFIC HORIZON fund(s) that I am purchasing.

STOCK FUNDS

There is a higher degree of risk to the amount I invest associated with stock mutual funds. The market value of fund's shares will fluctuate, resulting in a gain or loss of principal upon sale.

A SALES CHARGE APPLIES TO MY PURCHASE

A front-end sales charge of 4.05 % will be deducted from the amount I invest at the time of purchase.

OR

A maximum deferred sales charge of _____ % will be deducted at redemption unless I hold my investment for a specified number of years.

I recognize that while I can sell my investment at any time, because of the sales charge it is not appropriate for short-term needs.

MONEY MARKET FUNDS

Although fund managers strive to maintain a stable net asset value, money market funds are not federally insured and there is no guarantee that a stable net asset value will be maintained.

FIXED INCOME FUNDS

Although fixed income funds may pay higher rates than certificates of deposit, their net asset values are sensitive to interest-rate movements; a rise in interest rates can result in a loss of part of my investment.

2. GENERAL SECTION

This certifies that the Accountholder(s) holds a savings account with Opening Balance and for the initial term expiring on the initial Maturity date shown hereon in GIBRALTAR SAVINGS ASSOCIATION of Houston, Texas.

3. EARNINGS SECTION

This account shall receive earnings at the Rate of Earnings and with the Frequency of Compounding as above set forth. Such earnings shall be payable on the Earnings Distribution Dates above set forth, provided the balance in the account is not reduced below the Minimum Balance Requirement. If such balance is reduced below the Minimum Balance Requirement, the Rate of Earnings on the remaining balance shall thereafter be reduced to the rate then paid on regular savings accounts. (Also see Section 5).

4. RENEWAL SECTION

This account shall be automatically renewed at the close of business on the Initial Maturity Date or on the maturity date of any Renewal Term unless (1) withdrawn within the 7-day period referred to in Section 5 hereof; or (2) at least fifteen (15) days prior to any such date, the Association gives written notice to the Accountholder that this account will not be renewed at an earnings rate set forth in Section 3 and/or for any other term(s) set forth in this certificate. In such latter event, upon maturity the account will either be renewed, at such rate of earnings and/or for such other term(s), as set forth in said written notice or converted to a regular savings account and paid earnings applicable to a regular savings account. The rate of earnings for any Renewal Term shall be at the rate the Association is paying at that time on renewed accounts of this class.

5. PENALTY CLAUSE SECTION

Except as otherwise provided herein in the event of any withdrawal of principal from this account prior to the Maturity Date, the Accountholder(s) shall forfeit an amount equal to 90 days of interest whether earned or not, on the amount withdrawn at the nominal (simple interest) rate being paid on the account, regardless of the length of time the funds withdrawn have remained in the account.

The penalty prescribed herein will not be imposed for withdrawal of principal following the death or adjudication of incompetence of any Accountholder.

Any withdrawal which reduces the account balance below the Minimum Balance Requirements, or any change in the term or Rate of Earnings, shall be considered as a withdrawal of the entire account balance and shall be subject to the penalty prescribed herein.

Earnings credited to this account during any term may be withdrawn at any time during such term without penalty described in this section. Earnings in the account at the commencement of the Renewal Term shall be deemed merged with the principal and only earnings for the Renewal Term may be withdrawn at any time without penalty during such term.

If the account or any portion thereof is withdrawn not more than seven (7) days after a maturity date, earnings shall be paid thereon at the Rate of Earnings set forth to the date of withdrawal without penalty.

To the extent necessary to comply with these requirements, deductions shall be made from the amount withdrawn or the remaining account balance.

This certificate is transferable only on the books of the Association.

Dear First Gibraltar Customer:

When you opened your Certificate of Deposit, you made a smart decision. Now that your account is maturing, choosing us makes more sense than ever.

RENEWING YOUR FIRST GIBRALTAR CERTIFICATE OF DEPOSIT IS EASY

To keep earning high interest, you don't have to do a thing. Your certificate will automatically renew for the same term and at the interest rate in effect on your maturity date. However, if you'd like to make changes* to your account just stop by and visit with us at:

BRANCH 028
470 Town & Country Vil
Houston, TX 77024

We offer a wide range of CD terms -- from 6 months to 10 years -- all with competitive rates that can be compounded quarterly.

Check our current rates today. Call for more information, toll-free in Texas, 1-800-344-2258. Outside Texas call 1-800-321-3419.

Sincerely,

Marge Moederzoon
Branch Manager

* Changing or closing your CD requires that you bring your certificate to the branch with you.

Federally Insured

Your certificate will mature on the date shown above. For your convenience, it will automatically renew for the same term you have now, but at the interest rate in effect on your maturity date. Certificates which renew with a balance of less than the minimum stated on the certificate will earn our current passbook rate. Interest on your certificate can be compounded quarterly, if not withdrawn. If you would like to make any changes, additions, or withdrawals to your investment, you may do so up until seven days following your maturity date.

IMPORTANT: If this account was opened prior to November 15, 1988, and this is the first renewal notice you have received for the account since that date, please remember that our interest payment schedule has changed. Interest payments will now be made on your anniversary date either monthly or quarterly depending on which method you chose and not at the end of each month or quarter.

FUNDS AVAILABILITY

We may sometimes tell you that a "hold" has been placed on your account. This means that you have deposited or cashed a check drawn on another financial institution and you may not withdraw those funds until we have received payment from the other institution.

Under normal circumstances, we release a hold within 3 business days for a check drawn on a local financial institution and 7 business days if the check is drawn on a nonlocal institution. If you present a check drawn on a foreign bank or in foreign currency, the check will be entered for collection. In this instance, your account will not be credited until we receive payment.

DEPOSITS MADE TO INTEREST-BEARING ACCOUNTS BEGIN TO EARN INTEREST FROM THE DATE OF DEPOSIT EVEN THOUGH A HOLD MAY HAVE BEEN PLACED. Items entered for collection will begin earning interest when your account is credited.

The information provided above explains our normal operating policy regarding funds availability. It is intended to give you access to your funds in the most timely manner. Should you require additional information or if you have any questions, please contact the branch manager.

2. GENERAL SECTION. This certifies that the Depositor holds a savings deposit account with the Opening Balance and for the initial term expiring on the Initial Maturity Date shown hereon in GIBLALTAR SAVINGS ASSOCIATION OF HOUSTON, TEXAS.
 No withdrawal from this account shall be permitted except upon presentation of this certificate and each such withdrawal shall be recorded by the Association on its books (which shall be conclusive proof of the matters therein stated).

3. EARNINGS SECTION. This account shall receive earnings at the rate of earnings as above set forth. Such earnings shall be payable on the Earnings Distribution Dates above set forth, provided the balance in the account is not reduced below the Minimum Balance Requirement. If such balance is reduced below the Minimum Balance Requirement, the Rate of Earnings on the remaining balance shall thereafter be reduced to the rate then paid on regular savings accounts (See also Section 5).

4. RENEWAL SECTION. This account shall be automatically renewed for an additional 26 weeks at the close of business on the Initial Maturity Date or on the maturity date of any Renewal Term unless (1) it is withdrawn within the 7-day period referred to in Section 5 hereof, or (2) at least 10 days prior to any maturity date, the association gives written notice to the Depositor that this account will not be renewed. In such latter event, upon maturity the account will be converted to a regular savings account and receive earnings at the rate then paid on regular savings accounts.

The rate of earnings for any Renewal Term shall be at the maximum rate authorized for 26-week certificate accounts by Bank Board regulations then in effect.

5. PENALTY CLAUSE SECTION. Except as otherwise provided herein, in the event of any withdrawal of principal from this account prior to a maturity date, the Depositor shall forfeit an amount equal to three months of interest or dividends, whether earned or not, on the amount withdrawn at the nominal (simple interest) rate being paid on the account, regardless of the length of time the funds withdrawn have remained in the account.

The penalty prescribed herein will not be imposed for withdrawal of principal following the death or adjudication of incompetence of any Depositor.

Any withdrawal which reduces the account balance below the Minimum Balance Requirement, or any change in the term or Rate of Earnings, shall be considered as a withdrawal of the entire account balance and shall be subject to the penalty prescribed herein.

Earnings credited to this account during any term may be withdrawn at any time during such term without penalty. If the account is renewed at the same Earnings Rate, earnings during the preceding term as well as the current term may be withdrawn at any time without penalty during the Renewal Term. If the Renewal Term rate is different, earnings in the account at the commencement of the Renewal Term shall be deemed merged with the principal and only earnings for the Renewal Term may be withdrawn at any time without penalty during such term.

If the account or any portion thereof is withdrawn not more than 7 days after a maturity date, earnings shall be paid thereon at the Rate of Earnings above set forth to the date of withdrawal without penalty.

To the extent necessary to comply with these requirements, deductions shall be made from the amount withdrawn or the remaining account balance.

6. ASSIGNMENT AND TRANSFER. This certificate is not negotiable. This certificate is transferable by the Depositor, in person, or by his attorney duly authorized in writing, on the books of the Association maintained for that purpose, only upon the surrender of this certificate duly endorsed by such Depositor. The Association may treat the Depositor as the absolute owner for the purpose of receiving payment of or on account of principal and interest due and for all purposes, and may require guaranty of authenticity of signatures.

Dear Valued Customer:

Important Information About Your Account

As part of Bank of America's continuous improvement effort, we have made changes that affect your Investment CD account (formerly called "Bank of America CD" or Certificate of Deposit). Your CD will be assigned a new account number. We've listed your old and new Investment CD account numbers below.

Please refer to and use your new account number(s) beginning June 10, 1995. The other features of your current CD have not changed. Your interest payments will occur on your regular payment date(s) without interruption. At maturity, your CD will automatically renew at the then current term and rate in effect unless you request otherwise during the grace period.

Bank of America Investment CDs continue to provide the following important features:

- Safe, fixed rate investment
- Flexible terms ranging from 32 days to 10 years
- Low minimum opening deposit of $1,000
- Interest compounded daily, paid monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, annually or at maturity

Deposits and payments given to us at a branch after the daily cut-off time will be considered received the next business day. The cut-off time may vary from branch to branch and is posted at each branch. Although a number of our branches are open Saturdays and Sundays, business days at Bank of America Texas are Monday through Friday, excluding bank holidays.

IN CASE OF ERRORS OR QUESTIONS ABOUT YOUR VERSATEL SERVICE TRANSACTIONS OR ELECTRONIC TRANSFERS

Call or write to Customer Service at Bank of America Texas, N.A. Customer Service, P.O. Box 619005, Dallas, Texas 75261. Call us in Dallas at 432-1000 or toll-free at 1-800-432-1000, TDD 1-800-242-0724 for Hearing Impaired.

Call at once if you think your statement or transaction record is wrong or if you need more information about a transaction listed on the statement or transaction record.

You must contact us within 60 days of the time you received the FIRST statement on which the problem or error appears. If you tell us orally, we may require you to send us a written description of your complaint or question within 10 business days of the time of your oral notice. When contacting us orally and/or in writing, please provide the following information:

- Your name; account number; the date, type, and dollar amount of the transaction; and your VERSATEL Card number.
- A complete description of the suspected error or the transaction you're unsure about. Explain as clearly as you can why you believe there is an error and/or why you need more information.

Whether you notify us orally or in writing, we will notify you on the results of our investigation within 10 business days (20 business days for VPS) of the time you contacted us. We will correct any error(s) promptly. If we need additional time, we may take up to 45 days (90 days for VPS) to investigate your complaint or question. If we decide to do this, we will credit your account within 10 business days (20 business days for VPS) for the amount you think is in error, so that you will have use of the money during the time it takes us to complete our investigation. If we ask you to put your complaint or question in writing, and we do not receive it within 10 business days, we may not credit your account.

IN CASE OF ERRORS OR QUESTIONS ABOUT YOUR VERSATEL SERVICE TRANSACTIONS OR ELECTRONIC TRANSFERS

Call or write to Customer Service at Bank of America Texas, N.A. Customer Service, P.O. Box 619005, Dallas, Texas 75261. Call us in Dallas at 432-1000 or toll-free at 1-800-432-1000, TDD 1-800-242-0724 for Hearing Impaired.

Call at once if you think your statement or transaction record is wrong or if you need more information about a transaction listed on the statement or transaction record.

You must contact us within 60 days of the time you received the FIRST statement on which the problem or error appears. If you tell us orally, we may require you to send us a written description of your complaint or question within 10 business days of the time of your oral notice. When contacting us orally and/or in writing, please provide the following information:

- Your name; account number; the date, type, and dollar amount of the transaction; and your VERSATEL Card number.
- A complete description of the suspected error or the transaction you're unsure about. Explain as clearly as you can why you believe there is an error and/or why you need more information.

Whether you notify us orally or in writing, we will notify you on the results of our investigation within 10 business days (20 business days for VPS) of the time you contacted us. We will correct any error(s) promptly. If we need additional time, we may take up to 45 days (90 days for VPS) to investigate your complaint or question. If we decide to do this, we will credit your account within 10 business days (20 business days for VPS) for the amount you think is in error, so that you will have use of the money during the time it takes us to complete our investigation. If we ask you to put your complaint or question in writing, and we do not receive it within 10 business days, we may not credit your account.

CERTIFICATE OF DEPOSIT FIXED RATE - FIXED TERM A CAPITAL STOCK DEPOSIT ASSOCIATION

1. ACCOUNT SUMMARY SECTION

Date of Issuance 4-13-88
 Opening Balance $ 15,000.00
 Rate of Earnings 7.60 % per annum
 Frequency of Compounding quarterly
 Minimum Balance Requirement $ 1,000.00
 Accountholder(s) Nelva E Brunting or Elmer H. Brunting

CERTIFICATE ACCOUNT NUMBER 47-4062808
 Initial Maturity Date 4-13-89
 Term 12 months
 Renewal Term and Rate (See Section 4)
 No Additions Permitted

Earnings Distribution dates beginning 6-30-88
 and quarterly thereafter, with the last distribution on the final maturity date.

2. GENERAL SECTION

This certifies that the Accountholder(s) holds a savings account with Opening Balance and for the initial term expiring on the initial Maturity date shown hereon in GIBRALTAR SAVINGS ASSOCIATION of Houston, Texas.

3. EARNINGS SECTION

This account shall receive earnings at the Rate of Earnings and with the Frequency of Compounding as above set forth. Such earnings shall be payable on the Earnings Distribution Dates above set forth, provided the balance in the account is not reduced below the Minimum Balance Requirement. If such balance is reduced below the Minimum Balance Requirement, the Rate of Earnings on the remaining balance shall thereafter be reduced to the rate then paid on regular savings accounts. (Also see Section 5).

4. RENEWAL SECTION

This account shall be automatically renewed at the close of business on the Initial Maturity Date or on the maturity date of any Renewal Term unless (1) withdrawn within the 7-day period referred to in Section 5 hereof; or (2) at least fifteen (15) days prior to any such date, the Association gives written notice to the Accountholder that this account will not be renewed at an earnings rate set forth in Section 3 and/or for any other term(s) set forth in this certificate. In such latter event, upon maturity the account will either be renewed, at such rate of earnings and/or for such other term(s), as set forth in said written notice or converted to a regular savings account and paid earnings applicable to a regular savings account. The rate of earnings for any Renewal Term shall be at the rate the Association is paying at that time on renewed accounts of this class.

5. PENALTY CLAUSE SECTION

Except as otherwise provided herein in the event of any withdrawal of principal from this account prior to the Maturity Date, the Accountholder(s) shall forfeit an amount equal to 3 months of interest whether earned or not, on the amount withdrawn at the nominal (simple interest) rate being paid on the account, regardless of the length of time the funds withdrawn have remained in the account.

The penalty prescribed herein will not be imposed for withdrawal of principal following the death or adjudication of incompetence of any Accountholder.

Any withdrawal which reduces the account balance below the Minimum Balance Requirements, or any change in the term or Rate of Earnings, shall be considered as a withdrawal of the entire account balance and shall be subject to the penalty prescribed herein.

Earnings credited to this account during any term may be withdrawn at any time during such term without penalty described in this section. Earnings in the account at the commencement of the Renewal Term shall be deemed merged with the principal and only earnings for the Renewal Term may be withdrawn at any time without penalty during such term.

If the account or any portion thereof is withdrawn not more than seven (7) days after a maturity date, earnings shall be paid thereon at the Rate of Earnings set forth to the date of withdrawal without penalty.

To the extent necessary to comply with these requirements, deductions shall be made from the amount withdrawn or the remaining account balance.

This certificate is transferable only on the books of the Association.

The penalty prescribed herein will not be imposed for withdrawal of principal following the death or adjudication of incompetence of an Account holder. Any withdrawal which reduces the account balance below the Minimum Balance Requirement, or any change in the term or rate of interest, except at renewal, shall be considered as a withdrawal of the entire account balance and shall be subject to the penalty prescribed herein.

Interest credited to this account may be withdrawn without penalty at any time during the term in which earned. Interest in the account at the commencement of a Renewal Term shall be deemed merged with the principal and only interest credited during such Renewal Term may be withdrawn at any time without penalty during such term.

If the account or any portion thereof is withdrawn not more than seven (7) days after a maturity date, no penalty will be assessed on the amount withdrawn and no interest shall be paid on that amount from the date of maturity through the date of withdrawal.

To the extent necessary to comply with these requirements, deductions shall be made from the amount withdrawn or the remaining account balance. This certificate is transferable only on the books of this savings bank.

FUNDS AVAILABILITY

We may sometimes tell you that a "hold" has been placed on your account. This means that you have deposited or cashed a check drawn on another financial institution and you may not withdraw those funds until we have received payment from the other institution.

Under normal circumstances, we release a hold within 3 business days for a check drawn on a local financial institution and 7 business days if the check is drawn on a nonlocal institution. If you present a check drawn on a foreign bank or in foreign currency, the check will be entered for collection. In this instance, your account will not be credited until we receive payment.

DEPOSITS MADE TO INTEREST-BEARING ACCOUNTS BEGIN TO EARN INTEREST FROM THE DATE OF DEPOSIT EVEN THOUGH A HOLD MAY HAVE BEEN PLACED. Items entered for collection will begin earning interest when your account is credited.

The information provided above explains our normal operating policy regarding funds availability. It is intended to give you access to your funds in the most timely manner. Should you require additional information or if you have any questions, please contact the branch manager.

EARNINGS DISTRIBUTION DATES BEGINNING April 30 AND Monthly
THEREAFTER, WITH THE LAST DISTRIBUTION ON THE FINAL MATURITY DATE.

2. GENERAL SECTION. This certifies that the Depositor holds a savings deposit account with the Opening Balance and for the initial term expiring on the Initial Maturity Date shown hereon in GIBALTAR SAVINGS ASSOCIATION OF HOUSTON, TEXAS.

No withdrawal from this account shall be permitted except upon presentation of this certificate and each such withdrawal shall be recorded by the Association on its books (which shall be conclusive proof of the matters therein stated).

3. EARNINGS SECTION. This account shall receive earnings at the rate of earnings as above set forth. Such earnings shall be payable on the Earnings Distribution Dates above set forth, provided the balance in the account is not reduced below the Minimum Balance Requirement. If such balance is reduced below the Minimum Balance Requirement, the Rate of Earnings on the remaining balance shall thereafter be reduced to the rate then paid on regular savings accounts (See also Section 5).

4. RENEWAL SECTION. This account shall be automatically renewed for an additional 6 months at the close of business on the initial Maturity Date or on the maturity date of any Renewal Term unless (1) it is withdrawn within the 7-day period referred to in Section 5 hereof, or (2) at least 10 days prior to any maturity date, the association gives written notice to the Depositor that this account will not be renewed. In such latter event, upon maturity the account will be converted to a regular savings account and receive earnings at the rate then paid on regular savings accounts.

The rate of earnings for any Renewal Term shall be at a rate as fixed by the association.

5. PENALTY CLAUSE SECTION. Except as otherwise provided herein, in the event of any withdrawal of principal from this account prior to a maturity date, the Depositor shall forfeit an amount equal to three months of interest or dividends, whether earned or not, on the amount withdrawn at the nominal (simple interest) rate being paid on the account, regardless of the length of time the funds withdrawn have remained in the account.

The penalty prescribed herein will not be imposed for withdrawal of principal following the death or adjudication of incompetence of any Depositor.

Any withdrawal which reduces the account balance below the Minimum Balance Requirement, or any change in the term or Rate of Earnings, shall be considered as a withdrawal of the entire account balance and shall be subject to the penalty prescribed herein.

Earnings credited to this account during any term may be withdrawn at any time during such term without penalty. If the account is renewed at the same Earnings Rate, earnings during the preceding term as well as the current term may be withdrawn at any time without penalty during the Renewal Term. If the Renewal Term rate is different, earnings in the account at the commencement of the Renewal Term shall be deemed merged with the principal and only earnings for the Renewal Term may be withdrawn at any time without penalty during such term.

If the account or any portion thereof is withdrawn not more than 7 days after a maturity date, earnings shall be paid thereon at the Rate of Earnings above set forth to the date of withdrawal without penalty.

To the extent necessary to comply with these requirements, deductions shall be made from the amount withdrawn or the remaining account balance.

6. ASSIGNMENT AND TRANSFER. This certificate is not negotiable. This certificate is transferable by the Depositor, in person, or by his attorney duly authorized in writing, on the books of the Association maintained for that purpose, only upon the surrender of this certificate duly endorsed by such Depositor. The Association may treat the Depositor as the absolute owner for the purpose of receiving payment of or on account of principal and interest due and for all purposes, and may require guaranty of authenticity of signatures.
